MORAL REFORMER NO TASK FOR YOUNG MAN

Dr. Hoyle Says Revelations at Moral Reform Meetings Are So Vile That He Has Been Forced to Leave—Synod at Final Session Discusses Non-Attendance.

Determination to hold fast by the church's isolated position marked the last day's proceedings of the Anglican Synod at St. James' Parish House. The report of the committee on the state of the church made no reference to the question of church union. And, on the other hand, a motion by H. T. Beck to congratulate the Holy Name Society of the Roman Catholic Church on its good work among Catholics was defeated unanimously. Mr. Beck's motion was made with respect to the proposal of the committee on Lord's Day observance to keep pressing for restrictive legislation. "It is a great pity," he said, "that we should year after year lay emphasis upon the fact that criminal legislation is being urged in the matter of private conduct. Why not leave something for the clergy to do? Why not leave some field in which individual responsibility may work? Legislation on religious questions such as Sunday observance is obnoxious in a free country where so great differences of opinions exist." He moved an amendment to the report, but was defeated. The report stated that the Dominion is now under one law as regards Sunday observance, which Mr. Beck declared to be misleading, inasmuch as the law does not become effective in any province until the attorney-general of that province has signified his consent. Vile Revelations. While advocating the adoption of the report of the moral and social reform committee, which had been revised and strengthened overnight, Dr. N. W. Hoyle recommended that the man whom it is proposed to appoint at a salary of $1700 for moral reform work be a man of mature years. "It has been suggested that a young man be given this position, but I should be sorry to hear that that had been done. This man will attend meetings of the Moral Reform Association, of which I am a member, and there are matters discussed at those meetings which no young man should hear. "At times, gentlemen, I have been forced to leave the meeting," Mr. Hoyle continued, "so vile were the revelations made. And when I got outside I felt that I myself had been polluted." Rev. L. E. Skeay of St. Anne's recommended that a layman be appointed to the position and called attention to the growing prejudice against clergymen interfering in the censorship of theatres and other kindred work. "We know how unfair the newspapers have been in recent cases," he declared. "A layman would be more acquainted with the world and would be free from public prejudice." Mr. Skeay's objection, however, came too late, as by a motion passed on Thursday, a "man in priest's orders" will receive the appointment. Eighteen members of the synod spoke on the report of the committee on the state of the church. The report was couched in general terms, and was so optimistic that Rural Dean Cayley took objection to its tone. "The position of the church in rural districts is not entirely healthy," he averred, "we are not covering the field as completely as the Presbyterians, Methodist or Baptist bodies. We lose thousands of children simply because we do not provide the country districts with enough churches and Sunday schools."

SERVIA TO START DEMOBILIZING IF BULGARIA WILL DO LIKEWISE

LONDON, June 13.—(Can. Press).—Anticipating a demand by the powers for demobilization, Serbia has proposed to Bulgaria that the two countries reduce their armaments until one-quarter of their present forces remain under arms. The representatives of the powers today informed the Serbian premier that their governments, desiring to see the dispute between the two allies settled, would suggest that Serbia and Bulgaria demobilize. Premier Pachitch replied that Serbia already had submitted to Bulgaria a note expressing the hope that Bulgaria would cease her concentration of troops on the Serbian frontier, and also a proposal that both countries immediately reduce their armies until one-quarter of their present effective strength remained.

