An Unpleasant Experience on Visit to Detroit

LOCAL YOUNG MAN, HOWEVER, ESCAPES CLUTCHES OF HIGHWAYMEN.

Mr. Geo. Boldue, an employee of the Woeller Boldue Co. and son of Mr. Herman Boldue of Detroit met with somewhat of a thrilling experience while on a visit to his home on Monday, Dec. 30. He left Galt on the afternoon of the day in question and arrived at the Detroit Depot about 6.15 p.m. On leaving the depot he was proceeding on foot to Michigan Avenue when he was accosted by a man enquiring if he did not need a taxi cab. On replying in the negative he was asked if he had any whiskey and on replying no was ordered to open his suit case. As the man had no apparent authority, Mr. Boldue refused and as the attitude was anything but congenial, Mr. Boldue sought refuge in a house near by which by the way proved to be the home of a priest. After waiting some time and as the way seemed clear he ventured out again anxious to get to his destination. However his experience was not at an end he being accosted again by the same man and an accomplice. He was ordered to open his suit case again but knowing if he bent down to follow their instructions he would have been hit on the head and robbed he placed the case on a fence and taking his time about it was relieved to see two other men approaching and on them putting in an appearance his molesters quickly vanished. Mr. Boldue had a good look at the men and could plainly see they were taxi cab drivers no doubt following this occupation as a blind. Had he only have had the presence of mind and secured their auto number the police could have been put on the trail and the hold up men brought to justice. It is one case where strangers in a big city are not safe and the Police Department of the City should keep a sharp look out for crooks who follow the vocation of taxi-cab drivers. They are waiting to waylay visitors on the pretext or other. The appearance of the two men coming just as they did when Mr. Boldue was in the act of opening his suit case no doubt saved him from injury and ask to say nothing of the shock of being held up by highwaymen who would stop at nothing.

Humor and Pathos in "The Better 'Ole"

Bill, Bert and Alf Typify Spirit of True British Soldier.

It is no exaggeration to say that no drama ever put on the stage and no picture ever put on the silver screen has attracted the attention and held the interest of the people in a vice-like grip that "The Better 'Ole" has done. This great epic of the war was created from the cartoons of Captain Brainsfather, who drew them for the illustrated papers in London. The cartoons immediately became all the rage, for everyone, and especially the people of England, recognized in them the authentic side of the average British Tommy, with all his foibles, his grumbling, his never-failing fund of good humor, and more than that, his devotion to duty and country. It was not long before a stage play was created from the Brainsfather cartoons, called "The Better 'Ole" and this was quickly followed by a cinema version of the play. Soon the play and the films crossed the Atlantic and became as quickly and immensely popular in Canada and the United States as they were in the British Isles.

As indicating how "The Better 'Ole" has taken hold of the people of Toronto it may be said that the pictures have been running there for more than two months and at present time they are being shown daily in two theatres and at the same time the stage play is running—all playing to crowded houses at every performance.

"The Three Musketeers"—otherwise Bert, Alf and Old Bill, are reincarnated in a film version of "The Better 'Ole" which will be the big picture in many movie houses for months to come. And if the cinema lacks, as always, the dialog that the stage can give us, there is ample compensation in the setting, for we have veritable war episodes, including the passing of the new army through London streets glowing from the rain, a glimpse of the old battle homes of France. But the Old Bill and his kind, that devastation might have happened over here, is the message of the story.

That Capt. Brainsfather's play, so successfully produced in London and New York, offered real opportunities to the producers, long before the picture was made, to show the audience that there are many incidents which they cannot appear on the stage, yet come within the scope of the film, and fill up the interstices of the story to the greater satisfaction of the audience.

From the very start when a picture of the Three Musketeers of the old time, in the picturesque panoply of their period, disclosed into the three soldiers of to-day—"Old Bill," "Bert" and "Alf" in the trenches, "missing details of the play are filled in, and the construction is still a drama, enormously to the true understanding of the story. The introduction of the "poet soldier" as a sort of explanatory "chorus" is one of the happiest touches and few could not feel their heart strings drawn tighter at the section of the film which showed how "the whisper of war" descended upon British homes, from the lowliest to the highest, in the land. The familiar incidents of the play and appear, amplified and emphasized. The Better 'Ole" will be shown at the Allen Theatre in Kitchener at an early date. Manager Jennings was in Toronto the other day trying to get the picture for immediate presentation here, but so great is the demand for it in Toronto they could not release it. Another film is being made, however.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK MARKET
The cattle market has now resumed its usual activity. For three weeks or more it has been a very quiet affair but now it is shaking off its lethargy and developing a strong tone. There was only a comparatively light offering yesterday, but even so, there were nearly as many cattle on sale as during the last week. Bidding was fast and prices were steady to an advance of 25c and on two or three occasions the market was 25c higher than the closing sale of last week. Prices are now considerably better than they were immediately before the heavy offerings fell off. Yesterday it was strong for all classes of cattle even the good cows, which have been very slow this last couple of weeks were quite active at prices from $9.50 to $10.50 and an occasional sale at $10.75 per cwt. Choice bulls were also strong with prices for the best at $10 to $10.75. One sale of bulls went through at $11 and another at $11.25 per cwt.

