The men were all on the other bank at the time.

Grace Church vestry, Brantford, has decided to recommend free pews.

WATERLOO.

Wm. Lough, of the firm of Moody, Lough & Co., Ridgetown, was placed under arrest at St. Thomas on Saturday. He was bailed to appear for examination on Thursday next. It is alleged in the information that Lough, who acted as manager for the firm, diverted the business capital to his own private use. Eleven months ago Mr. Lough purchased a half interest in the business. The agreement was that he act as manager and run the business subject to the approval of the senior partner. About three months ago Mr. Moody applied to the High Court of Justice for a receiver, which was granted. The motion was strenuously opposed by Mr. Lough, who has appealed.

NOT TO BE BOUGHT!

Failure of the Combine's Effort to Absorb the Farmers' Binder Twine Company at Brantford. (Brantford Expositor, April 3.)

A second desperate struggle was made last Saturday by a so-called Boston syndicate to buy or lease the works of the Farmers' Binder Twine and Agricultural Implement Manufacturing Company at Brantford, guaranteeing on the lease proposition 7 per cent. interest to all existing stockholders, with other liberal inducements, threatening, if they did not comply, to put twine on the Canadian market at from 8 to 9 cents a pound to the consumer. The act could not, however, be accomplished. The syndicate men at the head went off, the bullet striking Haun in the stomach. He is not expected to recover.

SHE SAVED THE BOY.

Miss Gorman Held the Belt Till a Man Came and Cut It.

PATERSON, April 3.—Miss Mary Gorman, a young girl employed at the Strang silk mill, saved the life of Jacob Smith, a bobbin boy.

The lad's waistcoat caught in the huge belt and he was drawn up about two feet, when Miss Gorman saw him. She ran towards the boy and caught the revolving belt with both hands. Her strength was about to give out, when one of the men employed, attracted by her screams, ran to the pulley and cut off the belt.

Miss Gorman fainted as soon as she saw the lad's life was saved.

There is a striking difference between a pleasing confession of one's own sins and a cross-examination by some one who knows what they are.
