

HAMILTON—THE ELECTRIC HUB OF CANADA—UNEQUALLED FACILITIES FOR MANUFACTURING

Advertising pays when it is placed in the Daily and Semi-Weekly Times. Hamilton's LEADING NEWSPAPER thoroughly covers the ground.

HELP WANTED—FEMALE. WANTED—A GENERAL SERVANT. References. Apply Mrs. Bingham, 243 Main street east.

WANTED—AN EXPERIENCED GENERAL servant; small family; no washing. Apply evenings to Mrs. Phelps, 75 Duke street.

WANTED—AN EXPERIENCED HOUSE-MAID. Apply to Mrs. Walker Macdonald, 88 Herkimer street.

WANTED—COOK AND DINING-ROOM GIRL. Apply City Hotel.

WANTED—GENERAL SERVANT FOR the Streets and kitchen girls for hotels out of city. Apply 38 Merrick.

WANTED—GIRL FOR GENERAL HOUSE- work, plain cooking. Apply 41 MacNab street north.

WANTED—DINING-ROOM GIRL. Apply Wallfort Hotel.

WANTED—AN OPERATOR ON VESTS. 183 Hunter street east.

SMART GIRL WANTED—PALACE hotel—highest wages—4 King west.

WANTED—GENERAL SERVANT FOR family of three; highest wages. Apply Mrs. W. J. Waters, 96 Grant avenue.

WANTED—HANDSEWERS AND AP- prentices on coats. Apply 55 John north.

WANTED—EXPERIENCED SALESMAN. Also experienced in the line of loan business. Apply at once. James Shea.

HELP WANTED—MALE. WANTED—YOUNG MAN AS STENO- grapher and typewriter, and as an assistant bookkeeper; with one or two years' experience; for manufacturing business; with prospects of advancement. Address box 77, Times.

YOUNG MAN WANTED AS PORTER. The Palace, 4 King street.

WANTED—BOY TO CARE HORSE. Apply 38 Gore street.

MAN TO DRIVE ICE WAGON. D. Dewey & Son.

WANTED—DRUG CLERK WITH EX- perience. Apply Case's Drug Store.

MISCELLANEOUS WANTS. WANTED—20 GALLONS OF MILK daily. Box 26, Times.

WANTED TO RENT OR PURCHASE—A house in the south-west part of the city; would give Toronto property in exchange. 34 St. Vincent, Toronto.

WANTED—SECOND-HAND ROW BOAT. State price. Box 24, Times office.

SEND YOUR WANT ADS TO THIS TIMES and you will get what you want.

LOST AND FOUND. LOST—BLACK MACINTOSH ON JAMES street south. Reward at 12 Market East.

LOST—WEDNESDAY EVENING. BE- tween 7 and 10 o'clock, one bay horse and one bay mare. For information write to Wm. Webb, East Hamilton, or telephone 231.

LOST—A POCKET BOOK CONTAINING A sum of money. Reward of $50 for its return to this office.

LOST—A CANARY FROM 14 JAMES ST. south. Return to above address.

LOST—NEAR EAST AVE. SOME cards numbered from 1 to 100 with names and addresses on. Finder please leave same at this office.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. FOR SALE—NEAR STONEY CREEK STA- tion, choice fruit farm; five acres of berries, double fruited with trees and hives, bearing heavy; good buildings; also plenty of good water. Apply to D. Jacobs, Stoney Creek.

IF YOU WANT TO SELL YOUR BEST ESTATE of any description, use the For Sale column of the Times.

FOR SALE—GOOD UPRIGHT PIANO. NO reasonable offer refused. 75 Gore street.

FOR SALE—A SET OF LARGE SIZE sliding doors. 212 Main street.

FOR SALE—GOOD MILK ROUTE; ALSO first-class dairy with mixed business; may be bought together or separate. Apply corner James and Pacey streets.

FOR SALE—LADY'S OR GENTS' BICY- cles; almost new; for cash or easy pay- ments; cheap. Apply box 25, Times.

FOR SALE—TOP-BUGGY, NEARLY NEW. 167 Wellington street north.