DOOR NOT OPEN TO PRINT PAPER

U. S. Retaliates Against Canada For Restrictions on Export of Wood Pulp. WASHINGTON, June 13.—(Can. Press).—Amending the section of the Underwood tariff bill which would place on the free list all print paper valued at not more than 2½ cents a pound, the majority members of the senate finance committee today voted to incorporate in the bill the provisions of the Canadian Reciprocity Act passed in 1911. This action would extend the free list to include all print paper valued at not more than four cents a pound on the condition "that no export duty, export license fee or other export charge of any kind whatsoever, or any prohibition or restriction in any way of the exportation shall have been imposed on such paper, board or wood pulp, or the wood pulp used in the manufacture of such paper or board." Operates Against Canada. Altho the word "Canada" is omitted from the amendment adopted by the committee, it would operate against Canada because of that nation's restrictions on exports of wood and chemical pulp. Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, said that other restrictive provisions, or countervailing duties aimed against Canada which have been proposed had not yet been acted upon by the majority and that the matter would be taken up again tomorrow. He added that there might be reconsideration of the action thus far taken. Under the reciprocity amendment, pulpwood or paper could come in free from Canada when it is the product of free lands in Canada, lands unrestricted by export duty or license fee.

DR. J. WAUGH TO SUCCEED COWLEY
Appointed by Provincial Government as Chief Inspector of Public and Separate Schools. Hon. Dr. Pyne last evening announced the appointment of three Ontario educational men to important positions in the school system of the province. The first of these, caused by the appointment of R. H. Cowley as chief inspector of the Toronto public schools, has been awarded to Dr. John Waugh, continuation school inspector. He becomes chief inspector of public and separate schools in the province. It was considered by the department of education that Mr. Waugh's scholarship and ability, as well as a lengthy experience in school matters in Ontario County, especially fitted him for the position. J. P. Hoag of the London normal school becomes continuation school inspector. He was formerly an inspector in Brantford, and the place he leaves vacant in London has been arranged by the placing of E. T. White, recent inspector of public schools in North Renfrew.

KNOCKED FROM WHEEL BY YONGE ST. CAR
Peter Starrie Sustained Serious Injuries to Head and Back. While crossing from the east side of Yonge street to Agnes street about 6:30 o'clock last night, Peter Starrie, 54 Agnes street, was knocked off his wheel by a northbound street car and seriously injured. Police Constable McMurphy removed the man to St. Michael's Hospital in a motor car, where his head and back were found to be injured. Starrie evidently failed to notice the car and turned sharply across the tracks. The motorman was unable to stop in time to avert the accident.

CROP IN ALBERTA PROMISES TO BE GREATEST PROVINCE HAS KNOWN
CALGARY, June 13.—(Can. Press).—The summary of crops reports received today from forty-five points in Alberta indicate that a crop never before equalled in this province will be reaped this season. While the spring was undoubtedly a backward one, the early summer has more than made up for this. There has been plenty of moisture and bright, warm sunshine in addition.

ASTOR'S ESTATE FINALLY KNOWN
More Than Eighty-Seven Million Dollars Left by Titanic Victim According to Appraisers. NEW YORK, June 14.—The final exact appraisal of the estate of Col. John Jacob Astor, who went down with the Titanic, was made public today at the office of John V. Crogey, transfer tax appraiser. Col. Astor's estate amounted to $87,218,791.05. That is the largest individual fortune ever handled in this state, or in the United States by tax appraisers. It will pay a "death" tax of $3,500,000 to the estate. The work of appraising the estate began on July 18, 1912, and did not end until yesterday. More than 1100 typewritten pages were needed to describe Col. Astor's various holdings. This is the first time in an Astor generation, it is said, that any Astor knew just how much the estate was worth. Before the colonel's death he probably could not have estimated it within $50,000,000 of its actual value.

ROYAL COUPLE ON THE HUSTLE
Emperor William's Treatment of His Daughter and Her Husband Causes Society Comment. Special Cable to The World, Copyrighted by The Toronto World and N. Y. World. BERLIN, June 13.—Berlin society is astonished at the hustle required of Princess Victoria and her husband, even on their honeymoon. They stayed only two days at Hubertusstock, then they hurried to Potsdam in order that the princess might have a chat with her mother, the empress. Then, after a few days in the mountains, they moved to Gmunden, so that the prince might talk with his father, the Duke of Cumberland. Now they are to return to Berlin to take part in Emperor William's jubilee celebration. Afterward they will go back to Gmunden. Finally the prince has been ordered by the emperor, as commander-in-chief of the Prussian army, to rejoin his regiment at Rathenow shortly. A Berlin newspaper remarks that the head of a banking firm would make the honeymoon easier for a jubilee bank clerk than Emperor William makes it for his daughter and her husband.

