The Weather For September.
 Rev. Irl R. Hicks predicts for September a storm period from the first to the fourth, with cooler weather and frosts "if" high barometer and westerly gales follow these storms; but high temperature and threatening electrical storms may not subside entirely. From the first to the fourth is also a seismic period, the prophet says. Then there is a storm period on the 7th and 8th, another on the 12th and 13th, and still another on the 17th, 18th and 19th, which will affect land and sea, and there may be seismic throes and volcanic outbreaks. There will be a storm period from the 22nd to the 26th, and a reactionary disturbance on the 29th and 30th.

Doctors Change Their Methods.
 Years ago they fought catarrh by eternal dosing. They saw this ruined the stomach and changed to the ozonated air cure, better known as "Catarhoxone." This treatment is sure to cure. It goes to the source of the disease; it destroys the causes that maintain catarrh and even in the worst cases permanent cure is guaranteed. Failure with Catarrhoxone is impossible. Antiseptic, healing and far-reaching, it's bound to cure every time. Endorsed by more than twenty thousand physicians in America alone and sold in 25c and $1.00 sizes by all dealers.

The Better Way

The tissues of the throat are inflamed and irritated; you cough, and there is more irritation—more coughing. You take a cough mixture and it eases the irritation—for a while. You take and it cures the cold. That's what is necessary. It soothes the throat because it reduces the irritation; cures the cold because it drives out the inflammation; builds up the weakened tissues because it nourishes them back to their natural strength. That's how Scott's Emulsion deals with a sore throat, a cough, a cold, or bronchitis.

It is reported that a Ridgetown lady sent $2 in answer to an advertisement of a sure method of getting rid of superfluous fat, and received a reply telling her to sell it to the soap man.

An Englishman was competing against an Irishman in a race at a certain regatta. The Englishman was winning so easily that he stopped two or three times, and shouting to Paddy to come along. After the race every one was chaffing the Irishman on the beating he had received, but he simply shrugged his shoulders and remarked—"Shure, if Oi had as many rests as he had, Oi could 'av bated him easily!"

Among the ministers of this section who will go to the general conference of the Methodist church, which meets in Montreal on Sept. 12th, are the following: Revs. D. Rogers, J. SECTION 185 of the Railway Act of last session provides that "the conductor of every train carrying passengers within this province and the conductor of the car or cars of every railway carrying passengers within this province, is hereby invested with the powers of a constable, while on duty on his train or on said car or cars, and said conductor may wear a badge or other distinguishing mark of a special constable."

The advertising merchant is the one that does the business in these days of push and enterprise. There are more newspaper readers to-day than ever before in the history of the world. The newspaper places your business under the eyes of the buyer. He sees what he wants, and knowing where to find it, looks up the wide awake merchant who asked him to come and see him. Success in these days of sharp competition calls for eternal vigilance. You can't keep a hustler down.

There are two kinds of girls in the world, the girl who works and the girl who gads. Comment to us the former. Work lends dignity to a pretty girl, is an added charm to her. The girl who works, God bless her, combines the useful and ornamental. She might gad about, roll on sofas, gossip and read story books, but she prefers to be of some account in the world and goes out as a stenographer, teacher, saleslady or housekeeper, and bravely make her own way. Such are the salt of the earth and of such is the kingdom of heaven.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corn stepped upon? Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Howsay's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.

Important Directions Regarding Dried Apples.

As it is not generally known that with very little extra trouble apples can be dried so as to retain a nice white color, we give the following directions and feel sure a trial will give results entirely pleasing to you, and assuring the highest price for your product. Directions:—Fill an ordinary sized pail about half full of water into which stir a handful of common salt. As soon as each apple is peeled cut into quarters, trim and throw quickly into the salt water—as soon as a sufficient quantity is ready, drain off the water, which can be used again and dry quickly over the stove. Please bear in mind that apples should always be cut in quarters. Do not dry on strings, but use a wooden tray made of narrow slats. Do not allow your apples to go to waste, as dried apples are always salable.

Can't Get His Money.

A farmer living in Enniskillen looking through the catalogue of a well-known Chicago mail order house and reading articles listed therein, became possessed of the desire to own a watch and after looking over the catalogue sent $22.00 for a time piece. It was to be a twenty-five years filled movement. In about a week the watch came to town, the farmer took it over and had it examined, it proved to be a snide filled case with a poor imitation American movement. The farmer became dissatisfied and knowing they advertised money back if not satisfied, repacked same and returned it to Chicago, demanding return of money, for he found out that at this price he could procure the best watch of the catalogue in description in town. He happened in the latter part of April. To this day after corresponding a number of times with this house he has failed as yet to get the money back. Two weeks ago he placed the matter attorney's hands, as who has as yet had no reply from this firm. The farmer is in need of his money and cannot get it.—Free Press.

AN ARMY OF 20,000

Is What the Salvationists Will Send to Canada.
 London, Aug. 16.—Brigadier Howell and Col. Lamb, of the Salvation Army, leave England for Canada on Aug. 17, having completed arrangements for the settlement of between 20,000 and 25,000 emigrants in the Dominion of Canada, within a year. A fleet of ten or twelve steamers will be chartered for their transportation. The emigrants will be scattered through Canada in such a way as to place them within reach of the work for which they are best suited.

LITTLE BELL BIOGRAPHIES
Beethoven
LUDWIG VAN BEETHOVEN, born at Bonn, 1770, died at Vienna, 1827, disputes with Bach the title—"The World's Greatest Musician." In such high honor was he held that 25,000 people—including the nobility, poets, artists, musicians and the populace of Vienna—attended his funeral. Like Bach and Mozart, he was early a musical prodigy. Until he was 25 he appeared privately as a pianist before the nobility. After 1795 he appeared in public, both as a pianist and as a conductor; but increasing deafness compelled him to give up both for composition.
 He composed all forms of vocal and instrumental music—from the song to grand opera and oratorio, from the sonata to the concerto and the symphony. Of his nine great symphonies, the Pastoral, the Eroica and the Choral Symphony are universally admired. The pianoforte sonata, developed by Mozart and Haydn, he made perfect. His Opus 27 No. 2, popularly known as "The Moonlight Sonata," is a household favorite.
 He was not so great a pianist as Mozart (who played the clavier), because he aimed more at originality and boldness in expression than at finish in technique. He was not so great as Liszt or Rubinstein because he was handicapped both by deafness and by an instrument which, while an improvement over the clavier, had nothing of the wonderful musical qualities of
