

DEW DROPS

VOL. IV.

TORONTO, SEPTEMBER 1, 1900.

No. 35

THE PIGEONS.

What little boy or girl would not enjoy owning some nice pigeons? They would delight in taking care of them, I am sure. It is always good for us to have something else to look after besides ourselves. It teaches us to be unselfish. It gives one great pleasure, too, to find how fond of one dumb creature becomes if they have been treated kindly.

After all it pays to be kind to every living thing, flowers, birds, animals, people. If we do not destroy the flowers they will smile and emit fragrance for us, the birds will sing, animals will do our bidding and people will love us.