FOR SALE—CHEAP—NICE PONY CART. 26 Locke street.

FOR SALE—A GOOD GENTS' HYSLOP, which must be sold; in good condition. For particulars apply and see same at Times office.

FOR SALE—ONE CAR BAILED STRAW, one car baled hay and one car white oats. Magnolia, 15 King west. Telephone No. 4.

IF YOU WANT TO SELL YOUR BEST ESTATE or any article, use the For Sale column of the Times.

FOR SALE—TO LET, BOARDING AND ROOMS in the city; had at the Times office. Paper for 5 cents, card 5 cents a piece. Latest designs.

TO LET—FURNISHED HOUSE IN BUR- lington. Apply box 27, Times.

TO LET—HALF OF BEACH COTTAGE; best locality; very convenient. Telephone Address Box 25, Times Office.

TO LET—222 MACNAB NORTH—ALL CON- veniences; four bedrooms. Apply four doors east.

TO LET—STORE, NO. 29 KING WILLIAM street. Rent low; good tenant. Apply Times Office.

MISCELLANEOUS. D. M. BINKLEY, DENTIST. ARTIFICIAL teeth $5. Best teeth made (plat. white or ash). Others charge $3 to $10. Temporary ill-fitting plates reset $1. Gold crowns $5. Office—175 King street east, Hamilton.

Notices of Births, Marriages and Deaths which are inserted in the Daily Times also appear in the Semi-Weekly Times. 50c first insertion. 25c for each subsequent insertion.

BIRTHS. DYNES.—At 21 Emerald street north, on the 28th inst. the wife of Mr. Ernest Dynes of a son.

DEATHS. FERGUSON.—Suddenly, at his late residence, 76 Wellington street north, on June 28th, 1900, Thomas Ferguson, shoemaker. Funeral from above address, on Sunday, July 1st, at 10 o'clock. Friends best acquaintances please accept this intimation.

GRACE.—At the residence of Henry Bennett, 82 Victoria avenue north, on the 28th instant, Hugh Hyndman Grace, aged 21 years 9 months.

Funeral from the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Grace, 123 Robert street, Toronto, at 2:30 p. m., Monday, the 2nd July. Friends will please accept this intimation.

WALSH.—Stephen Walsh, on June 28th, in the 21st year of his age, at the residence of his parents, 222 Mary street, Saturday at 8:30 a. m., to St. Mary's Cathedral, thence to Holy Sepulchre Cemetery and interment in the family vault. Friends and acquaintances will please accept this intimation.

BANKING. THE Traders Bank of Canada. INCORPORATED BY ACT OF PARLIAMENT. Capital, Fully Paid Up, $1,000,000. Total Assets Over $5,500,000.

Deposits of $1 and upwards received and General Banking business transacted.

Office Hours: Daily, 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Saturday, 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. Also Saturday Evening, 7 to 9. STUART STRATHY, Manager.

USED IN MORE HOMES AND GIVES BETTER SATISFACTION THAN ANY TEA ON THE CONTINENT.

SALADA CEYLON TEA. Japan Tea drinkers, try "SALADA" Green Tea.

Black, Mixed or Green Tea. 25c, 30c, 40c, 50c, 60c. CHAS. SUTHERLAND & CO., Wholesale Agents, 34 Merrick street.

SIMPLE AND CHEAP. A simple way to relieve and cure tender feet—shake a little British Army Foot Powder into your stockings. A soothing and healing powder that cures and prevents blistering and chafing feet.

It is a cheap remedy, a liberal sized can for 25c, and if it fails we refund your money.

PARKE & PARKE, Reliable Druggists, 16 Market Square, Hamilton.

RESTAURANTS. WARDS NOTED HOT MEALS, BEDS 10c, 15c and 20c. 6 York.

PATENTS. Trade Marks, Designs, Copyrights, J. H. Hendry, chartered general solicitor, corner James and Bebecca streets. Established 1882.

BURIED AT THE CROSSROADS. Speculation as to the Origin of Inter- rring a Suicide's Remains.

