The recent increase in freight rate amounts to about ten per cent. The increase has not yet taken effect on all kinds of freight, but it is expected to soon. The tate on coal, an important article of freight with manufacturers, especially, has not yet been advanced. At many stations along the line the increase on local freight amounts to more than sufficient to pay the entire cost of officials, etc., at the point of shipment. The increase is already causing much dissetisfaction in different localities but when it is put into effect with respect o be a much louder protest.-Times.
