

Bro. A. H. Blackeby, on behalf of the Oddfellows' Relief Association of Kingston, thanked the Oddfellows of the Province of Quebec for the interest manifested in the relief association. He gave a few interesting figures showing the condition of the association, which was enthusiastically received.

Bro. A. W. Staveley, the newly elected Deputy Grand Master, responded for the "Rebekahs." He hoped the Rebekahs would avail themselves of the privileges extended to them through the formation of a grand assembly in the province.

The "Fraternal Press" was responded to by Bro. J. T. Courtenay, publisher of the "Oddfellows' Gazette." He thanked the members for the support given the "Gazette."

"The Chairman" was fittingly responded to by Bro. D. J. Dickson, P. G. M., who thanked the members of the Grand Lodge for their attendance and hope to see them meet again in the near future under Beaver's hospitality. Unity Hall was profusely decorated with flowers, flags, bunting, etc., for the occasion.

"For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" was heartily sung before each toast was responded to.

The success of the event reflects credit upon the committee, composed of Bros. D. J. Dickson, P. G. M., chairman; L. Jehu, P. G., secretary, and Bros. A. R. Griffith, N. G.; A. W. Staveley, G. W.; James Currie, P. G.; G. McGowan, P. G.; W. Johnston, V. G.; J. Carmichael, P. G.; and L. Alchin, P. G.