It has been suggested that suicides were buried at crossroads because it was usual to erect a cross at such places. Those who were excluded from holy rites were buried there as the price next in sanctity to consecrated ground. It was an old superstition that the devil danced at crossroads and that the erection of a cross there would prevent such unseemly practices. From this or some other such superstition arose the fear that his ghost might walk the earth, arose the custom of driving a stake through the suicide's body. These plausible theories have gained many advocates, but it is more likely that burial at crossroads was intended as a mark of indignity.

The temples, or rather altars, of the heathen deities were mostly at the junction of crossroads, and criminals were sacrificed to the gods; hence suicides were buried at the crossroads to give as strong an impression as possible of heathen burial. Probably, too, the publicity of such a spot, which insured the fact that a great number of people would become directly aware of the degrading conse- quences of the crime, had a good deal to do with its selection. A curious connection in this connection is to be found in Plato's Laws (book ix, chapter 12). The murderer of any of his near kin, after being put to death, was to be buried in a hole, dug in an appointed place where three roads meet, and let all the Magistrates, in half of the whole State, carry each a stone and hurl it at the head of the dead body. —Chinmali Enquirer.

A Literary Help. Canibal King (to poet laureate)—What's wrong with that coronation ode? Can't you finish it? Laureate—I can't get enough feet in the last stanza.

The temples, or rather altars, of the heathen deities were mostly at the junction of crossroads, and criminals were sacrificed to the gods; hence suicides were buried at the crossroads to give as strong an impression as possible of heathen burial. Probably, too, the publicity of such a spot, which insured the fact that a great number of people would become directly aware of the degrading conse- quences of the crime, had a good deal to do with its selection. A curious connection in this connection is to be found in Plato's Laws (book ix, chapter 12). The murderer of any of his near kin, after being put to death, was to be buried in a hole, dug in an appointed place where three roads meet, and let all the Magistrates, in half of the whole State, carry each a stone and hurl it at the head of the dead body. —Chinmali Enquirer.

A Literary Help. Canibal King (to poet laureate)—What's wrong with that coronation ode? Can't you finish it? Laureate—I can't get enough feet in the last stanza.

The temples, or rather altars, of the heathen deities were mostly at the junction of crossroads, and criminals were sacrificed to the gods; hence suicides were buried at the crossroads to give as strong an impression as possible of heathen burial. Probably, too, the publicity of such a spot, which insured the fact that a great number of people would become directly aware of the degrading conse- quences of the crime, had a good deal to do with its selection. A curious connection in this connection is to be found in Plato's Laws (book ix, chapter 12). The murderer of any of his near kin, after being put to death, was to be buried in a hole, dug in an appointed place where three roads meet, and let all the Magistrates, in half of the whole State, carry each a stone and hurl it at the head of the dead body. —Chinmali Enquirer.

A Literary Help. Canibal King (to poet laureate)—What's wrong with that coronation ode? Can't you finish it? Laureate—I can't get enough feet in the last stanza.

The temples, or rather altars, of the heathen deities were mostly at the junction of crossroads, and criminals were sacrificed to the gods; hence suicides were buried at the crossroads to give as strong an impression as possible of heathen burial. Probably, too, the publicity of such a spot, which insured the fact that a great number of people would become directly aware of the degrading conse- quences of the crime, had a good deal to do with its selection. A curious connection in this connection is to be found in Plato's Laws (book ix, chapter 12). The murderer of any of his near kin, after being put to death, was to be buried in a hole, dug in an appointed place where three roads meet, and let all the Magistrates, in half of the whole State, carry each a stone and hurl it at the head of the dead body. —Chinmali Enquirer.

A Literary Help. Canibal King (to poet laureate)—What's wrong with that coronation ode? Can't you finish it? Laureate—I can't get enough feet in the last stanza.

The temples, or rather altars, of the heathen deities were mostly at the junction of crossroads, and criminals were sacrificed to the gods; hence suicides were buried at the crossroads to give as strong an impression as possible of heathen burial. Probably, too, the publicity of such a spot, which insured the fact that a great number of people would become directly aware of the degrading conse- quences of the crime, had a good deal to do with its selection. A curious connection in this connection is to be found in Plato's Laws (book ix, chapter 12). The murderer of any of his near kin, after being put to death, was to be buried in a hole, dug in an appointed place where three roads meet, and let all the Magistrates, in half of the whole State, carry each a stone and hurl it at the head of the dead body. —Chinmali Enquirer.

