A REMARKABLE PARISH

St. Christopher-le Stocks in London Has But One Inhabitant

The heart of London, that region about the Bank of England and the Royal Exchange, which has been dubbed "the financial hub of the world," stands in what is the strangest parish in the city. There is in this parish, no church, no municipal office, and, it is said, but one inhabitant; yet its value in a parochial and official sense is equal to that of many another parish in the British metropolis with its thousands of taxpayers.

This is the parish of St. Christopher-le Stocks, says Harper's Weekly. Some seven hundred years ago it was founded, no one knows exactly how or by whom, and is still existent with all its rights and dignities. The church of this parish stood, but no doubt to save the consciences of the money makers the parochial rights and dignities were still maintained. The garden with the fountain within the Bank of England marks the site of the burial ground. The last interment took place 100 years ago being that of one Jenkins, a bank clerk, 7 feet 6 inches high.

So the old Church of St. Christopher-le Stocks went its way, but its parish remains, embracing the open space in front of the bank and the Mansion House. This parish has one inhabitant, and he enjoys full rights of voting for Parliament and all Municipal Councils.

Piercing is a great industry in King's county, Ireland, yet $80,000 worth of foreign goods is consumed by this county every year.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

"DOROTHY, I think you'd better go upstairs to your room," said Dorothy's mother, "and stay there until supper. This is the fourth time you've torn your dress this week."

Dorothy had come into the room where her mother and I were sewing, to show her mother a terrible cornered tear she had just given her pretty gingham dress.

"I don't usually believe in punishing children for mistakes," said Dorothy's mother, "after the small person had turned with quivering lips and tear-filled eyes to go upstairs. 'But this is really the fourth time this week she has torn her dress, and she is always tearing or breaking or some way ruining something and it doesn't seem to me there is any need for it.'"

"Look at Ellis. She plays the same games that Dorothy does and goes every where and does everything with her and yet she almost never tears her clothes, and she keeps them clean just about twice as long as Dorothy does."

Of course, I didn't dare say very much then.

I only believe that some children are born with a tendency to have things happen to them.

Their clothes tear, their stockings get holes in them, their toys break, their pinafores get dirty, their shoes wear out faster than other children's, just naturally, without their being any more actively naughty.

Poor kiddies. So often in disgrace, so often scolded, and yet most of the time very little to blame.

Be good to your Dorothy, mothers, be patient as your wonderful mother heart teaches you how to be, and then a lot more. I know it is a pretty hard task sometimes, this being the mother of a Dorothy, but sometimes it pays. For some times when they grow up, the nervous energy, and the larum scutum ways, and the braveries that caused the torn aprons and worn out shoes and soiled pinafores, may be developed into qualities that will make you proud to be the mother of a Dorothy.

Help them to try to conquer and subdue themselves, of course. Help them try to acquire the poise and self-possession that will make it possible to partly overcome their tendency to mischief.

But please, oh mothers of Dorothy's everywhere—and of course this means little boy Dorothy's, too—please pray for patience if you need to—and I'm pretty sure you will not to blame them for those things that are truly—their misfortune, not their fault."

REV. DR. GATES IN PULPIT WHICH HE OCCUPIED SO LONG

The special services in connection with the celebration of the centennial of the German street Baptist congregation commenced yesterday with two impressive sermons preached by Rev. G. G. Gates. The congregation at both services were large and many took the opportunity of shaking hands with the preacher who, after his return to the city and the church, where he preached with such great acceptance for so many years. The music, both morning and evening, was of a special nature. In the morning the choir sang as an anthem, Psalm XCIV, "O sing unto the Lord a new song," and the Te Deum Laudamus in G. In the evening Miss Catharine Smith sang with great fervor, "Hear My Prayer," by Mendelssohn, and a quartette consisting of Miss Catharine Smith and Messrs. George Kingsley, John Smith, and W. H. Crownsfield.

The preacher's subject in the morning was, "A centennial review—here and there in a hundred years."

In the afternoon there was an unusually large turnout of the Sunday school children on the occasion of the celebration of the World's Sunday School Day. The order of service drawn up by New Brunswick and P.E. Island was used with a few minor changes. The superintendent, D. Hunt, assistant superintendent, T. D. Denham and Dr. Gates. The programme consisted of responsive readings carried on by the superintendent and the different branches of the school. There were hymns by the primary department and short addresses by Dr. Gates, D. Hunt and T. D. Denham.

