

Half-full of silver dollars, halves and quarters, bills and dimes

(Notwithstanding that the country was suffering from hard times).

And when the woman woke, the Dude, to her tear-told delight,

Made her the presentation, and then in form polite

Escorted her and baby to the sleeper in the rear,

While I and several others aboard that stuffy car

Sat and revised our verdict about that swell young man,

And this is how, I reckon, our final judgment ran :

'Tis never safe to judge alone by outward dress and style ;

A man may have a noble heart tho' his clothes are poor and vile.

And, on the other hand, 'twould seem this incident made good,

A man may be a Christian tho' he dresses like a Dude !
