

WERCHULEE THE TAIÓN ALSO HIS AH'GOONUK

The Eskimos have no words signifying, "Thank you." Every generous deed is done simply and naturally, without thought of value of service rendered, or expectation of reward. Every one's door or larder is as open to the stranger as one of his own flesh and blood.

In the family circle whipping of children or forcible restraint is unknown. In an intimate acquaintance with more than one thousand of these people, seen under all circumstances, at home, at play, and at work, (of course barring infants,) I have never heard a child cry. No wrong is ever willfully done by one to another; hence no need for penalty or punishment.

Neither do they set up one of their number as king, clothe him in purple robes, and
