

LAWYERS' INCREASES IN EFFECT TUESDAY

Prices of Going to Court Go Higher—Small Gain to Offices.

Along with other increases in the cost of living comes the announcement that lawyers' fees will from now on be forced to charge higher fees as a result of a change in the tariff of the supreme court of Ontario and the common court, contained in the new consolidated rules of practice just issued. The change went into effect Tuesday. To issue a writ in the supreme court will now cost $2 instead of $1.10, as formerly, and in the common court $3. A writ appearance will cost $1, instead of the customary 20 cents. Many changes have been made, but barristers say that the difference will really be slight, as the changes have been made both ways, and many needed reforms carried out.

CALGARY HIGH SCHOOL AWARDED KING'S TROPHY

London Collegiate Team Came Fifth in Shoot at Toronto.

[Canadian Press.]
Toronto, Sept. 2.—The final shooting of the cadets at Long Branch for the King's trophy resulted in a win for Calgary High School by four points. Harbord, Toronto, was second, with Ottawa third, the English cadets fourth, and London, Ont., fifth.

Splendid shooting was done throughout the competition, which was conducted under actual service conditions.

Four teams were bunched in an exciting finish today. Calgary C. I. team, being returned winner with a score of 113, Harbord, of Toronto, scored 109, and Ottawa was third with 108.

The visiting English cadets scored 107, being somewhat out of practice.

The competition was featured by the remarkable work of two Calgary boys, Color-Sergeant London, who made seven out of a possible eight at a disappearing target, and Cadet C. Gratz, aged 14, and who was the youngest shot at both big meets this year.

For being the best cadet team in Canada the western team also takes the Daughters of the Empire prize.

LIVE STOCK AND PRODUCE MARKETS

LIVE STOCK.

TORONTO, Sept. 2.—Union Stockyards.—The run here yesterday totaled 158 cars, containing 3,105 cattle, 478 calves, 195 hogs, and 1,361 sheep and lambs. The market today opened firm with last week's closing quotations, for while the run was large it was not in excess of the usual opening day run and trade was good. There was no decrease or increase in prices, all good grades of butcher cattle being in demand though there was very little call for the commoner grades. A small run of hogs kept that market from dropping another twenty-five cents, and prices remained steady. With last week's there was a fairly large run of sheep and lambs with the result that both these markets showed a decrease of from fifteen to twenty-five cents. Calves remained firm and were a good trade throughout. There was also a good demand for stockers and feeders and prices remained firm. At present the outlook for the week is not very bright, cattle being in demand, and this should continue to the close, though a period of warm weather may affect the trade in such a way as to cause a slight decline of prices. The exhibition, however, should for the first two days at least help the cattle market to weather any higher rise in temperature. Hogs will probably remain about steady today, though continued small receipts may cause the market to advance. Calves will, in all probability, remain firm, while sheep and lambs should go no lower than today, and with moderate consignments should show an increase before the close.

STRONG FEELING AGAINST POLICE IN DUBLIN RIOTS

More Outbreaks Are Expected —Strike Leader Meets His Match.

Police Alleged To Have Acted in Brutal Manner Toward Citizens.

Dublin, Sept. 2.—There was no further rioting as the result of the street car strike today, but the situation is still critical and further bloodshed may ensue at any time.

Jim Larkin, the leader of the street car strike, is a picturesque agitator, with a long, lanky figure, drooping moustache and a regular "Wild West" personality.

Met His Match.
He seems to have met his match, however, in W. W. Murphy, the capitalistic boss of Dublin, a man of 70, with a hard face and fighting eyes. He has declared publicly that he is out to fight what he calls "Larkinism" and refuses to leave his house in the southern suburbs of Dublin, which is guarded day and night by the police. Murphy is also the owner of the Imperial Hotel, from the balcony of which Larkin made his defiant speech yesterday afternoon.

Feeling Is Strong.
All the elements of a labor dispute in a western American city are to be seen in the present trouble. It is a battle of personalities, which involves riots and reprisals. Before the rioting on Sunday night the people were not inclined to sympathize with the strikers, but after the savage baton charges made by the police the next day there was a strong revulsion of feeling and the sentiment is now against the constables.

Police Brutal.
There is no doubt but that the police erred on the side of brutality. Photographs which were taken during the melee on Sackville street Sunday afternoon show the police deliberately staid waiting for men who were trying to get away from the fighting and clubbed them as they ran. One newspaper correspondent says that many of the police appeared to be under the influence of liquor. The latest reports show that some 200 civilians and 45 police men were treated at the various hospitals and that two men succumbed to their injuries.