In the evening Dr. Gates took for his subject, A Gracious Promise. His text was taken from the narrative, in Genesis of the Patriarch Abraham offering up his son Isaac. The words were those uttered by Abraham when he found the ram caught in the thicket, "The Lord will provide."

The special services will be continued today. At 3:30 there will be a mass meeting of the Baptist Women's Aid Societies of the city, at which Mrs. N. C. Scott, president of the German street society, will be in the chair. Mrs. LeBaron Vaughan will read a historical sketch of the society. There will be selections on the northwest missions and a solo by Mrs. Grant, after which Dr. Gates will address on the Grand League mission. At 8 o'clock there will be a mass meeting of the Baptist Young People's Societies of the city when C. R. Watson, chairman of the German street society, will preside. On Tuesday evening there will be a congregational social at which ex-Alm. William Lewis will preside. There will be selections by the German street Baptist male quartette, speeches by visiting pastors and a solo by Mr. Kingsmill.

WEDDINGS

Hamilton Patterson, of The Telegraph mechanical staff, and Miss Eva E. Venn, of this city, were married Saturday afternoon by Rev. H. F. Wentworth, pastor of Waterloo street Baptist church. They were unattended. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Patterson left for Boston, New York and other American cities on a wedding trip. On their return they will live in Britain street.

The bride received many handsome presents, including a magnificent clock from the mechanical staff of The Telegraph.

BRONCHITIS COMPLETELY CURED.

St. John, P.Q., Jan. 5th, 1910. Father Morricey Med. Co. Ltd., I can gratefully testify in favor of Father Morricey's Remedy for Bronchitis. I had suffered from Bronchitis for some time, and could get nothing to give me ease, until I tried Father Morricey's Remedy. (No. 10). To my great surprise, after I had taken the remedy I commenced to grow better, and soon after I was completely cured.

Kids, GEORGE MESMARIS. Everything known that might be of service to the relief of George's condition, was tried, but to no avail. I had no choice but to try Father Morricey's Remedy, and to my surprise, after I had taken the remedy I commenced to grow better, and soon after I was completely cured.

His prescription, "Lung Tonic," stops a cough by curing the inflamed condition of the lungs which causes it. It goes a step further, too, and cures the name of "Lung Tonic" by strengthening the weakened parts.

INVENTION WILL MAKE AUTOMOBILES CHEAPER

Westinghouse Has a Device to Do Away With Rubber Tires

Pittsburg, May 23—Another invention rivaling in importance that of the air brake has been completed by George Westinghouse. It is known as the air spring, and by it Mr. Westinghouse asserts that the expense of running all rubber-tired vehicles will be decreased at least 60 per cent., since the rubber tire may now be dispensed with. It is claimed for the new invention that it will ultimately reduce the price of automobiles one-half. For many months Mr. Westinghouse has been working night and day on the air spring idea.

The new air spring idea, which is now being tried out in Pittsburg, is a series of plungers working on air cushions, on the same principle as an elevator plunger. The air spring is placed under each corner of the frame of an automobile and takes the shock in with great ease than does the rubber tire now in use. Each spring for an automobile is a cylinder about three inches in diameter and perhaps ten inches long, the plunger connected with the automobile frame working up and down as increasing or diminishing weight requires.

It is claimed by Mr. Westinghouse that an automobile fitted with solid steel tires and with the air springs rides more easily than does the rubber-tired automobile of today. The Westinghouse interests are fitting up automobiles with solid tires and the air springs in demonstrations.

CAUSES 95 PER CENT. OF DISEASES

Advice Concerning Stomach Troubles and How to Remedy Them

Do not neglect indigestion which leads to all sorts of ills and complications. An eminent doctor once said that ninety-five per cent of all the ills of the human body have their origin in a disordered stomach. A physician who made a specialty of stomach troubles, particularly dyspepsia, after years of study perfected the formula from which Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are made.

My experience with Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets has been such that I have been able to tell the greatest remedy known for the relief of acute indigestion and chronic dyspepsia. Their ingredients are nothing and healing to the inflamed membranes of the stomach. They are rich in nourishment, and they are so easily absorbed that they are a relief to the most delicate stomach.

