TIED AND BOUND WITH THE CHAIN OF SIN.

A Mohammedan pilgrim arrived about a year ago at Bombay, who travelled partly as a passenger, partly as luggage, for he had caused himself to be loaded with chains weighing six hundred pounds! His story is that as a young man, more than twenty-four years ago, he began to put on chains to keep himself from committing sin. As he found the chains insufficient he added others, until their weight was so great that he could not move about. Even so he felt the power of sin, and was going on pilgrimage to see if he could wash away its guilt. What an illustration of the bondage of sin! And how one longs that all such as this poor pilgrim might learn to pray, "Let the pitifulness of Thy great mercy loose us."

"WILL HE COME TO-DAY?"

Near the town of Tarn-Taran in the Punjab is a settlement of about two hundred lepers. Through the ministrations of the missionary there, about thirty of the lepers have become Christians. Some time ago a stranger went with the missionary to visit them. Seated in the little mud hut which serves them for a church, the stranger questioned the poor lepers about their faith, and amongst other matters, about the Creed. They knew of the Ascension and Second Coming of our Lord.

"When do you think He will come again?" was the next question.

"We don't know," was the reply.

The questioner passed on to other subjects, and presently put the question again in a simpler form.

"Do you think He will come again to-day?"

There was much whispering among the lepers, and then a look of earnest longing passed over their faces as their spokesman replied, "We don't know, but we hope so."

That mission will not have been in vain, even if it does no more than bring so glad a hope to these poor lepers.

Readers of THE HOMILETIC REVIEW for September Funk and Wagnalls Company N. Y., will find much that is helpful and suggestive. Prof. Theodore W. Hunt, of Princeton, opens the Review Section with a forcible presentation of "The Mental Demands of the Ministry," showing that there is no profession that can compare with it in the requisitions made upon the intellectual faculty and function. Dr. C. B. Hulbert, of Adams Mills, Ohio, emphasizes the "Importance of Declaring all the Counsel of God," and of shunning a one-sided presentation of truth. Some striking sermons will be found in the Sermonic Section. "The Scope of Education under Mahomedan Patronage" is the title of a paper in the department of Sociology and Comparative Religion, by Rev. B. F. Kidder, Ph. D., who is making a study of social topics in the East especially for the REVIEW. A comprehensive and scientific presentation of the subject "Panics and Hard Times" is contributed by F. S. Hayden, D. D. of Jacksonville, Ill., and is well worth the price of the entire REVIEW.

LEAVING OUT THE "NOTS."

A boy in a Christian village school in India was given the Ten Commandments to copy out as a home-lesson. When he brought them to his teacher, it was found that he had left out all the "nots." The teacher asked him why he had done so. "I asked my father about it, sahib," he answered, "and he said the other way didn't seem like sense." Such is the morality of heathenism.