A Literary Help. Canibal King (to poet laureate)—What's wrong with that coronation ode? Can't you finish it? Laureate—I can't get enough feet in the last stanza.

The temples, or rather altars, of the heathen deities were mostly at the junction of crossroads, and criminals were sacrificed to the gods; hence suicides were buried at the crossroads to give as strong an impression as possible of heathen burial. Probably, too, the publicity of such a spot, which insured the fact that a great number of people would become directly aware of the degrading conse- quences of the crime, had a good deal to do with its selection. A curious connection in this connection is to be found in Plato's Laws (book ix, chapter 12). The murderer of any of his near kin, after being put to death, was to be buried in a hole, dug in an appointed place where three roads meet, and let all the Magistrates, in half of the whole State, carry each a stone and hurl it at the head of the dead body. —Chinmali Enquirer.

A Literary Help. Canibal King (to poet laureate)—What's wrong with that coronation ode? Can't you finish it? Laureate—I can't get enough feet in the last stanza.

The temples, or rather altars, of the heathen deities were mostly at the junction of crossroads, and criminals were sacrificed to the gods; hence suicides were buried at the crossroads to give as strong an impression as possible of heathen burial. Probably, too, the publicity of such a spot, which insured the fact that a great number of people would become directly aware of the degrading conse- quences of the crime, had a good deal to do with its selection. A curious connection in this connection is to be found in Plato's Laws (book ix, chapter 12). The murderer of any of his near kin, after being put to death, was to be buried in a hole, dug in an appointed place where three roads meet, and let all the Magistrates, in half of the whole State, carry each a stone and hurl it at the head of the dead body. —Chinmali Enquirer.

A Literary Help. Canibal King (to poet laureate)—What's wrong with that coronation ode? Can't you finish it? Laureate—I can't get enough feet in the last stanza.

The temples, or rather altars, of the heathen deities were mostly at the junction of crossroads, and criminals were sacrificed to the gods; hence suicides were buried at the crossroads to give as strong an impression as possible of heathen burial. Probably, too, the publicity of such a spot, which insured the fact that a great number of people would become directly aware of the degrading conse- quences of the crime, had a good deal to do with its selection. A curious connection in this connection is to be found in Plato's Laws (book ix, chapter 12). The murderer of any of his near kin, after being put to death, was to be buried in a hole, dug in an appointed place where three roads meet, and let all the Magistrates, in half of the whole State, carry each a stone and hurl it at the head of the dead body. —Chinmali Enquirer.

A Literary Help. Canibal King (to poet laureate)—What's wrong with that coronation ode? Can't you finish it? Laureate—I can't get enough feet in the last stanza.

The temples, or rather altars, of the heathen deities were mostly at the junction of crossroads, and criminals were sacrificed to the gods; hence suicides were buried at the crossroads to give as strong an impression as possible of heathen burial. Probably, too, the publicity of such a spot, which insured the fact that a great number of people would become directly aware of the degrading conse- quences of the crime, had a good deal to do with its selection. A curious connection in this connection is to be found in Plato's Laws (book ix, chapter 12). The murderer of any of his near kin, after being put to death, was to be buried in a hole, dug in an appointed place where three roads meet, and let all the Magistrates, in half of the whole State, carry each a stone and hurl it at the head of the dead body. —Chinmali Enquirer.

A Literary Help. Canibal King (to poet laureate)—What's wrong with that coronation ode? Can't you finish it? Laureate—I can't get enough feet in the last stanza.

