It is in many respects peculiar and the legislature. At three o'clock this afternoon, His Excellency the Governor formally opened the Legislature. Weather conditions were ideal and helped to make the scene outside the House a brilliant and impressive one. Guards of honor consisting of detachments from the Regiment, Naval Reserve and Police lined the approach to the steps. Following are the speeches of the Governor to both Houses. The Address in Reply was moved in the last session remains to be seen.

It is to be hoped that this diminution in its members will not cause the House to give its attention any the less seriously to the matters that must occupy it.

The most important feature of the Daily News this morning. We are not favoured with au inside view of political workings, but we knew that the Government contemplated offering to share its responsibilities for this once, and possibly until the end of the war, with the Opposition. CAPT DARIUS BLANDFORD.

We record to-day the passing of a well known figure in the person of Capt. Darius Blandford, whose death occurred at Greenspond late last night. The deceased was taken seri-ously ill a short while ago while performing his duties as commander of the S. S. Dundee, and on reaching Greenspond, the place of his birth, he was taken to the home of his son, Capt. Darius Blandford, Jr., but despite the best medical attendance available he passed away at the time men-tioned. The late Captain Bland-ford was 70 years of age and was a brother of the late Hon.
