

were rejoiced to hear of his recovery. This, however, lasted only a short time, when a relapse put him back again into a critical condition. When sufficiently recovered it was deemed necessary that he should seek another climate for a time. Consequently he returned to his native land.

Rev. D. M. Jamieson, of Matawatchin, had for some weeks been lying seriously ill with pleurisy and brain fever, and was just sufficiently recovered to return and meet his brother here.

These two brothers entered college together, and graduated together in the class of '90. We trust that their visit together now to their old home in Inverness, Que., where their father and mother are still living, may have the effect of cheering, resting and restoring to their wonted health these two worthy and honored men. They are brothers of Mr. S. D. Jamieson, of the class of '98.

D. J. S.