The temples, or rather altars, of the heathen deities were mostly at the junction of crossroads, and criminals were sacrificed to the gods; hence suicides were buried at the crossroads to give as strong an impression as possible of heathen burial. Probably, too, the publicity of such a spot, which insured the fact that a great number of people would become directly aware of the degrading conse- quences of the crime, had a good deal to do with its selection. A curious connection in this connection is to be found in Plato's Laws (book ix, chapter 12). The murderer of any of his near kin, after being put to death, was to be buried in a hole, dug in an appointed place where three roads meet, and let all the Magistrates, in half of the whole State, carry each a stone and hurl it at the head of the dead body. —Chinmali Enquirer.

A Literary Help. Canibal King (to poet laureate)—What's wrong with that coronation ode? Can't you finish it? Laureate—I can't get enough feet in the last stanza.

The temples, or rather altars, of the heathen deities were mostly at the junction of crossroads, and criminals were sacrificed to the gods; hence suicides were buried at the crossroads to give as strong an impression as possible of heathen burial. Probably, too, the publicity of such a spot, which insured the fact that a great number of people would become directly aware of the degrading conse- quences of the crime, had a good deal to do with its selection. A curious connection in this connection is to be found in Plato's Laws (book ix, chapter 12). The murderer of any of his near kin, after being put to death, was to be buried in a hole, dug in an appointed place where three roads meet, and let all the Magistrates, in half of the whole State, carry each a stone and hurl it at the head of the dead body. —Chinmali Enquirer.

A Literary Help. Canibal King (to poet laureate)—What's wrong with that coronation ode? Can't you finish it? Laureate—I can't get enough feet in the last stanza.

The temples, or rather altars, of the heathen deities were mostly at the junction of crossroads, and criminals were sacrificed to the gods; hence suicides were buried at the crossroads to give as strong an impression as possible of heathen burial. Probably, too, the publicity of such a spot, which insured the fact that a great number of people would become directly aware of the degrading conse- quences of the crime, had a good deal to do with its selection. A curious connection in this connection is to be found in Plato's Laws (book ix, chapter 12). The murderer of any of his near kin, after being put to death, was to be buried in a hole, dug in an appointed place where three roads meet, and let all the Magistrates, in half of the whole State, carry each a stone and hurl it at the head of the dead body. —Chinmali Enquirer.

A Literary Help. Canibal King (to poet laureate)—What's wrong with that coronation ode? Can't you finish it? Laureate—I can't get enough feet in the last stanza.

LI HUNG CHANG CHOPPING OFF HEADS.

Ministers and Pekin Party Have Not Reached Tien Tsin.

ADMIRAL KEMPF'S DESPATCH

Says 200 Sick and Wounded Have Arrived—Canton Wants to Keep Li Hung Chang—Offers of Millions to Organize Guards—U. S. Ordering Guns—Grumbling at Kempf—Admiral Remy at Hong Kong—Canton Mob Threatening to Assassinate Viceroy Li Who is Vigorously Putting Down Disorder.

Berlin, June 29.—Since the receipt of Admiral Bendoricich's despatch announcing the arrival of the legation of the Viceroy Li Hung Chang at Seymour, the Foreign Office has received no further information either way. While admitting the possibility that Admiral Bendoricich was mistaken, the Foreign Office assumes the correctness of his despatch until the contrary is proved. It admits, however, that it is assumed that the other powers have not received news similar to that cabled by Admiral Bendoricich.

CHOPPING OFF HEADS.

Execution of Criminals a Daily Affair in Canton.

New York, June 29.—A despatch to the Herald from Canton says: While the general situation here is unchanged, an uneasy feeling prevails. An Imperial mandate from Pekin directs Viceroy Li Hung Chang to remain in Canton for the present. An uprising is feared in case of his departure. The numerous daily criminal executions by order of the Viceroy show his realization of the serious situation of affairs and his firm intention to prevent trouble. He is threatened by the mob with assassination if he should leave the city.

Hung Chang Popular.

Well-to-do residents have offered Li Hung Chang five million taels ($3,500,000) for the purpose of organizing municipal guards in the city. The Viceroy appreciates the confidence of the powers, and promises to do his utmost to maintain order. The majority of the foreign women and Chinese have left for Hong Kong or Macao. The British consuls and the United States gunboat Don Juan de Austria are in the harbor. The French gunboat Comet is expected.

