

IDENTIFICATION OF THE PUBLIC

A Carriage Mail Carrier Escapes with a Bullet in His Hat.

From the U.S. Treasury Office. A practical illustration of the inconvenience which follows strict adherence to the rule of identification of travelers is furnished by the following case in the money order department. The postoffice department holds the check payable to a money order clerk, and the clerk is unable to identify the person who presents the money order.

Yes a pretty strict rule has been found necessary. Recently a case came up which showed the importance of such a rule. A money order clerk, addressed to a young man who had been in this country only a short time, had been long enough, however, to have made the acquaintance of a young man, who, in some way, learned of the clerk's name, and had been long enough to get the name of the clerk, and had been long enough to get the name of the clerk, and had been long enough to get the name of the clerk.

There is nobody who will deny the necessity of calling for identification of strangers who present orders for money, whether in a postoffice, a bank, or any other place. The trouble is that nobody will admit that such a necessity exists in his own case. In the case of a bank this inconvenience is more than in the postoffice, for the reason that the latter is a monopoly, and it is not for the sake of a few dollars that it is worth the risk of paying the wrong person, while it must take chances which a public official need not consider.

As already announced, Hanson's "New Fantasy" will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House during next week. The company by which this charming spectacular piece will be presented numbers over fifty people, all thoroughly competent, each being selected for adaptability to a particular part in the cast. It is promised with much emphasis that the "New Fantasy" will be a new and original work, and that it will be a new and original work, and that it will be a new and original work.

A Peculiar Horse Case. There was a case of peculiar nature brought to the attention of Mr. Wingfield, P. yesterday, when Mrs. Coates, Miss Fanny Coates and Mr. George Coates, living in York Township, were arranged to appear before the court. It was learned that George Coates had traded a horse to a horse dealer, and that the latter had sold the horse to a man named James Coates, who claimed to be the owner of the animal, was not a horse dealer, but a farmer, and was with the assistance of George and his daughter Emily forcibly removed the horse from the dealer's possession. Mr. Wingfield, after hearing the evidence, discharged the mother and daughter, but committed the son for trial.

Terrific Explosion of Mine. At BRANTFORD, Pa., Aug. 31.—A terrific explosion of mine gas occurred at the colliery of the Mount Pleasant Coal Company this afternoon at 2 o'clock, working rain and destruction in the mine and killing the death and injury of a number of employees. It is impossible to learn the particulars of the explosion or the extent of the damage, but it is known that a number of men were killed and many others injured. The explosion was caused by a gas leak, and the gas was ignited by a lamp.

On Thursday evening the hotel at Long Beach presented a very appearance, it being the occasion of a dinner given by Messrs. J. and J. N. Wilkie, at which all the cottagers and campers were present, also some of the neighbors and city friends. On arrival of the evening boat Captain Gray and the boatman Rupert, were requested to come up to the hotel, where a reception was presented with a beautifully engraved address expressing the appreciation of the residents of the way in which the captain had treated them during the season. Captain Crawford was presented with a silver water pitcher, handsomely engraved; also an address, thanking him for his favors and the way in which he had discharged his duties. The two cottagers were taken entirely by surprise and thanked the residents for their kindness in making them so comfortable. For this an acknowledgment was made to the spacious dining room, where a most excellent dinner was served in Mr. J. N. Wilkie's best style. Toasts were then proposed and replied to by the following persons: Messrs. McDonald, McInnes, McLean, McGee, Lyon, Riches, McAlay, Butt, Booth, Ford and Ford. George, spoken for by Mrs. Allan and Mrs. Booth, and a resolution by Mrs. Mutton, added to the enjoyment of the evening.

The Bay-street Payment. The Bay-street property owners are not unanimous in supporting Mr. John Ross Robertson's action regarding their payment. It is said an injunction will be served on the City Council restraining them from putting down the expensive asphalt which J. R. Ross desires.

Parkside Notes. A meeting of Conservative Association was held last night for the purpose of revising the voters' list in the ward of the City of Toronto. Children and garden hose thieves are numerous.

"Gold Point." These clear notes made by the Cuban method, the filter being of choice Voulon Ash and the wrapper being of choice Voulon Ash, are the most reliable and the most economical. They are the most reliable and the most economical. They are the most reliable and the most economical.

The R. E. L. General Secretary Resigns. FREDERICK, Aug. 31.—Charles H. Lightman, General Secretary of the Knights of Labor, has resigned.

ROAD AGENTS AT WORK

A Carriage Mail Carrier Escapes with a Bullet in His Hat.

HAMILTON, Aug. 31.—Charles Young carries How Majesty's mail between Carleton Place and Hamilton. His route is about fourteen miles long, through a rough and lonely country. Mr. Young is nearly 60 years old, and has been carrying the mail for years; but he never in the course of his life got such a scare as he did this morning. He drives two miles from Carleton, and as he starts with his mail, a horse named Smokey, owned by a man named Smith, who lives on the road, started to run. Mr. Young, who was driving a carriage, was thrown out of the carriage, and he was hit by a bullet in his hat. He was taken to the hospital, and he is now recovering.

He started on his route at the usual time, took up the mail at Renfrew, North Glasgow, and Glasgow, and had passed Smokey seven miles from the city, when an incident occurred that he will never forget. The horse started to run, and he was thrown out of the carriage, and he was hit by a bullet in his hat. He was taken to the hospital, and he is now recovering.
