The Other Day

A lady, coming to our store, walked up to the candy counter and remarked, "I want to compliment this store for carrying such a complete stock of goods. On several occasions when unable to obtain certain articles elsewhere, on coming to your store my wants have invariably been supplied. A number of my friends also have had the same pleasing experience, for which great credit is due."

VETERANS REPRODUCE BATTLE OF BLOODY CREEK

young age, and the first emotions of our adolescence create in our souls impressions that are no other material enjoyment can equal. Then come the works of our vicinity. Can we with indifference see again the objects which have been shaped by our labor, these meadows we tilled, these orchards we planted, the progress sown and grown under our eyes. Patriotism is made of all that and on one's country is a common mother, the sacred name which expresses the voluntary wishes in one of all lives in one life perpetually enduring.

And now by the marvelous action of Providence victors and vanquished enjoy in peace this beautiful country and work hand in hand in its prosperity. Your programme of this week included a reproduction of the Battle of Bloody Creek, and a commemoration of Acadia in French days. Acadia developed beyond the most sanguine hopes of its founders has taken its place in the wider sphere of Confederation. The sons of the French men and Britons of yore are no longer bitter enemies but have learned to love not only the Provincial section of territory known to their ancestors but the vast empire which extends from ocean to ocean. We have inherited the immense wealth amassed at the expense of such heroic sacrifices and titanic labors. Shall we be unworthy of our forebears. Let us remember that it is our sacred duty to live up to their ideals and noble examples and that we transmit to our descendants not only their wealth but also their virtues, their incorruptible honesty and firmness of resolve.

In the wider sphere we must now exercise our activities, we must rely upon cultivate and develop combined qualities of all groups and race in the Dominion. I am proud of the name of Canadian. I am proud that Providence allowed me to be born in this new and fruitful land which is sheltered from the bloody carnage of Europe. This Centennial will be a milestone for you on the road to progress and prosperity and after having summarized in this historical event the lessons of the past you shall take with new courage course forward in the right direction. I am happy to express to you the compliments and good wishes of you French-Canadian comrades and compatriots.

Mr. F. J. G. Comeau gave an excellent address representing J. W. Comeau of the N. S. Government who was unavoidably absent. He suggested a plate to commemorate the battle scene. He referred in glowing terms to our wonderful history and to the scenic beauties of the Annapolis Valley generally, and the part which transportation is playing in the development of the country. The Acadicians were among the most loyal citizens in Canada and ever ready to extend a welcome to all who met them half way. He recommended that one year at least a pageant be held at some point in the Valley.

In conclusion he complimented the President of the Committee, Dr. M. E. Armstrong, and all associated with him on the splendid and interesting program of the week. Col. C. E. Bent congratulated the committee who carried proceedings to such a successful conclusion. The French were courageous and generous enemies of long ago, but were today our generous and courageous friends. Referring briefly to his experience of the French during the great war the Colonel said, "I take off my hat to them for their bravery and many splendid qualities. Passing on he spoke words of commendation for the part taken by the local G. W. V. A. and exhorted his hearers not to forget that they had fought for freedom and right. Many still suffer from their wounds. If again the call should come the veterans will again respond as they did in 1914. The Colonel

WOMAN COULD NOT WORK

Made Strong and Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Paul, Minn.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a tired, worn-out feeling, and a painful period. I used to get up with a pain in my head and pains in my lower parts and back. Often I was not able to do my work. I read in your list a book about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have taken it. I feel so well and strong and can do every bit of my work and not a pain in my back now. I recommend your medicine and you can use this letter as a testimonial." — Mrs. PHIL. MASER, 801 Winslow St., St. Paul, Minn.

Just another case where a woman found relief by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Many times these tired, worn-out feelings and pains about the body are from troubles only women have. The Vegetable Compound is especially adapted for just this condition. The good results are noted by the disagreeable symptoms passing away—one after another. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a Woman's Medicine for Women's Ailments. Always reliable.

complimented the Cadets upon their appearance and showing in the day's proceedings. These boys are the men of tomorrow and I feel that the destinies of Canada are safe in their hands. He recommended that a historical tablet be erected to mark the scene at Bloody Creek.

At the close of his speech an excellent concert was given by the Annapolis Royal Band. The Bridgetown Branch of G. W. V. A. wish to take this opportunity to thank the ladies who assisted so willingly in preparing the lunch which was served to the men in the Court House, also to express appreciation

An Improved Gasoline such as you have been looking for,

As the result of exhaustive research and experiment in our Imperial Refinery, Imperial Oil Limited is now able to offer to gasoline users in the Maritime Provinces a new improved gasoline which is obtainable wherever the Imperial Premier Red Ball Sign is displayed.

The new Imperial Premier Gasoline possesses all the qualities of a perfect motor fuel. It starts even more quickly than Quagen Gasoline (which has been used by some motorists in spite of the fact that it was primarily a lighting fuel and not intended for power purposes).

So confident are we of your approval of this gasoline that we no longer make any other grade for engine use.

The new Imperial Premier also has the "pep" and power which you demand from gasoline. It vaporizes completely and burns clean to the last drop. Every gallon you buy will give you the big mileage which you have a right to expect.

We invite comparison with other grades of gasoline at higher prices. We believe a test will convince you that no gasoline made in any country can give you better satisfaction or greater mileage for your gasoline money—and remember, the new Imperial Premier Gasoline is strictly a home product, made for the Maritime Provinces at our Imperial refinery.

Every factor which contributes to the efficiency of a motor fuel has been carefully considered in the manufacture of this new Imperial Premier Gasoline. Its superior quality has been proven not only by laboratory tests but by practical tests in all types of automobile carburetors and motors.

How to make a test:—After your tank has been filled with the new Imperial Premier Gasoline have your carburetor set to properly use this fuel. By doing this you will find you can run your car on a lean, powerful mixture and keep engine trouble and operating expenses down to the minimum.

Ask for the new Imperial Premier Gasoline the next time you fill.