Where is Pekin Party?

Washington, June 29.—The Navy Department received the following cablegram from Admiral Kempf: "Chicago, June 29.—The British consul, Viceroy Li Hung Chang, is in Tien Tsin, with 200 sick and wounded. Ministers and Pekin party not with them. No news from them. (Signed) Kempf."

Guns for China.

Bethlehem, June 29.—The Govern- ment has placed an order with the Bethlehem Steel Company for guns, including, it is said, seven 10-inch and four 12-inch breech-loading rifles, and fourteen 12-inch breech-loading mortars and other smaller guns, for immediate despatch to the Orient.

To Relieve Kempf.

New York, June 29.—A special to the Tribune from London says: Admiral Remy is expected to relieve Admiral Kempf next Sunday and send him to Nagasaki or the Philippines. Official disaffection over the Admiral Kempf's conduct was displayed frankly by all the authorities here. The necessity for Admiral Kempf's speedy detachment, it is said at the Navy Department, has been appar- ent ever since it was learned that the Flag Captain McCalla had gone to the front with Vice-Admiral Seymour's column, for it was well known to official circles that McCalla's constant advice, the United States senior naval officer could not be depended upon to meet the grave emergencies in the case of the other admirals in the Gulf. Kempf has always been regarded as one of the finest sailors in this vicinity, and as good a fighter as ever commanded a ship, but he was never proficient in diplomatic matters, and was declared to be unsuited to represent the United States at a great gathering of the naval powers. The failure to partici- pate with the other admirals in the taking of the Taku forts will require a clear explanation from Admiral Kempf as soon as the present crisis permits of a court of enquiry.

Not a Good Correspondent.

Not one of the despatches sent by the admiral in the last two weeks is clear in essentials. Superfluous words are common, and in several instances signal words have been omitted which would have been of great value to the Government. Last Sunday Admiral Remy was ordered to go to Nagasaki and coal the Brooklyn and be ready to relieve Kempf. Monday he was ordered to proceed immediately to Taku and assume command at once. The Brooklyn left Manila on Tuesday and will reach Taku Sunday, and from that day the authorities will breathe easier.

News of the French Consul.

Paris, June 29.—The Minister of Foreign Affairs, M. Delcasse, informed the cabinet council to-day that the Viceroy of Yunnan had telegraphed that M. Francois, the French Consul, and his party, who left Yunnan on June 24th, had reached Hong-Hai half way to Toumou on June 27th. The Viceroy, it was further announced, had caused the ring- leader of the mob which attacked the French party, to be beheaded.

The French Government.

M. Delcasse further said, was in receipt of a cable despatch saying the Viceroys of Nankin and Han Kow guaranteed the safety of foreigners in the central and southern provinces, where order it is asserted, has thus far been un- disturbed.

Still Fighting at Tien Tsin.

Berlin, June 29.—The German Con- sul at Che Foo telegraphs under date of June 28th that nothing is known concerning the foreign Ministers. (He adds that the railroad between Taku and Tien-Tsin was still threat- ened, and that the bombardment of Tien-Tsin in west side continues, though the Chinese shells explode badly. It was also said three resi- dents had been killed or wounded.)

MONDAY MORNING SESSIONS.

Foster's Buncombe Reference to Stories of Tarte.

Ottawa, June 29.—(Special)—In the House this morning it was decided to take up the emergency rations question on Monday evening next. Sir Wilfrid Laurier moved that the House sit to-morrow. This was carried.

Mr. Britton, Mr. Craig and Mr. Henderson objected to the House sitting on Monday.

Mr. Ellis suggested that speeches in the House should be limited to 10 minutes, as there was evidently three weeks ahead.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that he would have to stand by the precedent first set by Sir John Macdonald and afterwards by Sir John Thompson, and therefore sit on Monday.

