The letter came to one of her neighbors, Mrs. Mary Ellis. It says in part:
"I have studied the teachings of Mr.

Dowle, and I believe that his religion is the only true one. I have been cured by his method of curing, and I have learned how to cure others."

The letter was written by Mrs. Nation while she was in Iowa, and it is said she is now en route to Chicago, and will join the Dowie colony. She has given up her work of purging Kansas of saloons through the hatchet method, but will preach to liquor sellers in the future as an agent of the new Zion. She says she will make Kansas her especial field.

BETTER CONDITIONS IN INDIA. A dispatch has been received here from the governor-general of India. Lord Curzon of Keddleston, saying that better conditions prevail in the famine districts of India than have been indicated by the recent press reports. There have been heavy rains in Assam, Burma and coast districts, useful showers have fallen in the Raiputana region and in Upper India, but more rain is needed in the Bombay presidency, the central provinces and the Berar territory. The number of persons who are now given relief amounts to 439,000, which is a decrease of 20,000. A further fall of rain would probably result in a large decrease in the number now being relieved. CRONJE TAKES THE OATH General Cronje, the Boer general, with his army was captured by Lord Roberts, at Paardeberg, Orange Free State, in February, 1900, has taken the oath of allegiance to King Edward. of the remaining prisoners at St. Helena, are following his ex-

ROYAL JUNKETING.

Arrangements have been completed for King Victor Emmanuel to visit the czar at St. Petersburg during the present month and for the king to visit Emperor William at Berlin in The announcement of King Victor's proposed visit is much commented upon, as, notwithstanding the fact that the dreibund has just been renewed, his majesty goes first to St. Petersburg. Emperor Francis Joseph's refusal to go to Rome because such a step would offend the pope is responsible for the omission of Vienna from the king's itinerary.

CHINESE REFUSE TO PAY. The Taota of Shanghai has notified the bankers' commission China refuses to pay the July installment of the indemnity except at the rate of exchange prevailing April 1, The foreign ministers consider that the Taotai's declaration is the result of the announcement of the United States minister, that the United States sustain China's contention, and is willing to accept payment on Hood's Sarsaparilla the basis mentioned. Some of the min-isters insist that the United States policy is unreasonable, and in direct opposition to the terms of the proto-Great Britain proposes to permit silver payment of the indemnity until 1910, on account of China's great loss, owing to the depreciation price of silver. The ministers of the other powers regard the proposal as being a further complication, and equivalent to an admission of China's

UNIQUE DEMONSTRATION AT THE G. T. R. CAR WORKS

A ceremony appropriate to the day, and unique in being a concerted patriotic demonstration undertaken by the employes of a single concern took place yesterday morning at the Grand Trunk car shops. The demonstration took the form of a flag-raising, the flag being a gift from the G. T. R. Library and Literary Association to the employes of the works. For weeks those engaged at the car shops had been making preparations for the event, which was originally set for Coronation Day. The King's illness resulted in the postponement of the flag-raising till Dominion Day, but outside of this change of date, no other alterations were made in the programme. At 10 o'clock, the hour at which the demonstration opened, the lawn at the west of the fire hall, where the 100foot flagpole had been erected, was crowded with spectators, to the number of several thousands, including hundreds of the car works employes, together with their wives, children and friends. The heartiness with which they took part in the singing and cheering showed that they were actuated by an enthusiasm born of loyalty. Every mention of King Edward's name was greeted with cheers. The sentiment of "God Save the King" was expressed in even the bright faces of the spectators. the spectators.

Among those on the large platform from which the speaking took place were Chairman Treleaven, Mayor Beck, Ald. Abram, Gerry, Cooper and Dreaney, Dr. English, Sir John Carling, Police Magistrate Love, Chief Roe, Rev. Messrs. Jackson, Owen, Hamilton and Culp, and Messrs. A. G. McWhinney, R. Blackwell, J. Overend, Thomas Todd, E. T. Essery, James Moses, Robert Curry, M. O'Sullivan, Arthur Allan, J. W. Fuller S. Wright, and Isaac

After the opening ode, "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow," was sung, and the prayer of invocation, delivered by Rev. C. C. Owen, Chairman Treleaven, master builder at the shops, arose to make the opening address. He said he was at a loss to express his pleasure at seeing so many present, to take part in the demonstration, whose object was twofold, being partly to show love and loyalty to the empire and the crown, and partly to show the citizens what good work was being done at the car shops. They were somewhat isolated out there, and the Union Jack would have its ever-cheering effect on all those near. Mr. Treleaven said he was sure the men would do

All the rocky barriers that form the channel and the Fingers were suswater, gathered there as the result of the flow of days from the Upper Yukon. The water spread far up the kill the stream and threatened to overflow the banks, and there is no telling what might have been the result had not the government blasted the keystone of ice from the lower portion and opened the gorge. Captain Jack Williams, of the White Pass Company, fired the charge which opened the jam. He was standing in front of the Fingers on a piece of ice when the telling shot was fired. With unexpected suddenness the great mass of blocked matter forced the situation, Williams was sent swirling down the stream before the cracking, maddening tumult of escaping waters and chaotic ice floes. Fortunately, he was swept to the base of one of the cliffs and there found a narrow niche in which to cling.

