

PERSONS WANTED IN CANADA, AND IMMIGRATION THAT IS NOT ENCOURAGED.

Persons with Capital. The first great demand is for practical men with some capital at their disposal, for which class there are unlimited openings. They can engage in agricultural pursuits, taking up free-grant lands, or purchasing the improved farms to be found in advantageous positions in every province; or in mining, or in the manufacturing industries, or, if possessed of a settled income, living will be found to be cheap in Canada, and the country offers the additional benefits of a fine healthy climate, magnificent scenery, abundant opportunities for sport, and facilities for educating children and placing them in life not to be excelled anywhere.

Agriculturists. Persons of small capital and knowledge of farming often desire to enter upon agricultural pursuits. Before this is done, experience should be acquired by hiring out as a labourer, or in some other way. The necessary experience having been obtained, a farm may be either rented, purchased, or taken up as a free grant.

It is difficult to lay down a hard-and-fast rule as to the amount of capital necessary to start farming. The answer depends upon the energy, experience, judgment, and enterprise of the person who is to spend the money, the province selected, whether free-grant land is to be taken up or an improved farm rented or purchased, and many other details. A larger capital is of course necessary if an improved farm is to be taken.

Tenant Farmers. For tenant farmers the country offers many advantages. Improved farms are cheap; free grants can be obtained by those prepared for the temporary inconvenience of pioneer life; the soil is fertile, the climate ensures the growth of all crops produced in Great Britain, and all the smaller fruits grow and ripen in the open air, as in many parts of the country do grapes, peaches, tomatoes, and melons. There is a large and growing demand in the Dominion, and in the Mother Country, for all the cereals, fruits, live stock, and general farm and dairy produce available for disposal; while taxes are light, and labour-saving appliances are cheap, and in general use.

The question is often asked if it is essential for Young Men desiring Agricultural Experience. young men wishing to take up farms in Canada, but desiring before doing so to acquire a knowledge of agriculture, to pay premiums, either to persons in the Old Country or in the Dominion, for that purpose. It may therefore be plainly stated that NO PREMIUMS ARE NECESSARY; and it is advised that none be paid. Strong and healthy young men, from 18 to 21 years of age, who are prepared to accept for a time the hard
