LONDON, July 31.
The House of Commons passed a resolution of sympathy on the death of the Emperor of Japan. Premier Asquith described the reign of the late Emperor as "one of the most memorable in modern history. There was no other ruler," he declared, "within whose reign such vast progress had been made."

LONDON, July 31.
Harold Spender, writing editorially in the "Daily News-Leader" on the subject of Cabinet control of foreign affairs in connection with the overseas dominion, points out how peace or war was practically in the hands of the cabinet, although it is even possible that war might be declared by the Prime Minister alone.

"Therefore," argues Spender, "if the dominions were given statutory voice they would actually possess more powers than the House of Commons."
The article proceeds to speak of the remarkable change in the attitude of the British Government and then says: "If Canada is to have a voice it is certain that other dominions must also have a similar concession and a council will have to be formed on all important questions of foreign policy, and if there is any reality in the plan of the British Cabinet, it will be impaired to that extent that a blow will be struck at the British Parliament from which the Cabinet is drawn. Would this fundamental change in the Government make for Peace or War? Restraints on war arise chiefly from a fear of the consequences of war, but the dominions are so far removed from the probable centre of any European war that they would be far less liable to the restraint."
"It is perfect natural," continued Spender, "that Britain should rejoice at the willingness of the Dominions to help her both in defence and offence, but it was a dream of the earlier school that the British Empire should be a league of peace."

WASHINGTON, July 31.
The Senate Foreign Affairs Committee to-day agreed to recommend the ratification of the treaty signed on July 20 by the United States and Great Britain, promulgating the fishery regulations in Newfoundland waters.
The treaty carries out, with some modifications, the methods and procedure recommended by the Hague Tribunal on September 7th, 1910. It provides that all future laws or rules for the regulation of the fisheries by Britain, Canada or Newfoundland, such as those which relate to the time and methods of taking fish, shall be promulgated and come into operation within the first fifteen days of November in each year. After a year intervenes, a change in date may be made the subject of negotiation, and if necessary, of submission to a committee.

After the promulgation of new rules, the United States is given forty-five days in which to object, and the objection may be submitted to a permanent mixed fishery committee. This committee is to consist of three members appointed for five years, one of whom shall be an expert from Great Britain, and one from the United States respectively.
The recommendations of the Hague Tribunal regarding the determination of the limits of bays enumerated in the award, was adopted so far as they related to bays contiguous to the territory of the Dominion of Canada. It was expressly asserted that the two nations understood the award did not cover Hudson Bay; and it was further agreed that the delineations of the bays on the Newfoundland coast, whether mentioned in the recommendations or not, did not require present consideration.

Yesterday's Garden Party.

Under favourable auspices the annual Mount Cashel Garden Party was run off yesterday afternoon and provided another unqualified success. The grounds were profusely decorated and well sprinkled with tea tables, stalls, etc., and those in charge of them did a brisk business, finding ready sale for their stock.

A feature of yesterday's event was the new Slattery Wing which was formally opened to the public. Hundreds of people whose privilege it was to be escorted through the new building by the courteous Christian Brothers spoke in flattering terms of it, and that the new wing which is a fitting memorial to the late Brother Slattery was not inferior to any such institution in the Lower Provinces.

The sporting part of the programme was in the hands of Messrs. Higgins and Ellis and everything went off without a hitch. The first event was the six mile Marathon race which was won in fine style by J. Bell, with W. Duff a good second. Next came the football five in which the Stars won out and were presented with gold medals. The last event looked forward to for a long while was the Inter-Brigade Relay Race for the H. D. Reid Cup. The C. C. C. teams won and are now the absolute owners of the trophy as they have won it three years in succession.

A new departure was the American Baseball contest between the Imperial Tobacco Co. and the Bank of Montreal. The former won. The game was in itself a special attraction of the afternoon's sport and is being grasped tightly by our sporting people.

The proceeds exceeded all expectations and are the best on record.

Stokers on Bruce

ASK FOR MORE PAY.
Yesterday Delegate Woods, of the Firemen's Union, was notified by the Superintendent Engineer of the Reid Company that the firemen and trimmers on the S. S. Bruce were giving trouble. The men in the stokehold gave notice that they were going to look for $35.00 a month—an increase of $5.00—and intimating their intention of hanging up the ship if their demands were not acceded to. The stokers' delegate sent a telegram yesterday to the men denouncing the stand they were taking, which was a breach of the rules of the Union, and impressed upon them not to strike, as such a course at this particular season was inadvisable. The Delegate further indicated that if they did not comply with his instruction a batch of Union stokers would be sent forward from St. John's to join the Bruce.

