

You Can Make Excellent Cake With Fewer Eggs

Just use an additional quantity of Royal Baking Powder, about a teaspoon, in place of each egg omitted.

This applies equally well to nearly all baked foods. Try the following recipe according to the new way:

- | CREAM LAYER CAKE | |
|---------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| Old Way | New Way |
| 1 cup sugar | 1 cup sugar |
| 1/2 cup milk | 1/2 cup milk |
| 2 cups flour | 2 cups flour |
| 2 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder | 4 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder |
| 3 eggs | 1 egg |
| 1/2 cup shortening | 1/2 cup shortening |
| 1 teaspoon flavoring | 1 teaspoon flavoring |

Makes 1 Large 2-Layer Cake

DIRECTIONS—Cream the sugar and shortening together, then mix in the egg. Add the milk and Royal Baking Powder together, two or three times, add it all to the mixture. Gradually add the flour and beat with spoon until you have a smooth pour batter. Add the flavoring. Pour into greased layer cake tin and bake in a moderately hot oven for twenty minutes. This cake is best baked in two layers. Put together with cream filling and spread with white icing.

BAY ROBERTS, FRIDAY, July 23, 1917.

Coalition

Coalition, or the amalgamation of the Morris Government with the Opposition, forming a National Government, has actually become a reality.

In the Assembly on Monday afternoon the Prime Minister, Sir Edward Morris, made the following announcement:

"For the past week or so negotiations have taken place between the two political parties in the Legislature in relation to the formation of a National Government. The terms upon which the two parties have come together have been concluded, and on the meeting of the House to-morrow I will be in a position to announce the names of the gentlemen who will form the new Government."

On Tuesday morning at 10.30 o'clock the members of the outgoing government held their last Executive Meeting at Government House, after which Sir Edward Morris tendered his resignation, which involved the resignation of all his colleagues.

In the new government both political parties have an equal representation in membership and in office. It took some time to work out the details, but after several conferences and much shuffling, an agreement was reached.

Reports have it that several members of the late Government and Opposition were much opposed to the Coalition, and what the immediate future will bring no person can say.

The following will be the new Executive:

|---------|----------|
| Morris | Lloyd |
| Squires | Coaker |
| Cashin | Elis |
| Bennett | Clift |
| Gibbs | Hickman |
| Crosbie | Halfyard |

Frank Dawe in Germany

Just as we go to press we learn the good news that Frank Dawe is safe and a prisoner in Germany. Let us hope that Percy Mercer, another of our missing boys, will soon be reported there also.

Body Arrived Home

The body of the late George William Bradbury arrived here by Saturday night's train and was conveyed to the home of his parents, Coley's Point. The remains were accompanied by his brother, Isaac, and Steve Russell, a chum of deceased.

The funeral took place to the C. of E. Cemetery, the members of the Coley's Point Orange Lodge and a large number of friends attending.

Deceased was working in the N. S. Steel and Coal Company's Shipyard at New Glasgow, and was instantly killed by a heavy piece of timber falling on him. He left Sydney and went to New Glasgow about two weeks before the accident, and secured work in a munitions factory, but the work did not agree with him and he obtained a job in the shipbuilding yard.

The accident happened the first day he was employed there. While lifting one of the great sticks used in the launch ways the wire rope on the crane parted and poor Bradbury was caught under the timber. Another man, a Prince Edward Islander, was also killed at the same time.

Not a Beehive

A very young wife, in a strange hotel, trying to find her husband and thinking he was taking a bath, knocked on the bathroom door and said: "Honey, are you there?" And a strange masculine voice replied: "Madam, this is not a beehive; it's a bathroom."

Comments on Coalition

Coalition was the all-absorbing topic around town this week. While some approved of the move, others denounced it, and many thought it was doomed to failure. Many felt a great game of politics had been played, and talk of country's interests, patriotism, etc., was rank hypocrisy and bluff. It was felt that in the negotiations the people were ignored, and that there was simply a scramble on the part of some, at least, for position and pay.

It is too early, however, for The Guardian to express an opinion. We stand first, last, and all the time for outport rights. We feel that with the seat of government at St. John's, and the majority of the members residents of St. John's; with every member of the Executive and Legislative Council residing in St. John's, that its interests will be fully safeguarded and its every want supplied. But it is different with the outports.

St. John's is bound to get the cream and the lion's share. There are powerful influences—political, commercial and social—at work in the Capital.

We hope, however, that good may come to the country as a whole as a result of the Coalition; that the rights of outport towns and outport people will be considered and safeguarded, and that the representatives of the outport people who are members of the Executive will see that we get our rights. Let the country's interests be placed first, and there can then be no mistake made.

Big Liner Ashore

The big Norwegian-American liner Kristianiafjord, 10,669 tons, struck the rocks at Mi-taken Point, Trepassy Bay, in a dense fog on Sunday morning at 4.30 o'clock. The ship was bound from New York to Bergen, Norway. She had on board a general cargo and 841 passengers and 276 of a crew, including men, women and children. These included chiefly Russians, Norwegians and Swedes. All were saved, the passengers being safely landed in lifeboats at Bob's Cove, a half-mile away, within an hour after the ship struck. The ship is lying perfectly upright but with her bottom apparently ripped out.

All the holds are full of water, though the engine room and stokeholds are alright. The passengers were taken to St. John's and cared for. The cargo is being salvaged, and the passengers' luggage have been brought to St. John's. Wrecking tugs are at the scene.
