FABRIC MADE FROM SPRUCE PULP

The word comes from Germany that an inventor of that country has succeeded in making a very acceptable fabric from spruce pulp. While efforts of a similar character have been made from time to time, there has always been something lacking in the results attained. The new product is said to have a fine finish and much better surface than is usual with the natural fibers as yet used for spinning. When leather foot rolls are used the new yarn, when used as warp or chains is 12 1/2 times as strong as jute; and when used as wool or fillings, 30 times as strong. As against jute, the new product has the very great advantage of being odorless, even when moist. It can be worked with all the usual other fibers. The first attempts at weaving have been with wall tapestry, which are most satisfactory and have the great advantage of being so smooth that dust does not attach itself thereto as readily as to other stuffs used for the same purpose; also, that in brushing them down they do not get rough.

"The prisoner," said the counsel in a case, "can prove that at the time the crime was committed her maid was combing her hair."

"That," replied the judge, "only proves an alibi for her hair—not for herself."

KEIR HARDIE, SOCIALIST, HIS SON AND SCOTCH BRIDE FATHER BROUGHT

STATEMENT BY BORDEN

Says He Has Not Secured Full Information on Naval Defence

London, Aug. 29.—Premier Borden handed out this official statement today with regard to the questions which he had been discussing with the imperial authorities:

"During our present visit, which is now drawing to a conclusion, matters of considerable moment have been under consideration. The opportunities afforded by the Canadian ministers of being present at the meetings of the imperial defence committee have been fruitful in valuable information respecting the conditions of naval defence affecting empire."

"The stress of the present session of parliament, now adjourned and other unavoidable causes, prevented us from receiving full information in its final form but we expect it to reach us very shortly after our return to Canada with no unnecessary delay. It will then be considered by the Canadian cabinet."

"Several unfounded and inaccurate rumors with regard to the incidents and outcome of our present visit have gained currency in the British and Canadian press. It would be impossible to enumerate all of them. Allusion may, however, be made to one."

"The Morning Post says the suffragettes met their match and received a well deserved rebuff."

"The Westminster Gazette describes Mr. Borden's reply as spirited and emphatic."

"The way he handled the suffrage deputations of withholding woman suffrage in his own hand is a rather consummate piece of rudeness but probably the suffragettes have discovered that the laws of hospitality are made and accordingly require breaking."

"The way he was approached was scarcely fortuitous. Certainly the foolish bur- glars or highwaymen's methods will advance no good cause."

"It is somewhat noteworthy that the Manchester Guardian, which while deploring militancy, has championed the cause of woman suffrage, makes no comment on the delegation."

"Scotland Yard detectives have been deputed specially to protect Premier Borden from suffrage molestation during the remainder of his stay."