The relief they afford is almost immediate. They are a positive and regularity to a disordered stomach, and a cessation of the pains caused by stomach troubles.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets will insure healthy appetite, aid digestion and promote nutrition. I have used them myself, and I have seen them used by my patients, and I can say that they are a most interesting chapter in the world. To crowded masses in the past, agriculture played in the life of God's chosen people, and showed how God had blessed them while they obeyed His law, and tilled their lands in peace and plenty. MORNING LOCALS

Rev. Wm. Lawson formerly pastor of the Carmarthen street church here, has been invited to the pastorate of the Wesley Memorial church in Moncton, to succeed Rev. J. J. Pinkerton, who will go to Hillsboro.

On Friday last fire destroyed the home of Edmund Gilliland, at Kingsport, Kings county. He lost all his furniture and effects, but the horns and their contents were saved. He had $300 insurance.

In Main street last night, a horse charged at a woman became unmanageable, being frightened at a street car. John Maxwell, of Main street, went to hold the animal by the head but the horse bit him, sinking his teeth three times into his right hand that he was not well acquainted with Wilson, but thought the doctors must have found a letter in his deceased's pocket. Mr. Rowley also said that he believed Wilson had relatives in Scotland.

Loyalist Day Service

The F. B. Loyalist Society yesterday observed Loyalist Day by attending service in Trinity church in a body, and listening to a sermon on the spirit of the day, preached by Rev. H. A. Cody. The speaker delivered a stirring address, touching on the coming of the Loyalists, and what they and their descendants have done for the city and for Canada.

The winter post revenue of the city for the past season shows an increase of $5,231.07 over last year. The receipts for 1909-10 were $46,273.14. This is an increase of $24,767 over the season of 1906-07.

DEATH

Moncton, N. B., May 22—(Special)—Death came suddenly to Captain John R. R. Cook, of Dorchester, Saturday night, about 11:30 o'clock at the home of his son-in-law, John Christie, here.

Las Thursday Captain Cook's vessel, the Adonis, arrived in St. John from the Canary Islands via Barbados, and on his way home to Dorchester he stopped off at Moncton to visit his daughter. Saturday evening he complained of being sick and had been in the house only an hour when he expired suddenly of heart disease.

Deceased was 65 years old, the son of the late George Cook, of Dorchester Cape. He was twice married and leaves one daughter, Mrs. John Christie, by his first wife, and the second wife survives him. Robert and William Cook, of Dorchester, Charles, of Wisconsin, and Captain Clinton Cook, of Parrsboro, are brothers.

Arthur V. Branscombe

Death came suddenly to Arthur V. Branscombe, manager and buyer of the military department of MacMaster Robinson Allan Ltd., at the General Public Hospital last night. A little over a week ago while on a visit to New York he was seized with appendicitis, and on his return he was taken to the General Public Hospital, where he was operated on. After the operation he continued to grow stronger, and the doctors thought that he would be able to leave the institution some time this week. Last night about 7 o'clock he was visited by his wife and his brother and was apparently in fairly good health. About 9 o'clock, however, he took a bad turn and immediately lapsed into unconsciousness. His wife and brothers were sent for, but arrived at the hospital too late. Mr. Branscombe having passed away. The doctors say that his death was caused by a clot of blood forming in the region of the heart.

The deceased was connected with the firm of M. R. A. Ltd., for about twenty-five years, and was one of the firm's most capable and trustworthy employees.

He was in the fortieth year of his age, and leaves, besides his mother, a wife, who is a daughter of Mrs. Samuel Owen, of Fredericton, and three children—Owen, aged eleven; Alban, aged seven, and Florence, aged nine. Three brothers—John, of Dalhousie; Frederick W. and Otty G. at home. Two sisters, Mrs. J. L. Coleman, of Dalhousie, and Mrs. P. J. Stackhouse, of Amherst, also survive. He was a son of Captain Arthur D. Branscombe, who died about two years ago.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 from his late residence, 20 Elliott Row.

Clarence Dykeman

The death occurred in this city yesterday of Otis Clarence Dykeman, youngest son of the late Captain Clarence and Lydia Dykeman, in the 18th year of his age. He had been in poor health for some time, but was generally confined to the house for the last three days. Besides his mother, he is survived by one brother, Herbert, at this city. The funeral will be held on Wednesday from his mother's residence, Main street, at 8 a. m. Service, Tuesday at 8 p. m. Interment will be at Jemseg, Queens county (N. B.)

F. R. Taylor left last evening for Ottawa, to make the closing arrangements with the government as to the transfer of property between the department of railways and F. C. Durant, of the sugar industry.
