IDEA BORN AND NURTURED HERE MAY SOON BE REALIZED

Irrigation and Land Settlement Scheme Among Recommendations of Soldiers Re-Establishment Commission. Expert Suggests Hamilton District.

GRAND RIVER CONSERVATION.

The realization of another practical scheme, the idea of which originated in this city, may not be far off. It is the conservation of the Grand River waters and the development of an irrigation scheme in connection with it.

It is noted that the Soldiers Re-Establishment Commission has adopted the recommendation made by an engineering expert, Mr. N. Cauchon of Ottawa, who urges the investigation of irrigation and small land holding scheme for the benefit of returned men. His recommendation is number fourteen of twenty-five which the Commission will submit to the House of Commons.

Mr. Cauchon in appearing before the Commission some time ago recommended the Hamilton district for this small land holding plan. The land in that district is suitable for the purpose.

The local interest in the matter centres not only on the effect it will have on the Grand River waters, but also on the fact that it was a local man who first suggested the idea of conserving the waters of the Grand River during the period of the spring floods so that properties along the river banks will not be damaged and there will be an even flow all the year round. This gentleman is Mr. W. H. Breithaupt.

In conversation with Mr. Breithaupt this morning it was pointed out by him that the proposed scheme suggested by Mr. Cauchon is practical and as has been frequently remarked by him, it would mean the erection of a dam in Pilkington Township, Wellington County, with a storage capacity of 25,000,000 cubic feet. This would ensure a flow ten times as big as the present summer flow. "Had there been such a scheme this year, the crops in the Grand River Valley, would have been three times as big as they were," Mr. Breithaupt said.

The informant said that the proposed scheme of irrigation in the Hamilton district would necessitate the construction of a canal below Galt to the Niagara peninsula. This canal besides providing the means of irrigation would also give 25,000 horse power for hydro power.

While only the lands in the Hamilton district could be irrigated the bottom lands all along the Grand River would be benefited. Fewer would also be developed along the river.

In addition to the main reservoir in Pilkington Township there would be additional reservoirs on the Conestogo and Speed Rivers which would bring the total storage up to about 4,000,000 cubic feet of storage.

While the Re-Establishment Commission's recommendations have not yet been acted on in the House of Commons, but will come up in the near future, it is expected, it will not be surprising if it is decided to investigate the scheme as recommended by Mr. Cauchon and the Commission.

STRIKE INJUNCTION GRANTED

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 31.—An application of United States Government for a temporary injunction, restraining all strike activities of United Mine Workers, was issued by the Federal district court today on the ground that a national disaster was impending and the Government has the right to enforce the laws and protect people from calamity.

KINGSTON GIRL BADLY BURNED.

Kingston, Oct. 31.—Annie McDermott, maid in the home of James Surft, was badly burned when her clothes caught fire from a gas stove. She ran, screaming, from the house and passively rolled her on the ground to extinguish the flames.

THE MAKING OF A NEW HOUSE A HOME BEAUTIFUL

Detroit Specialist, Miss Marie Stemm, in the City Encouraging Proper Housing Accommodation.

DEVELOPMENTS IN HOUSING.

The advantages and the necessity of plenty of good houses is being impressed upon one who has been in fact gleaned from what has been done in other towns. Walkerville the city beautiful, affords the opportunity to get this knowledge.

The prosperity and the contentedness of the people due to this housing is a large measure are revealed in the facts that are connected with the operations of the Wm. McEachern and Sons, Ltd., community builders in Ontario and across the border, which show what can be accomplished by united effort to get more houses in these days when so many industries are handicapped in their efforts to bring in help from the outside and when new industries which might locate here are also under a disadvantage owing to lack of ample accommodation here for the employees that would have to be brought in.

There is in the city Miss Marie Stemm of Detroit, the interior decorator for the McEachern company, McEachern and Sons' men, under the direction of specialists in designing and workmanship make the houses not only substantial all the way through but beautiful from top to bottom both outside and inside. But it is left to Miss Stemm to put on the finishing touches. Her good judgment, her appreciation of the beautiful and artistic combined with the practical and the economical are responsible for making every one of these houses a real home. The empty rooms of a completed house soon change from barren compartments to surroundings which make the visitor to them feel at home.

Miss Stemm yesterday afternoon addressed the ladies of the Daughters of the Empire on the necessity and advantages of proper housing, good homes for working men and women. Her address was an inspiration for the work.

THE CITY GETS A NEW INDUSTRY

AN ENVELOPE AND STATIONERY CO.

Mr. Arthur Boehmer Behind the Gun

The latest addition to the already long list of industries in the city is the Kitchener Envelope and Stationery Co., who have opened a plant in the quarters lately occupied by the Mitchell Button Co., Pequegnat Block.

The man behind the movement is one of our own citizens, Mr. Arthur Boehmer, and already the plant is in operation and turning out orders. An industry of this kind fills a long felt want in the Twin City where our Financial and Industrial Institutions have been all along obliged to send elsewhere for large orders of Envelopes and Stationery. With the opening of the above plant in our city a great saving will be the result as one will be able to buy, as it were, first handed. Owing to the inability of securing all the machinery necessary from the manufacturers, Mr. Boehmer has already installed considerable and is anxiously awaiting further machines so that the plant can run full capacity.