Mr. Foster called the attention of the Premier to an article in a Montreal Liberal newspaper regarding statements attributed to Mr. Tarte in France. He said that Mr. Tarte was the representative of all Canada and not a section of it.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier pointed out that he had already told the House that Mr. Tarte had complained to him of being misrepresented in the press, therefore it would be better to wait until something definite was obtained. Public men could scarcely be held responsible for all that was said about them in the press. Mr. Tarte was a loyal British subject. This was shown in the message which he and other French-Canadian British subjects sent on the 24th to Her Majesty the Queen. (Cheers.) Mr. Tarte was proud of his origin. Who could blame him? He (Laurier) did not know what Tarte meant. He did say that the French in Canada were more French this year than last. French Cana- dians were as much French last year as this year, and as much this year as last year. That was Tarte's alleged statement that French-Canadians were to become so numerous soon surely the acting leader of the Oyo- sition would not object to French-Canadians becoming more numerous. That was a laudable ambition. French-Canadians, while loyal to their origin, were also loyal to the British Crown. The House then went into Supply on Post-office Department estimates.

NEARING END OF THE WAR.

Attempt to Blow Up Barracks and Magazine.

Pittsburg, June 29.—One fireman was killed and several others injured and nearly $100,000 worth of property was destroyed in a fire that broke out in the machine shop of the Westinghouse Company here shortly after 6 o'clock. The fire started in No. 15 Engine Company, was killed by falling walls. The firemen were standing on a fire escape on the side of the building. They had two streams of water kept on the fire, and suddenly the walls began to topple, and in spite of the shouts of warning given, the men were caught and thrown to the ground by the masses of brick and lumber.

CRUGER IS AFRAID TO MOVE.

London, June 29.—Outside of minor conflicts in the Orange River Colony, showing continued Boer activity in the Senekal district, the telegrams from South Africa merely indicate preparations for, it is hoped, the final operations of the tediously prolonged war.

A Cape Town despatch reports an attempt by the Boers to blow up the artillery barracks and magazine at Pretoria. It is added that an ar- tilleryman who frantically threw a bomb by withdrawing a lighted fuse was killed by a Boer, whom the soldiers afterwards attempted to lynch.

FRYING PAN TO FIRE.

Toronto, June 29.—The Court of Appeal this morning gave judgment in the case of the first trial of the Queen against Murdoch. The latter was convicted of selling liquor on the Brantford Indian reserve, and sentenced to three months imprisonment. He appealed to the Court of Appeal, and Mr. Justice Street, before whom the appeal came, decided that the punishment did not fit the crime, and increased the sentence to nine months.

Appealed Against Six Months' Sentence and Got Nine.

Murdoch appealed to the Court of Appeal, and this morning that court increased the sentence to nine months. Murdoch appealed to the Court of Appeal, and this morning that court increased the sentence to nine months.

Died Suddenly.

Windsor, Ont., June 28.—Word was received this morning of the sudden death at Chicago of Mrs. Horne, wife of Judge Horne, of Windsor, and a sister of the wife of Hon. C. Patterson, Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba. Mrs. Horne had been troubled for some time with an affection of the heart, and was seized with sudden and severe attack, passing away at 6 o'clock this morning. The judge left for Chicago this morning.

Famous All Over the Country.

Carpenter's high grade teas are quoted as the best anywhere you go. It goes all over. Nice order yesterday for our 25c black from Elora, thick creamery flavor. Pure Ceylon tea, 25c and 40c a lb. Elmer the best at the price, that we know of. See us about them. Carpenter's, 10 Market Square.

Honors for Col. Grouard.

Ottawa, June 28.—It is rumored that Lieut.-Col. Grouard, who is manipulating railways in South Africa for Lord Kitchener, as he did in the Sudan, will be made a K. C. M. G. on July 1.

Ad. Lore.

Why couldn't grass widows write good law-movers? Is that anywhere you go. It goes all over. Nice order yesterday for our 25c black from Elora, thick creamery flavor. Pure Ceylon tea, 25c and 40c a lb. Elmer the best at the price, that we know of. See us about them. Carpenter's, 10 Market Square.

Acting for James Lewis.

Acting for James Lewis, of Toron- to, W. M. McClelland has entered suit against Grace Hospital, Toronto, for $3,000 damages for injuries done his nine-month-old child. The suit is in the name of Lewis claiming that