Erickson Perkins & Co. had the following:

Wheat—Trade was light all day, and mostly all of a local professional character. The market fluctuated within a narrow range. After ruling lower early on the bearish news from abroad, later ralided on support from the bull crowd. Cash demand here was very quet and very little enquiry. While the general tenor of the news to-day was bearish, still the market is in control of the bull leaders who, apparently, supported the market on weak spots and probably will have plenty for sale on ralles.

Corn.—The weather throut the corn belt was generally favorable, and we look for larger receipts in the near future. The cash demand remains very dull. As long as the cash demand remains so dull we look for prices to drag lower. The market after ruling weak. lower.

Oats—The market after ru'ing weak early, later ral'ed in sympathy with the early later ral'ed in sympathy with the strength in other grains and on covering by shorts. Stocks are large, and we look for lower prices.
