Prices Broken on Wall St.

Sentimental Effect of McKinley's Shooting on Securities.

Prices Rallied to Some Extent Before Closing—Bank Statement With Reserves Very Low—Stock Market Will Await News From the Presidential Sick Chamber—Notes.

World Office, Saturday, Sept. 7. The shock occasioned by the attack on President McKinley's life was, of course, the chief factor in today's stock market. The London and Canadian Exchanges were observing a holiday, and Wall Street was therefore the only available indicator of the effect of the shooting on the financial situation.

On Wall Street, Saturday, Sept. 7. The opening market this morning reflected a pessimistic feeling, but it was not until the close of the market that the effect of the shooting was fully apparent.

Notes by Cable, Today was a holiday on the London Stock Exchange, and the market was quiet.

Money Markets, The Bank of England discount rate is 3 per cent.

Foreign Exchange, A. J. Glazebrook, foreign exchange broker, reports closing exchange rates as follows:

Between Banks, New York, London, Paris, etc.

New York Stocks, Thompson & Heron, 10 West King Street, Toronto, report the following fluctuations on the New York Stock Exchange today:

Am. Cotton Oil, Am. Sugar, Am. Tobacco, etc.

To Protect the Market, The New York Clearing House Committee has arranged to protect the Wall Street market in the event of a panic.

Trustees and Executors, You assume great responsibility and risk in the investment of estates and clients' funds.

Our Guarantee, which is given to the Particular Securities, is a Capital of $1,000,000 and a Reserve of $270,000.
