WILL NOT MAKE APOLOGY TO THE COMMONS

Scottish Labor M. P.'s Suspend Last Month Decide They Will Hold Ont.

London, July 9.—(Canadian Press)—At a meeting of the Independent Labor party in Glasgow on Saturday, J. W. Wheatley, James Maxton, Rev. Campbell Stephen and G. Buchanan, four labor M. P.'s who were suspended on June 27 after stormy scenes during the discussion of the Scottish estimates, each adhered to his decision not to withdraw statements made or to apologise.

A resolution was carried demanding the unconditional reinstatement of the members.

RADIO AMATEUR'S FEAT.
Sent Message 6000 Miles With Very Low Power.

Washington, July 9.—A successful wireless experiment accomplished recently by an amateur at Avalon, Calif., may revolutionize the radio industry, according to a statement made at the Department of Commerce.

A message was sent by the amateur at Avalon to Auckland, New Zealand, a distance of 6000 miles. The remarkable feature about it was that the sender used extremely low power—half a kilowatt—for transmission, and only one valve was employed in reception. Unfavorable atmospheric conditions and frequent interruptions from ships in the Pacific prevailed at the time, it was said.

Further tests along the same line will be arranged soon, it was said, to determine whether the results of the test can be successfully employed permanently in the radio industry.

PREMIER TO TAKE REST FOR A FORTNIGHT

Session and After Meetings Leave Hon. M. King Tired—Cancels Pictou Celebration Engagement.

Ottawa, Ont., July 9.—(Canadian Press)—Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, left Ottawa yesterday for a rest after the work of the parliamentary session and the continuous meetings of the cabinet during the last three days. He has had no vacation since assuming office and the continuous strain has not been without its effect.

Some months ago, the Premier signified his intention, should circumstances permit, of being present at the celebration in Pictou County, N.S., to commemorate the beginning of Scottish immigration to Canada. It was understood that Hon. W. S. Fielding, minister of finance, will be acting premier during the absence of Mr. King.

Inspector Caples, Policeman John McElhinney and Edwin Thomas, night policeman at the central police station, all left yesterday on their holidays. Policeman Robert Storey returned to duty yesterday after spending his vacation with the local artillery unit at Petawawa camp. He reported that he had a splendid time. Sergeant Scott is acting as inspector during Inspector Caples' absence.

YESTERDAY IN CITY CHURCHES

The Local Order of Orangemen held their annual service yesterday afternoon in the Waterloo street Baptist church. The turnout was fairly large, although many members of the order were out of the city. Rev. J. A. Swetnam, a Black Knight of the order, delivered an address on the power of the individual. On the platform were S. B. Bustin, Grand Master, and R. Magee, of East St. John. Rev. Mr. Swetnam criticized the Orangemen for not pandering to the service during the course of his remarks, and at the close of the address William M. Campbell explained that the reason for not holding a parade was the absence of many of the members in the country.

The members and several representatives of the L. O. B. A. gathered in the vestry of the church, and took up positions in the middle of the church which had been reserved for them. The service opened with a selection by the choir and the Lord's prayer was repeated, followed by a hymn and scripture reading. Miss Keith Magee sang a solo and the pastor offered prayer. An offering was taken for the local orphanage. The choir gave a selection, following which a hymn was sung by the congregation.

Rev. Mr. Swetnam's address followed. He took as his text, "And Moses said, 'And who am I that I should go unto Pharaoh?'" Speaking of the insignificance of the individual he said that nothing could be worse for a man than to be always where he was the principal factor, and nothing could be better for him than to be insignificant in the universe. He then touched on the power of the individual. His hearers had a strong responsibility as Orangemen. They had sworn allegiance to the flag and to the Protestant faith. They had nothing to regret or to take back. He was ashamed to learn that they were to assemble at the church instead of marching through the streets. When the order had to sneak into a church service, but on the twelfth of July would hold a dance with a brass band, then God have mercy on the Protestant religion. At this point the speaker was interrupted by applause.

Every Christian, Mr. Swetnam continued, should be an Orangeman and every Orangeman should be a Christian. The order depended upon the individual and when the individual of the order failed to measure up to the standard then the sooner the doors were closed the better.

An Acute Crisis.
They were called upon to meet a crisis as acute as any since William of Orange had crossed the Boyne. Honor should be given where honor was due. The Catholic church, which had made a good showing. He did not think that he or anyone present could be accused of cowardice or being afraid to show their colors on all occasions.

The service was closed with the National Anthem.

PLURALITY OF LANGUAGE.

Beneficial to Country, Not a Blight, Lions Club Told.

Canada is not distinctive from any other nation in having citizens speaking two different languages. It was pointed out at a luncheon of the Lions Club in the Mount Royal Hotel, Montreal, by Albert Gardiner, of the Canadian National Railways.

"It is the custom of some people to refer to our language question as if it were a sort of blight, or smouldering rust, for a canker with us," said Mr. Gardiner. "If plurality of languages were something to be regretted, it would be deplored within a country, Canada has the satisfaction of having a complete success financially and from the standpoint of attendance, it being one of the most largely attended outings for many years. Despite the threatening weather, many went up in the morning on the steamer Majestic and the remainder went to the grounds on the Hampton. All returned on the D. J. Purdy. At the beach, two good meals were served and the usual sports were held. Rev. William Phillips, pastor of the church, headed the committee in charge, the other convenors being Mrs. W. Hines, George Chambers and James McEachern.

there are a number of languages, to say nothing of innumerable dialects, many of which are not readily understood, if at all, by each other. France, Belgium and Switzerland are not to be classed with the countries which have failed, or which are retrograde, and all have various languages in current use within their borders. South Africa has a bilingual situation, and one of her public men said that the two languages serve to cement the races, create better feeling, encourage harmony, and bring about a beneficial and cultural effect upon the children trained to use the two.

John Macnaughton, president of the club, was in the chair.
