Wives, and mothers, of drunkards—it is your solemn duty to try to save the wayward ones. If they are weak, it is all the more reason why you should be strong. You have used love and pleading in vain. Now try "Samaria." Give it secretly in the food. It is both tastless and odorless, and no one will ever suspect its presence even in tea or coffee. Try it at our expense. "Samaria" will quickly make him loathe liquor—lose all craving for drink—and make a man of him.

Think of having your boy or husband well and strong—clear eyed and rosy-cheeked—a steady working, upright man, whom all the world will respect. Surely that is worth striving for. It costs you nothing to try.

The entertainment to be given in the gymnasium of the Y. M. C. A. on Monday evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary will be of unusual merit and will undoubtedly attract a very large audience. The programme will commence with a number of musical selections, including a piano duet, quartettes, solos, etc. The young nien's classes will then present an exhibition of torch swinging, a sailor's hornpipe and pyramid building. This will be followed by the Indian huntress' dril' by a number of young ladies in aboriginal costume.

The concluding feature will be a series of about thirty beautiful tablicaux illustrating some of the most romantic scenes from Longfellow's poems. Candy and ice cream will be on sale and the proceeds will be used to pay for new furnishings for the rooms devoted to the junior department.

"I have much pleasure in testifying to what Gin Pills have done for me. I divide the year about equally, working on the ranch and on various logging claims, being consequently entirely dependent on bodily fitness for a living. At times, I have suffered like many others is this country from Eackache and Weak Kidneys, sometimes to the extent of being laid off for weeks altogether.

Having tried many remedies, I have pleasure in stating that your Gin Pills are the only remedy from which I have received any permanent benefit. I had been using Gin Pills only a short time when the pain and trouble left me and have not returned since.

I take care to always have Gin Pills by me, though my present condition does not require medicine.

I have recommended Gin Pills to other men with similar results."

"St. John Star" Free Coupon for Mrs. Knowles' Book "Lessons by Mail —Beauty Culture

Abby Beatrice Knowles, the woman who has been instrumental in establishing thousands of women and girls in the profession of Beauty Culture throughout the United States, Canada, and Great Britain, has recently arranged for the tree distribution of literature, designed especially for women and girls who would take up Beauty Culture as a profession.

Included with the free literature which is now being sent to all applicants is a beautifully illustrated book, ecntaining nearly one hundred life-like illustrations and photographic reproductions showing the wonderful opportunities for the Manicurist, the Hair Dresser, and the Masseuse; it describes a wonderfully simple and practical way to learn to become an expert in the various branches of Beauty Culture, and shows how a Beauty Parlor can be started at home at very little expense, or how a visiting practice (calling at the homes of select patrons) can be conducted.

Mrs. Knowles declares that there is Mrs. Knowles declares that there is not another profession for women that offers the opportunities for travel, seeing the world, for making money, for placing women and girls on an independent basis and in refined and pleasant surroundings, as does the profession of Beauty Culture.

During a recent tour of the United States and Canada she interviewed many women and clerks who held positions as clerks, stenographers, dressmakers and domestic servants, as well as many unemployed; and the intelligence, ambition, and desire for advancement shown by these women clearly proved their fitness for this new, dignified, and profitable profession.