ENGLAND SHOULD BEAR WHOLE EXPENSE

Imperial Defence Should Be Paid For by Britain, Says Henri Bourassa, Who Claims That Canada Has No Voice in Control or Government of the Empire. EDMONTON, June 13.—(Can. Press).—The Canada's national obligations should be measured by the extent of her national privileges and liberties, and that, as the sole control of the army and navy lay with the British Parliament, England should bear the whole cost of imperial defence, formed the basic principles of the Nationalist conception of imperial relationships as defined by Henri Bourassa, the Nationalist leader, at a public meeting this evening. "Canada and the other self-governing colonies," said Mr. Bourassa, "had absolutely no control and no voice in the government of the empire. The people of the United Kingdom, thru their parliament, were the sole and absolute masters of the empire. Did a question of external policy arise, Canada was not consulted, the decision lying solely with the British Parliament. Matters of foreign relations were arranged by English diplomats and settled by the English parliament, none of the colonies being consulted in the army and navy." Mr. Bourassa maintained that they should be responsible for the entire cost of its maintenance. Going on to deal more particularly with the Borden naval policy, and the Nationalist reasons for opposing it, Mr. Bourassa stated that Canada's seaborne trade was Britain's trade, and the United Kingdom was just as much interested in protecting it in time of war as was the Dominion. Depending as she did on the overseas dominions for the greater part of her food supply, Britain was much more vitally interested in purchasing Canadian foodstuffs in time of war than was Canada in selling them. Even with all its snares and dangers, full-fledged imperial partnership was considered by Mr. Bourassa to be preferable to the low, undignified, jingo-inspired alternative offered to the Canadian people by the present government. Despite its dangers, said Mr. Bourassa, full imperial partnership was inspired by high ideals of national equality, while the policy of the Borden government would simply result in the self-abnegation of the Canadian people. That policy meant that Canada accepted an imperial policy over which she was denied by the British government the slightest share of control.

THIS JOKE WAS ON CORONER
Jury Present at Johnson Inquest But Dr. Hopkins Had Forgotten to Attend. David Thompson was drowned from the Bay street ferry slip on the evening of May 15. The body was discovered on Sunday, June 1, and Dr. Hopkins opened an inquest the next morning. The inquest was concluded last night after breaking all adjournment records. According to custom no evidence was taken at the first session, June 2, and the enquiry was adjourned until the 9th. When that date arrived the jury refused to render a verdict because the evidence of Night Watchman Thomson of the ferry docks could not be obtained. The night watchman turned up on Wednesday, the 11th. But Edward Adams, the foreman of the jury, could not be found. His house was phoned, but no one answered, altho it later appeared that he was at home at the time, having taken to his bed with an attack of cramps. The coroner was inclined to think that Adams was only playing sick, and adjourned the inquest until the 12th. A rumor went about to the effect that Adams would be fined for non-attendance. But the crowning event of the chapter happened last night. At 8 o'clock the coroner had not arrived. At 8:15 he was still absent. At 8:30 Dr. Hopkins was to be seen. Finally, at 8:45, a juror called him on the phone. "Dr. Hopkins, a jurymen in the Thompson case speaking. Is not the inquest to go on tonight?" "Why, bless me," exclaimed the coroner, "I had forgotten all about it!" Nine o'clock saw the investigation underway once more. The jury decided that on the evidence given them they could say nothing as to the immediate cause of Thompson's death. They believed that the drowning would not have occurred had the waterfront been lighted, and recommended that something be done toward placing lights on all docks and piers.

