Presbyterian Women's Missions.

Not all favorable reports were presented by the Presbyterial Societies of sented by the Presbyterial Societies of the Presbyterian Women's Foreign Missionary Society, Western Canada division, which opened its 34th annual meeting in Knox Presbyterian Church yesterday. The amounts of clothing, cash and other aids raised and forwarded appeared to have held about even with office years, but in several cases a falling off in auxiliaries and mission bands was reported.

Mrs. McLennon of Tiverton, reporting from the Brace Presbyterial, lamented that whereas last year her mission bands had failed to report, and she surmised that several changes of officers which had taken place had a tendency to retard the work.

Barrie Presbyterial, thru Mrs. Gar-

Barrie Presbyterial, thru Mrs. Garrett, reported a decrease in offerings, due to the fact that the report only covered a period of 7 months. One Scattered Helpers' Society had been added, but it had made no report. No mission bands had been added, and Mrs. Garrett advised that a closer relationship between the auxiliaries and bands be established.

bands be established.

Brandon, represented by Mrs. McKeown, recorded the disbanding of two auxiliaries, one case due to the withdrawal of the church from the section, and the members going over to the Methodist Church. One new auxiliary was added, and prospects were bright for several more. A new band was added at Huntingdon, B.C. For Glenboro, Mrs. McPherson bespoke a slight decrease in membership and scattered helpers, but an increase in givings. The mission band work was in its infancy, but its influence had already begun to be felt.

Glengarry experienced a loss in the number of mission bands, despite 3 new ones having been formed. A new auxiliary had been added thru a band having grown to womanhood. The succept added 16 few members. Mrs. Trummond of Minnedosa re-ported for Alameda that a tornado had bereft the Indians of all their pessessions, and the the society was short of funds, it had been able to supply their immediate needs in the way of clothing, etc. One new mission band had been formed.

Mrs. Morgan of Wallaceburg said that the Chatham society had attached 3 new auxiliaries and one band. All were increasing their membership.

Abernethy and Qu'Appelle were represented by Mrs. Mackenzie of Hurricane Hills. The former society had been affiliated with the Women's Home Missionary Society since its inception in September, 1908, and now wanted to become similarly associated with the W. F. M. S. The last report showed six auxiliaries; now there are 12, and five new mission bands had been added. In Qu'Appelle she said there was a great need for one or two ladies who had been trained in mission work, and begged that the society would strive o make provision accordingly.

The 11 remaining presbyterials will report to-day. The nominating committee will meet at 9.30. The body of Knox Church was filled with delegates. A memorial meeting for the late Mrs. Maclaren, first vice-president, and one of the society's founders, was held at 2.30 p.m. Mrs. MacRae of Guelph gave the address. The president gave an address of welcome and reviewed the past year's work. LEARNED MEN ADVISE

President Falconer and Archdeacon Cody Address the Business Women's Club.

How to make the most of life was the general theme of addresses by President Falconer of Toronto University, and Archdeacon Cody at the monthly meeting of the Canadian Business Women's Club at the Conservatory of Music Hall last night. The gathering filled the hall, giving evidence that this three-months' old organization is on a sound basis.

The president, Miss Mary M. Lean, explained that the object of the club were similar to those of the various Canadian Clubs thruout Canada, namely the fostering of a national spirit and of mutual help. The club, which already has a membership of about two hundred, has Mrs. Helen C. Parker as honorary president, and Miss Kerr as corresponding secretary.

The address given by President Falconer contained a strong plea for the steady and systematic accumulation of wholesome interests. Those who did so, found that they grew in power and that life became brighter and happier. It meant being insured against those attacks of despondency which se frequently assalled those people who had developed no such interests.

One fruitful source of happiness was in books. The speaker thought biographies, with their recital of how difficulties had been overcame by men and women who had attained greatness, were particularly stimulating, and that fine poetry was also a gen-ness, were particularly stimulating, and that fine poetry was also a generous fount of inspiration. One great beauty of literature was that it could be read with deeper understanding by a person at the age of fifty than when he was twenty years younger. President Falconer advised the de-

Their excellencies the governor-general and the Countess Grey, with their party, will arrive in Toronto on the evening of May 20 to attend the spring races, which begin on the following day. On May 23, Earl Grey will be the guest of the York Club. During their stay their excellencies will occupy Mr. William Mackenzie's residence, Benvenuto, Avenue-road hill.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cane of "Belfole," Newmarket, announce the engagement President Falconer advised the development of interest in one's country.

"I don't believe you should wait untilyou get a vote, because I don't think that the mere fact of voting is going to give you much interest in your country," he said. He suggested that the newspapers should be carefully read so that the various movements could be noted. It was more important to know that a finer class of immigrants were coming in than the latest Mr. and Mrs. C. E. John Birnie, K.C., announces the engagement of his eldest daughter, Mamie Elsle, to Alfred Clark Hodgetts of the Bank of Toronto, son of George E. Hodgetts, manager of the Bank of Toronto, St. Catharines. The marriage will take place at Collingwood on the 2nd of June.

Valuable aid also.

The greatest secret of happiness, however, was to take interest in others. Self-forgetfulness, in the cause of helping others, created a greater interest in life than would be thought possible.

Archdeacon Cody, in allusion to the important functions of the organization, remarked that there were 46,000 women in Toronto who were earning Mrs. W. T. B. Speaking of the promise of a great future for Canada, because of the country's natural resources and the quality of its people, the speaker said the greatest danger was the influx of im-Mrs. E. At the evening session the chair was taken by Bishop Sweeny, who made a strong plea for missionaries for the foreign field. The total force of missionaries was only 13,000, while there were 675 millions of people who had never heard the gospel. Canon O'Meara never heard the gospel.
