The inaugural dog swimming match at Victoria park was honored by the presence of over 1000 spectators. There is no doubt that 2000 people would have been present had the races been held at a more convenient point. The committee of management had spent a great deal of time and went to considerable expense in making this nevel feature of sport a success and their labors were fully appreciated by the sporting people. Ex-Ald. Piper, W. Miller and Alex. Purse acted as judges, J. A. Scholes as refree and J. S. Gibson as starter. The distance in each race was 300 yards, and the start was made off a scow anchored off the wharf. The water was very rough, which interefered a little with time and starts. There was a good deal of excitement among owners over the result, and considerable money was wagered. In classes where there were only three starters only first prize will be paid. The prizes will be paid at Jee Taylor's Dog and Duck, Colborne street, Monday night. Mr. Wm. Clow's bitch Jessie was a strong favorite in the setters race. Out of a field of eleveu starters she was 4th. Following are

A largely attended meeting of the Toronto Hunt club was held at Thomas' chop house last night. The first business of the evening was the election of a new master in the place of the late W. G. Worts.
The name of Mr. Wm. Copeland was proposed by Mr. A. W. Godson, seconded by Mr. J. A. Donaldson. Mr. Copeland was unanimously elected amid great cheering.
It was decided that the club would meet at

day. There was an immense throng of spectators, and the race proved to be a most exciting one. There was not a great deal of betting to-day, but Courtney maintained his place as favorite at slight edds in the few bets taken. At 3 o'clock the men were called out and at once prothe men were called out and at once proceeded to their stations. At 3.23 the word was given and both caught the water simultaneously, Courtney pulling a clear stroke of 30 strokes to the minute, his opponent cutting the water at 32. It was an up and up race for a mile and a helf to the turning point when a mile and a half to the turning point, when Courtney forged to the front, turning his buoy in magnificient style, Lee in close pursuit, half a length in the rear. Shortly after the turn Courtney's stroke appeared after the turn Courtney's stroke appeared to lose in effect, due, as he stated after the race, to twinges of pain from his sprained wrist, which has not yet recovered its strength. Lee managed to get a few inches in front, when Courtney spurted and as he states in the excitement of the moment forgetting the sprain and all else, he put in a good clip and secured the lead once more. Down the course they came close together with a few feet in favor of the Union Springs man. These positions were maintained until within about 300 yards of the finish. Courtney braced himself and striking with a 34 stroke braced himself and striking with a 34 stroke to the minute, drew gradually away from Lee, finished fresh as a daisy in 19 214, beating his best previous record by 43 sec-onds. Lee was somewhat distressed when he passed the stake boat in 19 35½. Everything was favorable for a grand race and the water was perfect. All the arrangements were worked smoothly.

The Rochester Chronicle says the piece has several strong dramatic situathe piece has several strong dramatic situations, and the dialogue is terse and well chosen and proceeds: Mr. Baker's acting as Max Muller was a gensral surprise. It displayed marked ability as a legitimate artist, the more marked that it was entirely unexpected. He is a versatile comedian and six and and gives promise of doing even better work than this. Mr. Farron has an excellent character in Daniel O'Connell McGuinness, and it is hardly necessary to say that a better Irishman ever stepped upon the boards.

PRESS EXCURSION

THE TRIP OF THE EDITORS

Incidents of the Journey-Representative of Quebec-Favors by the Way. (From the Special Correspondent of The World.) WINNIPEG, Aug. 28th, 1882.

