Fertilizer

It is hard to make most of the farmers realize that there is a great possibility of them not being able to get what commercial fertilizer they will require this spring. But never the less it is an absolute fact and the wise farmer will take home his fertilizer soon. As if you wait till spring you may not be able to get any.
As even now it is very hard to get what you want as transportation is so bad we have only a few more cars of Basic Slag to sell.

MARRIAGE—CHOOSING A LIFE PARTNER

Mr. Layton gave his second sermon on marriage on Sunday evening on the above subject.
Freedom to choose, or not to choose, to marry, is recognized.
The Talmud says: "Any Jew, who has no wife, is no man." While Jesus never married, He regarded marriage as a present good, although for physical and other reasons. He showed that some would not marry. Cel-bacy is not taught in the New Testament. But it is the duty of every young person to consider if it be right to marry, or to abstain from marriage. One's own health, and family history, one's character, and prospects, should all be considered before deciding upon marriage. If one is convinced that it is right to marry, the question of a life partner should be then considered.
Three elements at least should enter into the choice—love compatibility and religion. Is love an accident, or premeditation? As the blowing of the wind, or under sane control? Two persons fall in love, they experience new sensations, and a new world seems created. Is this love or infatuation? True love is under control of the will. As we are commanded to WILL to love God, so are we to WILL to love others. Love is an expression of the whole personality.

All persons who fall in love should not marry. Other questions must first be settled. Compatibility is one of these. This includes health, education, similarity of tastes, social accomplishment, and kinship. Religion is another. Eugenics is being studied as never before.
The day will surely come when no marriage will be performed between two persons who cannot produce a clean bill of health. Certain people should be prevented from marrying. Hereditary diseases are affecting larger numbers than ever.
There should be one standard of morals for man as well as for women. Religion is a necessary element in the choice of a life partner. For us one can live with another on such intimate terms as do husband and wife without being affected by the moral character, and religious views, of the other. The eternal destiny of the one may be in the keeping of the other. "Be-ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers," says Paul.
Believers and unbelievers live in two distinct spheres. Man needs as a life-companion one who will help him to serve God.
There are unhappy homes today because of mismatching, and lack of true religion. Irreligion in the home means moral disaster.

Therefore one should marry a Christian. One should marry in his as her own faith. Mixed marriages are not desired by the Roman Catholic Church, any more than they are by the Protestant churches. They are not recognized by the former church, although they are by the State.
When one is convinced that it is right to marry, has fallen in love, is satisfied as to the compatibility and spiritual character of the other, let there be no undue caution on the part of the one, or false modesty on the part of the other. But let them marry and the blessing of God will rest upon them.

List of Honors to Men Well Known Here

In a recent list of Canadians, who have had their name placed before the Secretary of State for valuable services during the war are the following: Major General Lessard, Capt. (Rev.) J. H. McDonald, ex-principal of Acadia Seminary, Major J. H.
Lyne-Evans of Chipman Corner, Lieut. H. Watkins, Lieut. L. de V. Chipman, etc.

Referring to the missing of aviator Farish Owen, of Annapolis, the Spectator says: He has been on the firing line with the aviation corps, and has been missing since Sunday, Feb.
18th, but was believed to a prisoner. There is strong evidence that his plane must have come down in the German lines and that he made a safe landing, but it may be a long time before any definite news is received. A letter was received from him by his parentt, dated Jan. 14th, stating that he and a comrade aviator has just captured an enemy aeroplane, bringing it down safely close beside their own aerodrome.

Don't hunt for trouble, but look for success;
You'll find what you look for don't look for distress
If you see but your shadow, remember I pray, That the sun is still shining; but you're in the way.
Don't grumble, don't bluster, don't dream and don't shirk, Don't think of your worries but think of your work.
The worries will vanish the work will be done;
No man sees his shadow who faces the sun.
