BOSTON LETTER.

Business at a Low Ebb This Hot Weather.

Suicide of a Nova Scotian — Better Demand for Spruce Lumber — Fish Trade Quiet — General Matters.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

BOSTON, July 31.—The usual mid-summer dullness hangs over life in the city; many people are away, business is at a low ebb and there is nothing of particular interest to attract the attention of the unfortunate ones who are obliged to remain and put up with a July sun and a July atmosphere, which in congested districts are by no means conducive to health, comfort or industry.

While the weather here of late has been quite warm, it has not been oppressively hot. In the farming districts of the state and in southern New England a drought has prevailed for nearly two months, and will result in a shortage of crops. The only relief of consequence was a heavy rain which fell last Thursday and Friday.

Politics are yet held in the background by reason of the warm weather, but the question of keeping the officials at Washington busy and anxious. Alongside of the great McKinley mystery last week came the disgraceful affair in New Orleans, which ended after ten persons had been sentenced to short confinement, four times that number injured. This scandal has led some people to suggest that there may not be so much of a difference after all between a New Orleans mob and a similar body of lawless men in the Chinese empire.