To this Opposition members on the other hand were somewhat vociferous in their demands, that the morning hours be added to the labors of the Legislature and some openly admitted that they were homesick and didn't care how hard and how long they worked so long as the business of the House was expedited and prorogation came before the snow fell.

To this Opposition members offered the cynical retort that it was all very well for Government members to talk so since their only duties were to vote for Government measures. Opposition members on the other hand, had to scrutinize Government legislation closely and had far heavier responsibilities.

Sir George Foster, who sponsored the resolution and who is one of the oldest members of the House, offered to present every morning, afternoon and evening, if that were necessary. He was willing, however, that St. Mary's Church there will be services at 6, 7, 8 and 9 o'clock a.m., and 7:30 o'clock p.m. At the Sacred Heart Church the hours are 6 and 9 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

48-HOUR WEEK IN PARLIAMENT

Ottawa, Oct. 31.—On Tuesday next the House of Commons will commence to sit morning, afternoon and evening, and Saturday will also be a full day. This will make about a forty-eight hour week. The Opposition, however, believes that this is too long for a man to concentrate his attention upon the difficult and complicated problems of the day, and Hon. W. S. Fielding, Frank Cahill of Pontiac, Jean Joseph Denis of Joliette and D. McKenzie, House Leader, opposed the proposition on that and various other grounds when the Government introduced the proposal yesterday.

Government members on the other hand were somewhat vociferous in their demands, that the morning hours be added to the labors of the Legislature and some openly admitted that they were homesick and didn't care how hard and how long they worked so long as the business of the House was expedited and prorogation came before the snow fell.

THIRD READING G. T. BILL TODAY

Ottawa, Oct. 31.—The Grand Trunk Bill was reported out of committee shortly before six o'clock last evening and House adjourned in order that the members might attend the State dinner at the Government House to Cardinal Mercier. To-morrow the Opposition will make its last fight on the motion for third reading and will probably offer a series of amendments, chief of which will be the proposal that the award of the Board of Arbitration be submitted to Parliament for ratification before being accepted.

The Senate has adjourned until Monday when the Bill will come before that body for consideration. It is believed that the Bill will pass the Upper House by a narrow majority. That it will be further amended before it does pass, is more than likely.

Ottawa, Oct. 31.—Yesterday afternoon Cardinal Mercier gave a simple and impressive address at the Russell Theatre, in which he offered the thanks of his people for Canada's help.

"There is a great bond of sympathy between Canada and Belgium," he said, "You, dear Canadians! I am happy to know you sprang into line when you realized the character of the war, and I am happy to offer you the tribute of our deepest admiration. You went in to war with men, money and all your spirit, and in Flanders your men and ours mingled their blood. The crosses in Flanders, of which your great poet wrote, mark the places of both yours and ours."

SIR JOHN WILLISON ON WORK OF RECONSTRUCTION IN CANADA

Guard Raw Materials and Encourage Development of Natural Resources, He is made Honorary Member of Canadian Club.

The first luncheon of the season of the Waterloo County Canadian Club was held last evening when one of the largest attendances that has ever been present was around the festive boards.

The speaker was Sir John Willison, president of the Canadian Reconstruction Association. Sir John dealt with Canada's after-war problems. His address was a straight forward expression of personal convictions and it was very much enjoyed by the hearers. This was Sir John's second visit to the club. Last evening he was made an honorary member.

Sir John in the course of his address dealt with ways and means of meeting the increased public debt which has grown from $336,000,000 before the war to $2,000,000,000, which means an annual expenditure of about $400,000,000 before the war. Tariff reduction was not desirable he said. It would mean ruin in the long run. Taxation of unimproved land as suggested by the Western Growers' Association would not bring in an additional $80,000,000 annually. He warned against the excessive taxation of industry and capital. He impressed the point that capital could strike. Sir John said that he wished to be clear on the point that he is not speaking for the manufacturers or the men of capital but his ideas were formulated after long and careful study of the question.

His study and investigation had shown that nothing could be hoped from efforts to fix prices of commodities by the government. The experience of Australia has shown this. Sir John was emphatic on the point that production must be kept up to high watermark, if wages are to be kept up. It is not possible he said to have both high wages and low production. In regard to the industrial situation in Canada he said that the labor and industrial situation in this country is better than in any other in the world. As to the future the only solution was kind of partnership between employer and employee. Industrial government on the principles of Russian Bolshevism and that form which is a mechanical state socialism are impossible and mean ruin to the country.

"Oh, kiss me just once, Prince!" she begged her voice, shaking with emotion. "Don't be silly," replied the Prince shyly and brusquely. When she was removed, he turned to Admiral Halsey and he said with sadness, "What a pity I could not do it! She was so very pretty."

Twice he sprang from the crowd yesterday and gave the Prince flowers. Three roses carried a card in French, signed by Therese Gratton, 354 Rue St. Denis.

Her sentiments freely express this beautiful greeting translated, "because your young Hinesness condescended to pass through the French-Canadian quarters, spring has returned. A rose given by a little child is enough to prove how sincerely you are loved."
