QUEEN'S OWN WIN ALSO GRENADIERS

Highlanders Experience More Hard Luck—Body Guards Beaten Easily.

Queen's Own 16, Highlanders 7, tells the story of the first game at the armistice on Saturday night. The Highlanders have not had any luck this season, and a majority of the large crowd present were pulling for them to break into the win column, but Queen's Own could not see it that way, as they needed the game to stay in the running. With the exception of one inning (the fifth), the game was very even, both sides making some nice plays. Wright doing very well around second base. Clarkson, in left field for Queen's Own, was good, although he pulled off some funny stunts. Gordon Morrison hit the ball hard. On the night's play, Queen's Own deserved the win, but did not look like a championship team. They will have to show more life. Grenadiers left no room for doubt in the second game, overshadowing the Body Guards in every department. They seemed to hit at will, everybody taking a hand in it. Morrison and Greene showed the lead, closely followed by A. Gooderham and Bearmore. The Grens, playing as they did in this game, will be a hard team to beat. Grenadiers and Queen's Own are now tie for first place and will meet next Saturday night to settle who will hold the cup for the season. It should be a dandy game, and a big crowd will be on hand.
