To Hold General Elections On an Unredeemable Pledge

Maritime Provinces Will Be Re-assured on G. T. P. Plans Which Grand Trunk Will Repudiate.

Ottawa, Dec. 24.—(Special).—Announcement of the date of the general elections is expected before New Year's Day. The government has decided how to deal with the new phases of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway question and there is now nothing to prevent an early appeal to the country. In the matter of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway project the situation is this: The Grand Trunk Pacific railway company has deposited the equivalent of the $5,000,000 required as a deposit. The deposit, however, was not made until after the time stipulated in the contract, so that further legislation will have to be enacted to make the contract binding. In the meantime the Grand Trunk Pacific railway company is master of the situation. It can withdraw wholly from the contract, which it entered into, or it can tell the government that it will not go on with the project on condition that the Quebec-Moncton section is dropped. The government may try to convince the company that it can still hold the company to its contract, but this is not true. In failing to put up the $5,000,000 deposit within the stated time limit of 30 days the company nullified the contract. The fact that further legislation will be required to make the contract valid and this is now admitted shows that the contract passed at the last session of parliament is not binding. The government will go to the country telling the people that the entire project is to be carried out. Down in the Maritime Provinces the people will require assurance on this point and they will get it. On the basis of these pledges the elections will be held. The elections over the Grand Trunk Pacific railway company will decline to reconsider the contract unless the Quebec-Moncton section is dropped. The government will be powerless in the face of this refusal. It will have to proceed to the company's terms or allow the entire project to drop. The situation is not at all promising to those people and the Maritime Provinces who expect great benefit from the G.T.P. They may receive many, but they will not receive the benefits which they were promised. The government will be forced to repudiate the contract, which it entered into, or it can tell the government that it will not go on with the project on condition that

Dead Number Sixty-Eight None Escaped in 'Smoker'

Harrowing Scenes After Wreck of Duquesne Flyer Near Connellsville.

Connellsville, Dec. 24.—The summing up of last night's wreck of the Duquesne Limited, 8 miles west of here, shows a total of 68 persons dead and 9 injured.

Names of the Victims.
The dead: Engineer Wm. Thornley of Hazelwood, Pa.; S. G. Heater, assistant engineer in charge of construction, Hazelwood, Pa.; Fireman J. J. Cook of Hazelwood; Herbert Holmes, Hazelwood, Pa.; Jesse Himes, Tarboro, N.C., news agent on the train; A. Edwards, Pittsburgh; Richard Dugan, Baltimore; John Goldstein, Connellsville; Rev. Father Flennely, pastor of the Italian Catholic Church at Connellsville; Chas. Langford, of Connellsville; Pa.; J. B. Edgley, of Connellsville; Pa.; Conductor Lewis Hilgert of Hazelwood; John K. Powers, South Cumberland; Charles A. Cook; John Seamon of Philadelphia; Thomas J. Ryan, of Philadelphia; Robert Davidson, of Philadelphia; Sylvester Zinkard, Chas. W. Va.; Chas. Kaffer, Somerset, Pa.; Harry Devlin, Lenoir, Pa.; John A. Good, McKeesport, Pa.; C. W. Bisor, Berkeley Springs, W. Va.; Jas. Fox, address unknown; John Frankowski, Italian, en route for Rome; James W. Cockey, Rochester, Pa.; Leo Kubler, Beaver Falls, Pa.; Joseph Shelnut, Rochester, N.Y.; Mackowitz, address unknown; W. Patterson, Dunbar, Pa.

Distressing Scenes.
The three morgues found it necessary to put guards on all doors to keep morbid spectators from jumping into the small rooms and walking over the dead. The streets were crowded with the curious, and in front of each of the undertaking establishments hundreds of people gathered. Friends and relatives of the victims are coming in on every train, and the scenes at the morgues are most distressing. All but a few of the 68 bodies have been identified, and these who are still unknown will be laid away in Hill Grove Cemetery at the dawn of Christmas morning. Those who are still to be identified are mostly foreigners, and it is doubtful if their identity will ever be known.

Considerable money was found on the unidentified and tightly sewed in a belt on one foreigner was found more than $400, which was placed in the First National Bank. Sums ranging from $100 to $500 were found, and these also have been put in the bank until relatives are located.