"Mr. W. R. Callaway, general passenge agent, Toronto, arrived here yesterday morning in charge of a large party of Canadian immigrants bound for the far Norwest." It was in this equivocal style that the local news editor of the Chicago Daily Herald of the 24th inst, heralded the advent of the Canadian press association to that great city of the west. The befogged paragraphist had one redeeming fact in his amusing news item. He was correct in the name of the obliging gentleman who has acted throughout our long journey to this point as one of the cicerones of our pleasant party. The "immigrants" have had a right jovial time of it, and where they have been, and what they have done and sufferedlet this be the theme of my hurriedly-written narrative. The idea of a trip to Manitoba, and the land of rich promise beyond it, was a happy thought of the executive committee of the C. P. A. The whole of old Canada has been "done" over and over again since, many years ago, Canadian journalists enjoyed their first annual excursion together ou the bright waters, and amidst the finest picturesque scenery of lake Simcoe. The events of the last few years have made Manitoba, its interests and its people subjects of absorting attention, and for this the newspaper press of Canada is largely responsible. It was only natural, when the chance offered, that as large a number as possible of its representatives should embrace the opportunity of spying out the land for themselves, and conveying, with fairness and impartiality, their impressions to the newspaper-reading public of the older provinces of the dominion. Already a hundred busy pens are at work preparing material for future use, and the result cannot fail to be of immense service. This will be seen and felt, not so much the bare words of the trip-although of this many sprightly narratives will appear from time to time—as in the enlarged news and intelligent understanding of the condition and circumstances of the country which will be gained by a personal visit and free unrestrained intercourse with its people. The best sources of information are being freely opened, and a strong desire is shown by all with whom we come in contact to furnish us with instructive and by the Credit Valley railway company, whose general passenger agent, Mr. J. W. Leonard. secured the cheerful co-operation or the passenger agents of the other railway lines over which we passed. The excursion started under Mr. Leonard's personal direction. Some delay was care. personal direction. Some delay was caused at the outset by the late arrival of the eastern train on the Grand trunk on which eastern train on the Grand trunk on which were a number of intending excursionists from eastern Ontario, but at 1.30 p m. we were off via the Credit Valley and comfortably quartered in pullman cars. The party all told was fairly representative of Canadian journalism. Mr. Elder, editor and publisher of the St. John Daily Telegraph, and Mr. McCready of Moncton, N. B., represented the press down by the "loud resounding sea." Old Quebec turned out a talented contingent of French Canadians as will be seen by the following names: Dr. Dionne, Le Courier du Canada; Joseph Tasse, M.P., who represents La Minerve as well as the Ottawa Citizen, and Messrs. Denvers and Peltier, Le Canadien; LeVasseur, L'Ethe Ottawa Citizen, and Messrs. Denvers and Peltier, Le Canadien; Le Vasseur, L'E. venement; Pacand, L'Elebteur; DeCazes, Le Journal de Quebec; and LeMay, Le-Nouvelliste. Some of the Quebec English journals were also represented. (Our Lower Canada confreres formed quite an acquisition, and in merriment and good fellowship generally have won the hearts of every one, especially of the ladies. The presence of the French press is somewhat of a new feature in these annual excursions, and is calculated to promote most friendly relations between journalists of the sister provinces. Ontario is well represented.

Many attempts have poisons keep the internal lining membrane of the nose in a constant state of irritation, ever ready for the deposit of the seeds of these germs, which spread up the nostrils and down the fauces or back part of the mouth, causing discretion of the throat; up the eustachian tubes, causing hoarseness; usurping the proper structure of the bronchial tubes, ending in pulmonary consumption and death.

Many attempts have been made to distions between journalists of the sister provinces. Ontario is well represented. All the Toronto dailies save one have special correspondents, and the other cities and most of the towns east and west of the "Queen city," have furnished writers on the staff of their leading newspapers. We have members and ex-members of the house of commons and local legislatures, while the three learned professions supply a number who combine the divisions of journalism with the active pursuit of their professional duties. We have in a word professional duties. We have in a word "all the talents," and it would be difficult to find anywhere a happier and more con-genial company of holiday seekrs. Noth-ing has occurred to mar the uniform pleasure of the trip in so far as the participants personally are concerned. The pullmans have been packed from end to end and top to bottom, the lovers of the "fragrant" weed" have lamented the want of a smoking car; and the heat during the day has occasionally been excessive, but, beyond these very ordinary drawbacks, we have all been as merry and contented as the day is Notwithstanding our late start the jour Notwithstanding our late start the journey to St. Thomas was made very rapidly. The smooth, well-ballasted roadway was the subject of general praise. Many of the excursionists had been over the Credit Valley before, and were surprised at the thorough equipment for passengers and freight traffic of the new road. The speed at which we traveled was at times very fast. After leaving Schaw station, e.g. we ran for a long distance at the rate of a mile in 62 seconds. At Ayr, Mr. John Watson, of the Ayr agricultural implement works and his oldest son, were at the station to greet the party with a warm welcome, and a complimentary message, which was well received, to those to whom he feels under many obligations for encouragement We have always great pleasure in noticing the diffent Styles of Photographs at the studio of J. What Every One Says Must be True. All unite in praise of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry who have tried its efficacy in curing Cholera Morbus, Cramps, Dysentery, Nausia, and Stomach and Bowel Complaints generally in children or adults. Every person should keep a supply on hand.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the best remedy for infants teething, is safe, pleasant and reliable, and cure promptly all forms of Bowel Complaints. For Canadian Cholera or Cholic and Dysentery of either children and adults there is no better remedy.

A Wretched Score.