FIRE DESTROYED THREE HOUSES
Blaze Originated in Stable and Caused Loss of Four Thousand Dollars. Three houses, their contents and a stable were almost completely destroyed in a fire on Blake street, East Toronto, late yesterday afternoon. The total loss aggregated about $4000. Three families were left homeless. The blaze originated in a stable at the rear of No. 2 Blake street, owned by Joseph Russell and occupied by Mr. MacCarthy. Damage to the extent of $800 was caused to the house and $500 to the contents. The fire spread to No. 4, owned by Henry Brown and occupied by Mrs. McKay. A loss of $300 resulted to the contents of this house and $300 to No. 6, next door, occupied by Mr. Brown himself. The loss to the two houses amounted to $1800. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Stairway at Soo Paper Plant Collapsed During Inspection. SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., June 13.—(Special).—Just as the members of the Detroit board of commerce were completing their tour of inspection of the mills of the Lake Superior Paper Company this afternoon, the stairway at the slasher plant, upon which a number of them were standing, gave way, precipitating the party to the floor beneath. The stairway was not a high one, but several members of the party were badly shaken up. Rev. J. A. Macdonald of The Toronto Globe received a bad shaking up, and for a time was in such a dazed condition that he could not even recall having made a speech the previous night. Others injured were W. D. Atkinson of this city, Eugene Jamieson of Detroit and M. J. Alley, also of that city. Several victims were taken to the hospital.

GERMANS WILL WRENCH A BIT OF COMFORT OUT OF THIS YEAR'S HOT SPELLS.
Special Cable to The World, Copyrighted by The Toronto World and N. Y. World. BERLIN, June 13.—"Ah, Hans, what colored parson have you ordered?" "Well, Max, I have not exactly decided, but something I should say slightly verging on the mauve." "And your blouse?" "Oh, on that I have made up my mind. It shall surely be of a silk network—something in the design of linden leaves." "Ah—delicious! my dear Hans." The foregoing may be taken, quite seriously, if you please, as typical talk between members of a dress reform league for males-in-summer, which has organized brigades in this capital, in Dresden, in Bonn and in other German towns, looking toward wrenching a bit of comfort out of the hot spells. In Berlin the movement started and has been acclaimed. Plump bald heads will not wear hats, but toy with parasols; will not wear coats, but blouses, cut after the fashion of a schoolboy's garment; but there is no bar on the peek-a-boo. Enthusiasts have written proclamations to the press, signing their names numerously to the communications.

VICTIM OF IRATE SPANIARD IN HAMILTON HOSPITAL SUFFERING FROM SKULL FRACTURE.
HAMILTON, Saturday, June 14.—Jose Rodriguez, 239 West King street, Spaniard, was arrested last night by P. C. Chamberlain charged with assaulting John Sims. It seems that the prisoner had got into a mix-up at Daffey's Hotel, corner James and Stuart streets, about two weeks ago and was put out of the hotel. Last night, it is alleged, he went into the hotel and struck one of the bartenders, John Sims, on the head with a stone, fracturing his skull. As soon as he had hurled the stone the Spaniard fled. Sims was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in the police ambulance, where he was immediately placed upon the operating table and several pieces of bone were removed from his head. He is in a critical condition. In the meantime, Mr. Daffey, the proprietor, in company with some friends save chase in his automobile and eventually captured Rodriguez and handed him over to P. C. Chamberlain, who took him to the police station. In view of Sims' condition it is likely that a more serious charge will be preferred against the accused.

VANCOUVER BUILDING COLLAPSED ONE KILLED AND MANY INJURED

VANCOUVER, B.C., June 13.—(Can. Press).—With a crash heard for many blocks three storeys of a new four-storey block near Main and Pender streets east, collapsed this morning, killing Harry Anderson, a carpenter, instantly, burying two more in a mass of debris and injuring five others seriously. The accident was caused by a defect in the concrete work at the lane end of the structure. Three of the injured men taken to the hospital were bricklayers.

