

C O N T E N T S.

CHAP. IX. Conquest of Cape-Breton by the British,	111
CHAP. X. The British attack Canada,	118
CHAP. XI. Taking of Quebec by the British,	127
CHAP. XII. Canada is ceded to Britain: What advantages she might derive from that possession,	132

B O O K IV.

General REFLECTIONS and REMARKS on all the COLONIES.

I. Extent of the British dominions in North America,	136
II. Trees peculiar to North America,	140
III. Birds peculiar to North America,	142
IV. The English supply North America with domestic animals,	145
V. European grain carried into North America by the English,	146
VI. The English find the necessity of having their naval stores from North America,	148
VII. England begins to get iron from North America,	153
VIII. England endeavours to procure wine and silk from North America,	156
IX. What kind of men Britain peoples her North-American colonies with,	160
X. Pre-	