YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

BIG OPENING DAY NEWMARKET FAIR

Well Attended by Townspeople and Entries Are Exceptionally Large. SOLDIERS ARE ON HAND

The opening day of the Newmarket Fall Fair, held on the society's grounds in that town yesterday, was favored with ideal weather, the absence of horses, cattle, sheep and swine, which will not be on exhibit until today, detracted somewhat from the general interest in the fair.

The York Township Council has under consideration at the present time, a big scheme having for its object the supplying of all that portion of York Township, north of Eglinton avenue to the northern city limits and not included in the city with water, the exact source of the water has not been determined.

The idea in general is to give all the residents of the township north of Eglinton avenue between, say Dawes' road, the eastern boundary, and Keele street on the west, water connection presumably by the city if terms can be arranged and the rates are not prohibitive.

It is proposed to install a two-foot main on Eglinton avenue, connected by a twelve-inch main on such streets as Bathurst, Spadina, Lauder, Oakwood, Kennedy and two or three to the east of Yonge street running north, while the less populous streets would be served with smaller mains. In this way an enormous area practically unserved save by local wells would be afforded this privilege.

The idea has gained ground here, the repeated representations made by township residents adjacent to the city.

The whole of the scheme is expected to be completed in the neighborhood of $750,000, according to a report submitted by Engineer Gaud yesterday. Nothing is known of the city's attitude in the matter, but it is probable that a conference may later be arranged to discuss the matter, the arrangements to be made by the township. The scheme if carried out will be on the local improvement plan.

Legatees Share Further Meeting Changing Needs. Addressed by Dr. McKinnon, Prof. Peabody and Dr. MacKenzie at Convocation Hall.

Modern conditions and the modifications which the minister of today must comply with, together with the spirit in which the Christian minister must be empowered when he goes forth from the theological college to preach the Gospel of Christ to the world, were touched on at the special meeting in convocation hall last night, when Rev. Clarence McKinnon of the Presbyterian College, Halifax; Prof. Francis G. Peabody of Harvard Divinity School, and President William D. MacKenzie of Hartford Theological Seminary delivered forceful addresses.

It was the dynamic rather than the static that Prof. Peabody set forth as the prime essential of every minister of the gospel. There was a new scope in the definition of religion, he said, with the conveying of a social message to the people. "The dynamic view of religion is adapted when the mind of man is turned to social ends," said Prof. Peabody. "The message of the pulpit is amplified when it becomes the means of social redemption.

"The mechanics of industry moved by the dynamic influence of Christ" was said to be the means to cure the present industrial and social maladjustment of modern life. The school of theology was likened to a power being manufactured to direct the moral and spiritual tendencies of the nation.

Rev. Clarence McKinnon spoke of the Christian minister as the herald of the evangel. There was an insistent demand for the minister to be able to interpret Christianity in terms of everyday life. "Nothing stirs the human heart as much as the desire to fight a social wrong," said the speaker, referring to an important phase of the work of the minister of today.

The importance of the religious education of the minister was touched on by President W. D. MacKenzie in his address. It was forced home by the speaker that the minds of the theological students must be disciplined, and must be able to dig to the roots of things.

Principal Dr. Gandier occupied the chair.