JAILS ARE FULL OF CONSPIRATORS
Two Hundred Arrests at Constantinople Follow Assassination of Grand Vizier. CONSTANTINOPLE, June 13.—(Can. Press).—Nearly 200 persons have been arrested as a result of the assassination of Grand Vizier Mahmud Scherket Pasha, and the capacity of the jails is being taxed in their detention. Damad Sall Pasha, who is suspected of complicity in the plot because his signature was on a cheque for a large sum of money which was found in the possession of one of the accused men, is the son-in-law of the late Prince Ahmed Kemal Ed Din, a brother of the Sultan.

MAL BOX RAIDS RENEWED BY MILITANTS

Chemicals Poured Into Receptacles at Edinburgh, Many Letters Being Burned—Attack Was on Largest Scale Yet Attempted—Another Bomb Blown.

EDINBURGH, June 13.—(Can. Press).—The militant suffragette campaign was resumed here tonight with the biggest raid that has been made on mail boxes. Twelve of these receptacles from one end of the town to the other were attacked. Chemists' test tubes filled with a colorless liquid which caught fire when the glass was broken, were dropped into the boxes by the suffragettes and many letters were badly damaged. A bomb, sewed up in an oil-soaked cushion, was found tonight in the railway station at Eden Park, Kent. Attached to the bomb was a clock which was timed to explode at 2 o'clock Saturday morning. The clock had stopped when the bomb was discovered. Kerosene had been used to saturate the cushion enclosing the bomb, and if the cushion had become ignited the station, which is a wooden structure and situated in a lonely spot, doubtless would have been burned down.

A SOMEWHAT DELICATE SUBJECT.
LONDON, June 13.—(Can. Press).—A despatch to a news agency from Constantinople, says the conspirators connected with the assassination of the grand vizier, went so far as to notify certain of the foreign embassies of the impending outrage, assuring them of the safety of foreigners and inviting them eventually to land troops. The despatch adds that the embassies failed to take notice of the communication.

Jaff: Is that ye, John? Th' Meenister's card frae th' assembly an' takin' up th' direction o' th' public morals frae th' secular an' editorial chair yince more. An' he's awar' worrit about th' dress th' weemin are wearin' or rather no wearin' th' day.

John: Does he mean them tight garments with th' hoochy-coochy bits in th' bottom of th' sides?

Jaff: I'm thinkin' that's it. But he says he had a talk wi' Billy frae the gallery o' th' kirk about it.

John: How did Billy get in? Had he a jour's card?

Jaff: Nae, John, but an apprentice elder's card frae a bit chapel up the Donkeyway th' Meenister dit all him about they tight-fits an' he tell him the followin', an' I'm gie' it th' ye in Billy's backwoods Doric: "When I was a small boy," said Billy, "I lived at a cross-roads up the mountain, south of Hamilton, and I remember hearing and seeing Old Dolly Jerome, and the other folk, by the neighbors telling of her early days in Glanford township. She was the oldest woman there and had made the first white child born up the mountain. She was married, had among the Smuaks, the Shavers, the Choates, the Flinks, the Ryckmans and the Smiths, and the other first families. She smoked a pipe and made two things, one was a balm of gilead alive and leav'ing gum from the pitch on the end of the pine logs that were piled about the sawmills." John: Never mind' all that, come to th' pint.

Jaff: Well, accordin' to what Billy tells th' Meenister this said body, Dolly Jerome, said, an' I'll quote Billy again: "Dolly Jerome said that she remembered when all the clothes the mothers and young women in the pioneer days—and she spoke of quite a hundred years ago—were in Glanford were a 'kallier' dress, a sun bonnet, an' a big apron (at times). That they went bare-foot, that they worked in the house and in the fields and that at times the winds o' summer were rather discomfortin' but, that no one ever thought these 'kallier' dresses were immodest or too much given to clingin' in winter the homespun woolen dresses didn't cling and were more or less full." John: I'd like to rite that down in my nex' edition o' th' Lan'marks—
