

OUTDOOR LIFE IN VANCOUVER ISLAND

LEGISLATIVE LIBRARY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA
3 3298 00085 2278

A New Life in a New Country

DURING the days of hard grind, be it in the trenches, munition works, mine or factory, did you ever long for a larger life—an independent life—where, in a beautiful climate, you could carve out a home all your own? No man minds hard work so long as he feels he is getting somewhere, and believing this, we know you will welcome a suggestion, pointing the road by which you can realize your dream. For you have dreamed, haven't you, of a pretty little home in a sunny climate, with perhaps a few acres in fruit, a cow to supply good rich milk for the children, a pig or two, a small flock of sheep, and a few leghorn or white wyandotte chickens? We can help you make this dream come true.

TEN TO TWENTY ACRES ENOUGH FOR A HOME

We think that ten or twenty acres of land would be enough, unless you want to go in for dairying, in which case you would require forty or more.

In this booklet, we shall deal with the smaller area, and if you really want to go in for mixed farming or dairying on a larger scale, write us and we will give you what information we can.

With twenty to forty acres at your disposal, you can specialize on lines such as small fruits, seeds, bulbs, etc., besides keeping for personal use a cow, a pig or two, some chickens, and perhaps a few sheep.

Of course, we are talking about Vancouver Island, for of all places we know of, this Island has all the advantages when considered as a land for a home.

PROVINCIAL LIBRARY,
VICTORIA, B. C.