AN OLD-TIME PRINTER.

AN OLD-TIME PRINTER.

Willam J. Lorimer, of Plympton, Mass., is visiting his old friends in St. John and other parts of New Brunswick. Mr. Lorimer is an old type-setter and worked on the Telegraph under the late Wm. Elder. He left St. John about 18 years ago and for many years worked with such noted publishing firms as the Haughton, Nufflin Co. and the Riverside Press. Elght years ago he retired from the printing business and bought the Plympton House, in Plympton, Mass., a favored resort of the many sportsmen who visit that locality.

Today he is looking up a number of old friends in the city and after a short stay here will visit other friends in Pennfield and Grand Manan before he returns home.

Y. M. C. A. SPORTS.

Y. M. C. A. SPORTS.

Under the energetic control of Physical Director Greene, Y. M. C. A. football promises to boom this year. Keen interest, is already manifested in the game and twenty or more would-be players are turning out every practice night. Most of these are new men but those in charge report that the material is promising and that a good team should be the result.

Mr. Greene is already making arrangements for a lively season's work in the symnasium. In addition to the regular drill work, a continuous schedule of indoor sports will be held. To stimulate the interest in these a number of gold medals will be offered to the winners of the highest number of points during the season in the different events.

ROMEO AND JULIET

ROMEO AND JULIET.

ROMEO AND JULIET.

Shakespeare's genius was at its best in his creation of the marvelous characters in this play. All the very best features of dramatic composition and poetry are to be found in Romeo and Juliet. The interest is absorbing, the pathos most deeply touching, while the humorous element, never too prominent, affords that contrast so essential to a really great drama. This beautiful play must always highly interest those who are not dead to the noblest passions of our nature or blind to the greatest beauties poetry can create. Simvelle's production carries all new scenery complete, properties and electric effects, and will be given in its entirety at the Opera House Friday and Saturday, Sept. 11 and 12. tirety at the Opera House Saturday, Sept. 11 and 12.

JAIL OFFICIALS CRITICISED. JAIL OFFICIALS CRITICISED.

There is considerable comment in police circles today over the action of the jail officials in turning out Annie Doherty, who was in such poor health. This prisoner had served her time and was put on the street at seven o'clock last evening, in such an enfeebled condition that she had to be carried into the police station. There is a jail doctor, and the jail people have, in the opinion of the police, a right to look after those prisoners who are in poor health. The opinions of the brutal treatment accorded the Doherty woman are expuseed in no mild terms.

EXCHEQUER COURT.

Justice Burbidge opened a session of the exchequer court this morning in the admiralty court room. The case of William E. Vroom, trustee of the estate of Edmund I. Simonds, against the Kins, was taken up at two o'clock this afternoon. This is a petition for the valuation of property expropriated by the government at Long Wharf. A. George Blair, Jr., A. W. Macrae and Attorney-General Pugsley appeared for the plaintiff, and E. H. McAlpine for the crown.

EQUITY COURT.

The equity court was adjourned this morning until the 16th inst., when the hearing in the suit of George S. Cushing vs. the Cushing Sulphite Fibre Co., Ltd., will be resumed.

CHAPMAN CHORUS SEPT. 25

AND 26.

The rehearsal of the Chapman chorus held on Saturday evening was not so well attended as would be the case on any other evening, as many of the business men belonging to the chorus found it impossible to get away. The ladies turned out in force and had a first-class practice, going through the entire programme with Mr. Chapman. The latter was much pleased with the progress shown.

At a committee meeting held after the rehearsal the festival dates were finally fixed for Sent. 25th and 26th. There was some uncertainty about Miss Lilian Blauvelt appearing here, but she will come. Another committee meeting will be held tomorrow evening.

A full attendance is requested for this evening's rehearsal in the York Theatre.

NOT THE DAYS OF OLD.

Evidently the good old days are gone, for there was a dance at the Globe hall last night and no one was more than half killed, very few were drunk, and none were carried home. It was a most surprising affair. In many respects and the police, who were on the beat, have scarcely recovered from the shock of not being called in to stop the trouble. There was quite a large attendance and the financial returns were satisfactory. George Bree played the concertina and this instrument seemed to have fully recovered from the attack of asthma which affected it at the time of the last dance.

The fun was kept up until half past one o'clock—a very reasonable hour for Sheffield street, and the crowd dispersed very quietly. There is a strong sus picion that some reformer has been at work in Lower Cove.

LADY JOURNALISTS

Miss Grace Carew Sheldon, of Buffalo, N. Y., and Miss S. F. Geroldsek, of New York, are at the Royal Hotel. Both these ladles are prominently associated with newspaper work in the United States and are touring the provinces in a dual quest—for amusement and copy.

Mrs. Vincent, the Carleton woman living at Sand Point, who was deserted by her husband in Boston and sent back here by the U. S. officials, will be cared for by her father, David Paterson. Mr. Paterson, who is employed on a coasting schooner, came to the city on Saturday and has provided means whereby Mrs. Vincent may obtain necessaries without being dependent on her neighbors.

Nearly Drowned, He Peristed in Selling Stars Instead of Getting Dry.

Yesterday morning Ernest Boyd, aged about twelve years, and son of James Boyd, of Erin street, had a narrow escape from drowning. He is one of the Star newsboys and had just gone with his papers from the office to Reed's Point. While standing watching some men at work he fell overboard, between the wharf and the steamer Yarmouth, in twenty-five feet of water. After considerable difficulty the little fellow was lifted ashore, half drowned and thoroughly exhausted by his struggles and the coldness of the water. His bundle of papers had fallen from his arm and were destroyed, but Boyd on reaching the wharf made direct for the Star office for a fresh supply. It was some time before he could be persuaded to go home and get warmed, as he was determined not to disappoint his customers for the Star.

A POOR SERVICE.

The street car service yesterday was abominable. From ten minutes to six o'clock in the afternoon until half past six not a single northbound car passed the depot, but at a quarter past six nine city bound cars went by in a string. About half past six eight of these again passed north. The city service was demoralized during the greater part of the day, and it was only for short periods that it seemed to be in anything like proper shape. The Paradise-Brusseis line was also badly mixed, but was much more satisfactory than the city line.

It was frequently remarked that the railway company cannot handle a little extra traffic without making a complete mess of the service. Thousands of persons used the cars yesterday and hundreds of others would have used them if there had been any cars in sight.

GORTON MINSTRELS.

The Gorton Minstrels, sesterday put on the best show of its kind that has been seen in St. John for years. There was no attempt to work up a cheap enthusiasm, but almost every number on the programme was arranged with attention to the artistic effect. The costuming and setting for the circle could not be improved upon, and all the work done in this part of the performance was clean and enjoyable. The solo work was much above the average and the selections by the quintette were particularly good. In the oilo the leading features were the acrobatic act and the musical specialities. The negro comedy sketches were as good as such things usually are, and pleased the gallery.

gallery.

The Opera House was crowded at both matinee and evening performances. The entertainment will be repeated this evening.

HE KILLED A BEAR.

HE KILLED A BEAR.

Albert Wayne, of Musquash, was in the city today trying to sell the skin of a black bear which he shot yesterday. Mr. Wayne was going through the woods about two miles from his home when he came across three bears eating berries. Two of the bears were rather small, but the other was older and of quite a good size. Mr. Wayne shot the mother bear and the other woo got away. At this season the skins are not worth much, but a couple of months later such a skin as Mr. Wayne and in town today would be of considerable value.