Only an Incident.
The present strike of the street car men is only regarded as an incident in the riots, which many believe are directly due to the passions aroused by the home rule bill. The recent trouble in Londonderry is also laid to the same cause. Some of the Conservative newspapers warn the government that the home rule bill has aroused antagonism and lawlessness all through the country, while the Liberal papers blame the trouble on the revolutionary propaganda in the U. S. led by Sir Edward Carson, the leader of the Irish Unionists.

Fighting in the street was resumed in the evening, but the trouble did not amount to much more than window breaking and hooting at the police. The latter made several baton charges and quickly disposed of the mob.

Horse Thief Was Taken at Chatham

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Chatham, Sept. 2.—Sopper, a horse thief, was captured by High Constable Peters yesterday and taken to Simcoe, where he had stolen a horse from Dr. Burke. Peters noticed the man acting suspiciously and arrested him on a chance. After a short fight, Sopper admitted the theft.

Stabbed Because He Flirted at Dance

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Windsor, Sept. 2.—John Green, a negro, aged 25, residing on Montmorency street, was stabbed four times above the heart by his wife while at a dance here last night. Green was taken to the Hotel Dieu, where he is said to have a chance for recovery.

In the excitement following the stabbing, Green's wife left the hall, and for some reason the police made no attempt to arrest her last night. This morning Mrs. Green walked down to the station and gave herself up.

"I stabbed my husband because he was flirting with another woman," she said to the chief constable.

"I told him about it and he attacked me. I then drew out a pen-knife I had and stabbed him four times," she said.

This morning I decided that I had better give myself up, and here I am."

Mrs. Green is 24 years of age. When asked if she and her husband have been having trouble she refused to reply.

Death Followed Sliver in Finger

Merlin, Sept. 2.—Harold Joseph, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dillon, died this afternoon from lockjaw. The little fellow got a sliver an inch long in his foot a week ago today. The sliver was extracted and the boy was running around on the streets when tetanus set in. He died in great agony.

COUNTY EXPECTS TO SELL DEBENTURES

Issue of $25,000 for Courthouse Placed on the Market.

Debentures of the County of Mid-dex to the extent of $25,000 have been placed on the market by the county treasurer, Mr. A. M. McEvoy. Twenty-five debentures of $1,000 each made up the issue, which was made to cover the share of Mid-dex County in the cost of repairing the courthouse. They are all drawn at 20 years, falling due in 1933, and yield 5 per cent. They are transferable, and should find a ready market.

"The issue is one of the smallest made in a number of years," said Mr. McEvoy this morning. "It is possible, and in fact I am hopeful, that the debentures will all be taken up by residents of the city or county. They are a particularly attractive investment, and should be taken up within a short time."

CORRESPONDENCE

Reckless Speeding on the Highway.
To the Editor of The Advertiser:
I write this letter because I fear for the safety of the farmers and their families, who are continually in danger as we travel, especially our most public roads, because of the reckless way that many automobiles and motorcycles are run.

Making speed seems to be the highest ambition of those running them, regardless of the safety of human life, livable on the old Talbot road, between the village of Lambeth and the city of St. Thomas. This is a good, wide road, but pretty narrow enough, with the tractor cars running on the one side, if a person has a spirited horse. The same was true before autos and motorcycles came into general use, but now, with the cars, autos and motorcycles, many are afraid to drive on the road.

It does not seem right, that those who are forced to maintain the roads should be driven off them by those who think themselves a little superior, or by those perchance, who never paid a dollar's taxes, or do not own the auto in which they ride. Quite frequently we see autos racing with the cars, going at the rate of 35 miles an hour. What chance has a man with a spirited horse when he meets them, and, according to the law, must turn to the right, and is forced to go between the cars, and at the same time there is quite likely to be a cloud of dust which prevents you from seeing the car, auto or anything else, let alone the number of the auto. Just this minute as I am writing there is an auto racing with a car, side by side.

Now, Mr. Editor, this must be stopped by some means. The speed limit in the country is 20 miles per hour, and there is a clause in the act against this racing on the highway. The life of my neighbor's son hung in the balance for four days from injuries received by being struck by an auto racing with a car, and he will be laid aside for some time yet with a dislocated shoulder. Had this auto been running within the speed limit, this accident would not have occurred, because the car would have passed the auto long before they came to this point. Then, again, as people have alighted from the car, autos and motorcycles have rushed by without giving the necessary warning, and several people have had narrow escapes from being struck. And many