Choice steers and heifers were also very plentiful, but a few sales were effected around $13.50 and $14, and prices up to $12 were paid for the fairly good steers and heifers. Medium butchers were also active, steady to strong figures. In fact there was nothing on the market that sold below last week's closing quotations.

The stocker trade was perhaps the slow spot in the market but while rather draggy there was no decline in price and all that were not picked up for farmers were disposed of to the abattoir buyers. Milk cows were a little more active but, of course, the supply was not very large.

Cattle were again in strong demand and during the day advanced about 25c. Late sales were put through around $17.50 for the best veals. Lambs were sold at prices up to $16. Sheep were also in good demand and cashed at $10 to $11 per cwt.

How prices for to-day were quoted by the packers on the $18.25 fed and watered basis. There was a rather sliding scale for the hogs yesterday. Some of the buyers were out of the market but the others created sufficient competition to make the general price $15.50 while many decks cashed at $18.75 per cwt. The decline prophesied for to-day depended largely on the size of the offering. Few of the commission men think that the buyers will be able to carry the quotations to the low levels they hope to.

Good Outlook.
The general trend of the market appears to be upward. Yesterday was really the first market of the year, the former offerings having been so small. The year has therefore started outwell and promises to be a very profitable one for the producers.

A Fire Fighter From Neighboring City Visited Here

SPEAKS WELL OF TWO PLATOON SYSTEM. He Points Out That Guelph Will Inaugurate It.

A visitor in the city today was Mr. Joseph Steffler of Guelph who is the guest of his brothers in this city. Mr. Steffler is a member of the Guelph Fire Department. His home is in Josephburg.

While in the City today he paid a visit to the local fire hall where he was pleased to shake hands with the men of the department. Mr. Steffler is interested in the two platoon system for fire departments and he learned with interest that the local men are petitioning for the adoption of the system. He stated that in Guelph the system was assured. "The old Council of 1918 went on record as favoring it and then they submitted a question to the people: Are you in favor of the two platoon system?" There was a majority of 603 in favor of the new system and now it is certain that it will be put into effect. The Fire Committee will consider the matter at a meeting on the ninth, and it will come before the City Council on the thirteenth of this month.

Mr. Steffler stated the Guelph fire department had twelve men but that the Chief had asked for five more, who would probably be added when the two platoon system is inaugurated. The Guelph man is a strong supporter of and a firm believer in the system and he has a sense of satisfaction after the vote of the people, which he says resulted as it did after a vigorous campaign of education by the firemen.

"Already the fruits of the proposed system are seen. Two applications for positions as firemen have been received from good men in Guelph. The system means that you can get good men, men who know how to fight a fire. It also means better discipline for the conditions under which the men work are more favorable."

Mr. Steffler added that there is not much idleness in Guelph. Although munition factories had ceased work on government orders they are operating. Quite a number of cases of influenza exist, a number of sad instances being reported. The epidemic assumed its present serious aspect soon after the opening of the Winter fair. In the month of October, when the epidemic raged here, conditions were not as serious there.

Service at U. B. Church

A POWERFUL MESSAGE TO CHRISTIANS

The congregation in the Alma St. U.B. Church was deeply stirred last night by the powerful message delivered by Evangelist Mrs. M.A. Durham. The Evangelist spoke from 1 Tim. 4-12: "Be thou an example of the believers in word in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity."

This strong appeal was entirely to the Christian professors to show forth Christ in their lives. The speaker held that it is the careless inconsistent Christian lives that keeps the church weak and powerless. To be a soul winning force the Christian must lift up Christ in his life. Christ is the great Light-house but we are the lower lights. When we are on earth in the flesh, He was the light of the world but now Christians are the light of the world and the salt of the earth. He is our example but we as Christians must be real examples to a dying world. The speaker told of many illiterate and unlearned who when filled with the love and spirit of Christ and the Gospel became the world's outstanding apostles of life and light. This message was the strongest appeal yet given to the Church to make Christ and the Gospel become the world's outstanding apostles of life and light. Found By His Wife.
Several hours later about 4 p.m., Mrs. Roosevelt, who was the only other member of the family at Oyster Bay, went to her husband's room and found that he had died during the night.

Mrs. Roosevelt telephoned to Col. Emory Roosevelt, cousin of the former president, and he came to the Roosevelt home immediately. Telegrams were dispatched to the colonel's children, who were in other parts of the country.

Two of the colonel's sons, Major Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and Capt. Kermit Roosevelt, are in service abroad. Capt. Archie Roosevelt and his wife left New York last night for Boston, where the captain's wife's father is ill. Mrs. Edith Derby and her two children are in Alton, S.C.

The immediate cause of Col. Roosevelt's death was pulmonary embolism or lodgment in the lung of a blood clot from a broken vein, it was stated by one of his physicians.