Wagons all last night and to-day have been rattle over the narrow streets, burying the injured to the hospital and the dead to the morgues. Undertakers have been taxed to their utmost, and additional assistance has been secured from every nearby town. Some ask for the bodies to be held, while others ask that they be sent almost at once. Many of the victims of the wreck have been robbed. There were several who are known to have had a large amount of money and jewelry on their persons. Not a single cent was found on the pockets of several of the dead, and it was plainly evident that robbers were on the scene early, and before the rescue had arrived. They had secured considerable booty, much of which consisted of baggage and handbags that had been tossed about the cars in the wreck.

Timbers on the Track.
The wreck was caused by the breaking of the couplings on a westbound freight train which had passed Laurel Run more than fifteen minutes before the ill-fated passenger train. The wreck occurred on a curve, and it was impossible for Engineer Thornley to see the timbers in time to stop the train. The engine plowed into the timbers at a velocity of 60 miles an hour. The engine had arrived, the timbers and the baggage and express cars were thrown into the air. The engine and the passenger car, which was the last car, landed squarely on top of it. This allowed the escaping steam and hot water from the engine to fill the car. The smoker was packed to its utmost capacity, and all the passengers were cooked alive. Not a single passenger in the car escaped with his life, and it is estimated that at least 40 of the dead were in the smoker.

The Three Morgues.
Baggage-master Thomas J. Baum of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, who was on duty at the wreck, said that the three morgues found it necessary to put guards on all doors to keep morbid spectators from jumping into the small rooms and walking over the dead. The streets were crowded with the curious, and in front of each of the undertaking establishments hundreds of people gathered. Friends and relatives of the victims are coming in on every train, and the scenes at the morgues are most distressing. All but a few of the 68 bodies have been identified, and these who are still unknown will be laid away in Hill Grove Cemetery at the dawn of Christmas morning. Those who are still to be identified are mostly foreigners, and it is doubtful if their identity will ever be known.

As An Economic Proposition.
Ignoring the expense of the train, the cost of the actual labor and the ever present possibility of the road being off color and the paucity being a trifle dull, it is the interference with social obligations that frequently induces hotel proprietors to refuse to take in the injured. There are, however, many who are willing to take in the injured, and these who are still unknown will be laid away in Hill Grove Cemetery at the dawn of Christmas morning. Those who are still to be identified are mostly foreigners, and it is doubtful if their identity will ever be known.

IMPERIAL ARMY POLICY WILL DEVELOP NEXT YEAR

Canada to Provide Third Great Force to Fight for the Empire.

London, Dec. 25.—The Express says the first step towards an imperial military policy will be taken next year when a Canadian regiment will be stationed in India to train Canadian officers who are ever ready to fight the battles of the empire. Sir Frederick Borden has taken back with him a tacit acknowledgment that the Dominion must provide a third great army of the empire after Britain and India. Mr. Borden has given little to the imperial policy which the British government intends to foster toward greater things. The Express adds that the part of the Canadian project for an army is 100,000 men.

WRECKS OF THE ST. LAWRENCE.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)
London, Dec. 25.—The Times' Newfoundland correspondent, referring to the year's record of wrecks on the St. Lawrence route, says that a great saving could be made in every case if the interests of the English underwriters were considered in preference to the wishes of Canadian steamship managers who claim that the reason for the present course is that Newfoundlanders want to make too much wreck salvage.

Metals, Ceilings, Skylights and Kitchens.
In the Division Court yesterday, Frederick J. Long sued James Whitacre, a machinist, for $10 owing as a result of an Uncle Tom's Cabin venture, in which Long played St. Clair, Phineas and Simon Legree, to say nothing of painting the scenery and keeping back the receipts of the engagements. Whitacre acted Tom. The troupe played around town. Whitacre had a counter claim, but Long got judgment for $7.25 and costs.

Where to Get Hotel Christmas Dinners What Some Menus Are Offering To-day

Dainty Souvenirs That the Artist and Chef Combine for Yuletide.

The good old custom of gathering the family around the Christmas feast at home has not perished, but the convenience of the modern hotel appeals very strongly to those upon whom the festive season is incident to preparing a big meal on a festive occasion. This is especially true in Toronto, the variety of whose hotels afford splendid holiday dinners within the reach of every purse, however meagre. Sentiment prevents many indulging the desire for a "down town" feast on Christmas. As an economic proposition the average wife understands the advantage of the hotel feast.

At the King Edward.
The King Edward card is fast, a choice late cover, showing a rose stem and buds with a bit of gray of the aroma that makes hungry men ravenous, cranberry sauce, celery, and other trimmings. With the price of turkey and other fowl reaching an almost prohibitive point on the local market the crowd in the downtown hotels and restaurants will be largely increased this year over previous holidays. Therefore The World publishes the Christmas dinner menus of some of the leading hotels.
