HUMOROUS.
 When a man gets to the top of the hill by honest means he is to be taken by the neck and hurled down again if he's ashamed to turn about and look at the lowly road along which he once traveled.
 Lord Byron's valet gravely excited his master's ire by observing, while Byron was examining the remains of Athens, "La me, my lord, what capital mantelpieces that marble would make in England!"
 The Printer Again.—"It was a very informal affair," wrote an editor in a notice of a select party which he had been specially invited to attend. The composition made it "a very informal affair," and no more special invitations were received at that office.
 Sheridan, on being reproached by Pitt as forming a drag-chain on the wheels of Government, bounded up with the reply that for once he could compliment the Minister on the correctness of his allusions, since the drag-chain was never imposed but when the vehicle was going down hill.
 "May it please your honor," said a lawyer, addressing one on the judges, "I brought the prisoner from jail on a habes corpus." "Well," said a farmer in an under-tone, who stood at the back of the court, "these lawyers will say anything.
 I saw the man get out of a cab at the court door."
 A man saw a ghost while walking along a lonely highway at midnight. The ghost stood exactly in the middle of the road, and the wayfarer, feeling by investigation, looked at it with his umbrella.
 The next instant he was knocked twenty feet into a mudhole. Moral: Never poke an umbrella at a large white nule when its back is turned.
 One afternoon, when Jerrold was in his garden, at Putney enjoying a glass of claret, a friend called upon him. The conversation ran on a certain dull fellow, whose wealth made him prominent at that time. "Yes," said Jerrold, drawing his finger round the edge of his wine-glass, "that's the range of his intellect, only it never contained anything half so good in it." Colley Cibber, known for some years by the name of Master Colley, made his first appearance on the stage in a very subordinate situation. After waiting impatiently for the promoter's notice, he by good fortune obtained the honor of carrying a message on the stage to one of the principal actors of that day, whom he greatly disconcerted by his awkwardness. Bet-erton, in anger, inquired who it was who had committed such a blunder. Before the promoter replied, "Master Colley."
 "Then forgive him," rejoined Beterton.
 "Why, sir, he has no salary." "No!" Then put him down 10s. a week and forget him live." To this good natured adjustment of rewards a blundering actor Colley owed the first money he received from the dramatic treasury.

A Wonderful Glimp.
 "I should like to sell you a gimlet," said a care-worn looking man, as he walked into an office the other day.
 "We have no use for one," replied the cashier.
 "But you should always look into the misty future," went on the fiend, deducely; "next winter you will want to make hole in your boot-heel, so you can get your skates on."

 "I use club skates—no straps are required."
 "You may want to screw some boards together some time. The old-fashioned method of driving the screws in with a hammer is pernicious, as it deteriorates the tenacity of the fangs of the screw, as it were."
 "Nothing to-day, sir."
 "This gimlet also acts as a good corkscrew."
 "I don't want it."
 "It may also be used as a tack-hammer, a toothbrush, and a cigar-holder."
 "Don't want it."
 "It has an eraser, a pen, an inkstand, a table for computing compound interest and a lunch-box attachment."
 "I can't help it; I don't want it."
 "I know you don't; you are one of those mean men that won't buy a gimlet unless it has a restaurant and a trip through Europe and an Italian opera company attached. You're the kind of a man who would live near an electric light to save a gas bill."
 And the peddler walked out with his mental plange on the perpendicular.

WILSON & CRUICKSHANK,
 Are selling
Ayer's
Hair Vigor, For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.
 A dressing which is at once a greasy, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth.
 Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of falling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.
 Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

REASONS WHY
HARKNESS' CANADIAN
HAIR BALM
 Should be used in preference to all others.
 1st. Because it is the MOST RELIABLE preparation for the hair ever offered to the public.
 2nd. Because it is the CHEAPEST.
 3rd. Because it will without doubt PRE-VENT SCALP AND DANDRUFF from gathering in the scalp.
 4th. Because it will, in a few applications, REMOVE SCALP AND DANDRUFF, and leave the scalp perfectly clean.
 5th. Because it will stop the FALLING OF THE HAIR when all others have failed.
 6th. Because it is never failed to PRO-DUCE A NEW GROWTH when faithfully applied.
 7th. Because it will restore faded and gray hair to its natural color.
 Last, though not least, it contains none of those deleterious ingredients so commonly found in hair restoratives.
