GIVES HISTORY OF YORK RANGES

Much Valuable Information Contained in Book Just Published by Capt. Hunter.

The "12th Regiment York Rangers," a book of interest to all residents of York County, and particularly to those of a military turn of mind, has just been published by Captain A. T. Hunter, G. Co., 12th Regiment, York Rangers. In addition to an exhaustive description of the regiment's activities, the book throws some interesting light upon the social and political conditions in Canada prior to and during the war of 1812, and the few civil uprisings.

It follows the regiment from the time of its birth about 1812, and tells of its activities during the times of turmoil and its struggles for existence during the times of peace when it was supported by an adequate governmental militia organization, was governmental in action. He tells of the regiment's activities during the war of 1812, throwing a new light upon General Brock and the other prominent generals in that war, during the rebellion of 1837, the Fenian raids, the Red River expedition and the Kiel rebellion. In recording these events Captain Hunter writes, not only as a military man but also with the critical eye of the historian.

The book is illustrated throughout by

New Firm Formed.

By reason of the desire of Mr. W. H. Cross to retire from business, the firm of Clarkson, Gordon & Dilworth has been formed to take over the business of Clarkson & Cross, and of Gordon & Dilworth. The change will take place early in February, and the members of the new firm will be E. R. C. Clarkson, G. T. Clarkson, H. D. L. Gordon and R. J. Dilworth.