Lost Control of His Temper

Once there was a man whose liver was not working right. When dressing in the morning he had trouble with his collar. Then he lost the collar button. Then he said something.
By the time he got to breakfast he was so irritated that he had no appetite and quarrelled with his wife. He went to the office with a headache and when he had some important business to transact he bungled it.
When you find yourself easily irritated and lose control of yourself, and your temper, look to the condition of the liver, and take one of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills at bedtime.
The dark-brown taste will not bother you in the mornings, the tongue will clear up, digestion will improve and you will not have the tired, worn-out feelings which accompany a sluggish condition of the liver. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, 25c a box, at all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

LONDON, July 31.
Winston Churchill will decide in a day or two regarding his visit to Canada during the parliamentary vacation. In the event of satisfactory arrangements being made, the First Lord would leave during the first week in August.

The Daily Mail states it is understood that Premier Asquith and Churchill will visit Canada after Borden has returned home. In the event that the journey was made in one of British Dreadnoughts, the visit might be made the occasion for an imperial demonstration, declared the Mail, and Quebec, out of compliment to the French Canadians, would be an ideal place for landing. Any reserve that may have been felt by any section of the French Canadians ought to be removed by the speeches which have welcomed Borden and his colleagues in France. France will be the first to encourage them in any decision that will strengthen the naval power of Britain, for upon that power and upon the army of France rest the foundations of an understanding which is the assurance of peace, declares that er.

WASHINGTON, July 31.
That the Monroe doctrine forbids the United States to permit any foreign nation to acquire a Naval base at Magdalena Bay or at other similarly situated points on the American continent is understood to be the substance of a report to be made by Senator Lodge to the Senate Committee on foreign relations.
It is understood the report will be a strong reaffirmation of the Monroe doctrine. President Taft, at the time the Magdalena Bay resolution was made public, stated no evidence was to be found that the Japanese Government itself was behind the corporation endeavoring to secure land as a naval base.

Here and There.

TOKIO, July 31.
The "Era of Traiser"—Great Righteousness—has commenced, the "Era of Meiji—Intelligent Administration"—having closed with the accession of Yoshitito.
The death of the Emperor, while causing widespread grief, had small effect on the normal condition here. There has been a remarkable absence of demonstrations of any kind, and aside from the closed banks and commercial houses, the crepe bound flags at every entrance and the evident signs of mourning by foreigners and natives alike, the nation is moving along with its accustomed business.
The Emperor Yoshitito is occupied with business of State and has appointed the chief official of his household. It is understood no special session of parliament will convene.

LADY COLLAPSES.

DISORDERLY ON SHIP.

One of the crew of the surveying ship Ellinor, who had taken too much drink became very disorderly on board yesterday and the commander had to telephone the Western Station for the police. Const. Kelly and Bussey responded and after a stiff fight overcame the man, handcuffed him and took him to the station.

LARGELY ATTENDED FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late Thos. Howlett of Petty Hr. took place to-day. Quite a number of friends of the deceased in the city attended. The remains were enclosed in a handsome casket, Mr. J. Murphy was undertaker, and interment was in the R. C. Cemetery. Fr. Tierney, P. P. Petty Hr., officiated in the church and gave the final absolution.

The Great American Dessert

BY H. L. RANN.

Pie is a three-cornered slab of robust dessert, and when eaten in large quantities produces a feeling of satisfaction akin to pain.
This is particularly true of green apple pie, a deadly concoction which leaps upon the small boy with the utmost ferocity and causes him to writ in the despairing accents of the cholera infantum.
Pie is served in triangular form for the accommodation of people who believe that fingers were made before forks, or who prefer to attack it with a knife.

Some people have a strong aversion to pie in any form, and can seldom be induced to quench their thirst with it. Others will sit down at the breakfast table and subdue a large cream pie without exhibiting any remorse or other serious consequences whatever.
Since the canned prune has taken the place of the succulent dried apple, the old-fashioned pie which would melt in your mouth if you waited long enough has become simply a heart burning memory. Pies used to be made by mother out of butter crust and real fruit, and were adorned with ornamental fluting and hand-tooled monograms on the upper lid. The modern pie springs from the lard pail and the withered apricot, and is made in various stock patterns, ranging from the imitation quince to the counterfeit huckleberry. The crust of one of these pies can be bent back like the top of a sardine can without affecting its hardy and intrepid nature in the slightest.

The most melancholy figure in the whole realm of culinary art is the dejected mince pie, which is served with great abandon at Christmas time. Three or four of these pies, eaten in waltz time, will cause a man to dream of everything except paying his debts.
Another delerency is the black raspberry pie, which abounds in elusive seeds and clothes the teeth in dark funeral garb.
All of the most durable pie-eating contests have been made with the use of the cafeteria pie, which is rolled thinner than a lean man in a subway crusher.