A FORTUNATE REFUGE. He seized the projecting wall and sprung to the niche and with his back turned to the bluff and facing the wild procession of the elements, he stood fear and trembling. For one hour he stood on that rock, and the grinding, crunching, plunging ice went past him in merciless roar. Williams' fellows had gone to the lower end of the rapids, expecting to see him on some ice floe far down the stream, or, perhaps, most likely, not to see him at all. Walter Wensky, German consul at Dawson, happened along at that time and with a strong field glass scanned the canyon. Wensky went up stream instead of down and soon located him in the niche. The roaring of the rushing ice and water through the rocky gorge made impossible for anyone heard in the vicinity of where Williams stood. It was all men could do to hear one another when they stood together. It was one wild, plunging race, of which Consul Wensky says: "Never in my life had I seen such spectacle of grandeur, such a magdemonstration of nature's nificent physical forces exerting their awful

A few seconds later he was dangling from the line and swinging in mid air as he desperately fought and climbed for life. The struggle did not last long. Muscular and active as he was, Williams soon scaled the cliff and was safe.

"The intensity of that grand escaping flood and jam thrills me yet. The ice was four hours passing through the gorge. Three Young People Drowned-Canoe Curious Story Told by Alaskan Indians Fatality at Galt.

Toronto, July 2.-The Dominion Day celebration in Toronto was marred by a sad fatality. Lizzie Edwards, aged 17, residing with her family in camp at Kew Beach, was drowned this afcompanions, J. H. Warrick and Miss Ina Rae. The three all stood up to change seats when the boat was a considerable distance from shore, and it Miss Rae was very badly exhausted

CANOE UPSET. Galt, Ont., July 2 .- A fatal accident yesterday at 2 o'clock, when James R. is no other than Noah's ark. Buck, aged 18, of this town, was drowned. Buck and a relative named Gamble, from Palmerston, rented a and when about one hundred yards north of the C. P. R. bridge the craft upset. The alarm was given by some young fellows in a rowboat, and Mr. Resenberg, an expert swimmer and diver, rushed to the rescue, and managed to save Gamble, single-handed, but Buck sank before he was reached Brockville, Ont., July 2.-The A. O.

U. W. held a picnic at St. Lawrence Park, a few miles up the river from gated on the wharf to take the boat for home after the celebration, and the old wharf collapsed under their weight, precipitating nearly everybody into the river. Fortunately, the water was not very deep, and everyone was rescued, but not much the worse for their ducking, except two ladies, who were injured by falling timbers, not, however, seriously. There were many children on the wharf at the time of the accident, and it is a wonder they were not drowned.

BODY FOUND. Ottawa, July 2.-The body of J. K. Thompson, who was drowned in the Gatineau River, near Ironsides, about ten days ago, has been recovered. It was found floating among a drive of logs by rivermen. Coronor Graham, of Hull, held an inquest, at which a verdict of accidental drowning was re-

PELEE STILL ACTIVE

Explorers Climb to Its Summit, Which Is Lower Than Before.

Fort de France, Martinique, via St. Lucia, July 2.-The new summit of Mont Pelee was reached for the first time on June 20 by Edmund C. Hovey, assistant curator of the American Museum of Natural History, New York, and George Carroll Curtis. A cairn was built on the top. The mountain has been lowered and old Lake Palmistes has been entirely destroyed. The highest point of the new crater rises 4,200 feet by the aneroid barometer. A large fragmental cone occupies the southwestern part. The crater is belching out incandescent boulders, ashes and mud by a deep, narrow lip into a ravine on the leeward side. The crater is in constant eruption. The ascents were rendered possible by a strong southeast wind, which carried the showers of ashes to the northward. A flerce rush of mud was witnessed in the eruption of the 24th. A gorge 60 feet deep was filled with mud to a depth of 15 feet in one hour.

to a Y. M. C. A. Young Man.

Tacoma, Wash., July 2.-W. A. Reid, secretary of the Skagway Y. M. C. A., has returned from the interior of Alaska, where he has talked with the ternoon through the capsizing of a Indians, whose earnest statements he rowboat in which she was with two believes, fully confirms previous reports that the Indians of the Lower Yukon have discovered an immense petrified ship on Porcupine River near the Arctic circle, and north of Rampart, Alaska.

When asked regarding its size the Indians traced its dimensions on the ground, indicating a length of 1,200

Such Indians as are familiar with happened on the Grand River here the Bible are convinced that the ship Mr. Reid intends to return to the interior of Alaska this summer, when he will take some Indians and recanoe and started out on the river, quest army officers and soldiers to accompany him. The ship lies on a high hill thousands of feet above the sea level.

To Cure Woman's Ills, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds. Mrs. Pauline Judson Writes:

four months, when my husband became impatient because I grew worse instead of better, and in speaking to the druggist he advised him to get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash. How I wish I had taken that at first; it would have saved me weeks of suffering. It took three long months to restore me, but it is a happy relief, and we are both most grateful to you. Your Compound has brought joy to our home and health to me."— MRS. PAULINE JUDSON, 47 Hoyt Street, Brooklyn, N. Y. -
