SECOND INSTALLMENT OF TAXES NETS CITY REPORTED CASSED TO BE NOT COFFERS $100,000 ris, 241 Ridout street, is officially reported as gassed in today's casualty list.

Well Over Million Dollars Is Received to Date.

The second installment of taxes is due today and over $100,900 had reach-ed the city's coffers up to noon. This makes the total taxes for the year paid to date $1,150,000, which is as good as any year in the city's history.
The total general tax for the year is $1,258,000, with a little over $100,000 more due on special and local imp ment taxes. This means that a $200,000 remains to be paid on the installment due on October 31.

DEFECTION IS EXPLAINED

The Revolter Will Likely Be Attached to Semenoff's

Vladivostok, Monday, Aug. 26.—Four hundred Zemstvo troops who joined the forces of Lieut.-Gen. Horvath, the anti-Bolsheviks' leader, have been disarmed by the Allies pursuant with the decirios. this year."

But isn't it a life-sized job to get enough?" she was asked. "Not so bad as you would think," she answered. "My brother-in-law told me they got five quarts after stemming from a basket like that." "That" was a six-quart basket, overflowing with the miniature berries on the stem.

Aha! Villain!

"I make elderberry wine," announced a daring person nearby, whereupon her companion nudged her and said adring person nearby, whereupon her companion nudged her and said anxiously around for the official who imposed $200 fines.

"That watercress is straight from a spring,' announced a young lad, proudly, indicating his basket of crisp, green cress. "It's all nice and clean, and say, the water where it grows is so cold I'll bet you couldn't put your hand in it. You couldn't keep it in the water very long, anyway."

Could a lady resist buying arguments like that?

Poultry was conspicuous by its scarcity. Three live ducks quacked noisily in their crate, while a returned soldier protested to the reporter against the price being asked, "a dollar on the racks to the Allies demstor, have been disarmed by the Allies pursuant with the decision of the allied commanders to end an intolerable situation that promised to result in local disturbances. The disarmanent was accomplished without violence. What disposition will be made of the men depends upon Gen. Horvath, but it s likely that they will join the forces of Gen. Semenoff. The disarming of the Zemstvos was effected by squads of allied troops, who practically besieged the barracks occupied by the revolters. A decision to submit an ultimatument of the revolters was reached by the council command, or of joining the forces of Gen. Semenoff on the Manchurian front, or of submitting to distribute the price being asked, "a dollar on the revolters who practically besieged the barracks occupied by the revolters. said firmly. Then he somewhat relented.

"If she was dying I might give her a dollar, but I wouldn't pay it for the ducks, not much. Why, you could get ducks as good as that in the Toronto market on Thursday for 50 and 75 cents.

And peaches. Over there, across the market, they are selling baskets for $1.25 and $1.50. I brought home a basket of peaches from Toronto for my mother yesterday that I bought on the market Thursday in Toronto for 25 cents, and it filled one of those great big stew kettles. He made several sales with the witty sally.

14, 14 and 12 years, were arrested today by members of the detective bureau and by members of the detective bureau and were charged with being the originators of the costly and mysterious fires that have taken place here during the last month. One of them made a full confession and said that the object of the gang's operations was to get money. The modus operandi of the boys was clever. They would soak an old broom in oil, thrust it into a building, set it alight, and then give the alarm. When the people were out they would ransack the tills. They made $5 to $15 at each fire in this way.
