SPARKLES.

BRINGING HOME THE COWS.

When potatoes were in blossom, When the new hay filled the mows, Sweet the paths we trod together, Bringing home the cows!

What a purple kissed the pasture, Kissed and blessed the alder boughs, As we wandered slow at sundown, Bringing home the cows!

How the far off hills were gilded With the light that dream allows, As we built our hopes beyond them, Bringing home the cows!

How our eyes were thronged with visions, What a meaning wreathed our brows, As we watched the cranes and lingered, Bringing home the cows!

Past the years and through the distance, Throbs the memory of our vows, Oh, that we again were children, Bringing home the cows!

Charles G. D. Roberts, in January Lippincotts.

Some people habitually wear sadness, like a garment, and think it a becoming grace. God loves a cheerful worshipper.—Chaplin.

There is something solid and doughty in the man that can rise from defeat, the stuff of which victories are made in due time, when we are able to choose our position.

"See, Ryer, here's a German clock I bought for you in New York." "Good gracious, Hiram! how foolish. You know I can't understand a word of German."

An old Quaker lady was once asked, "How shall we reach the full-blooded Indian with the gospel?" She replied; "Send him a full blooded Christian."

Willy's Mother: Willy, don't you know it is wrong to play with your soldiers on Christmas Day?

Willy: But, Mamma, this is the Salvation Army!

GENTLEMEN.—I have a little boy of five, whose greatest trouble is the croup, and I find that Haggard's Yellow Oil gives speedy relief, therefore I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

MRS L. H. BALDWIN, Oakland, Ont.

Mrs. Forester: My baby never cries. He's too young, I suppose. Do they begin early?

Mrs. Lancaster: No, quite late, as a rule. Mine begins about midnight.

A sweet little four-year-old added this clause to her evening petition the other night: "And please help Grandma not to talk so much when the pies get burned."

WAR WELL WAGED.—What greater enemy of mankind than disease, and what nobler work than to fight against this death-dealing enemy of humanity. The most successful war against disease is being steadily carried on by Burdock Blood Bitters for dyspepsia, constipation, bad blood, biliousness, etc., cannot resist its powers.

Mamma (enthusiastically): How I wish we could afford to send Nelle abroad for a few finishing touches to her musical education?

Papa (no ear for music): If I could buy the finish without the touches, I'd pawn the furniture.

Jones: Michael is not such a bad fellow—I never heard him say a bad word of any one yet!

Brown: No, old chappie; for he never talks of anyone but himself.

GENTLEMEN.—I have found B. B. B. an excellent remedy, both as a blood purifier and general family medicine. I was for a long time troubled with sick headache and heartburn, and tried a bottle, which gave me such perfect satisfaction that I have since then used it as our family medicine.

E. BAILEY, North Bay, Ont.

Husband (handing his wife some money)—"There, dear, is fifty dollars and it has bothered me some to get it for you. I think I deserve a little praise." Wife—"Praise? You deserve an encore, my dear."

"I suppose," said the fellow who had been studying up physiology—"I suppose this is called a boarding-house because it helps the lumber region?" "No," said the facetious boarder, "it's because one plies for more." "And I tell you," said the landlady, grimly, "it's because you've got to plank down or you'll be fired."
