TITLE OF "FATHER" FOR PRIESTS

The practice of calling pricets "Father" has lately been attacked in England, mainly on the ground that it is of Irish origin. Bishop Vaughan staunchly defends the custom in a letter to the Tablet. The pastor, he says, is ex officio, the true father of his flock. He lives in their midst. He baptizes them, and so they become his spiritual children; he teaches and instructs them; he feeds them with the supersubstantial Bread, which comes down from heaven. And, when their souls are sick and suffering from sin and spiritual ailments, he it is who attends to them and heals them in the sacrament of Penance. Further, he wnites them in holy Matrimony; and he stands at their bedside when they are dying, and prepares them for their last journey. In short, like a loving parent, he is at their beck and call both night and day. In a word, the secular pricet day. In a word, the socolar priest is — to a greater extent than any Religious—their epiritual Father, and they are more truly his children than anyone else. So let them glory in the title of "Father." Cardinal Manning used also to say that it is a great help to the priest himself to hear himself addressed as "Fathor." It reminds him of his duty to his flock. It helps him to realize the flock. It helps him to realize the obligations he is under of watching over them, and of counselling and advising them and attending to all their wants.

It includes the regular and safety types of dropper filled and pump and lever filling devices of the self-filling types.

Being pioneers and recognized leaders of the industry, we are the natural market for inventors with ideas that in their judgment would improve our product.

No one is or has been keener to investigate these claims than we are, because it has been our intention from the first that if ever a better fountain pen than Waterman's Ideal was made we would make it.

It has happened and will happen again that fountain pens appear on the market with "talking point" devices that during our far greater experience we have already experimented with and found either impractical or inferior to devices of our own intended for the same purpose.

The man, woman, or child who buys Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pen gets 100% fountain pen efficiency because every material, process or device included in it has been proven by the longest years of experience and experiment as unequaled for its purpose

AUDITOR'S REPORT TO THE SHAREHOLDERS In accordance with sub-sections 19 and 20 of section 56 of the Bank Act, 1913, I beg to report as follows: The foregoing balance sheet has been examined with the books and vouchers at the Head Office, and with the certified returns from the Branches, and is in accordance therewith. I have obtained all needed information from the officers of the Bank, and in my opinion the transactions coming under my notice have been within the powers of the Bank. The cash has been checked and the securities of the Bank with retried, at its chief office, both on the 31st of May, 1921, and also at another time during the year, and in my opinion, the above balance sheet is properly drawn up so as to show a true and correct view of the state of the Bank's affairs, according to the best of my information and the explanations given to me, and as shown by the books of the Bank.

SYDNEY H. JONES, Auditor

The customary motions were made and carried unanimously. Mr. Sydney H. Jones was re-appointed Auditor of the Bank for the ensuing year. The Scrutineers anopointed at the meeting reported the following shareholders duly elected Directors for the ensuing year: H. J. Daly, R. P. Gouch, C. A. Barnard, K. C., Lieut.-Col. Clarence F.
