G. T. R. BILL DOES NOT PROVIDE FOR PUBLIC OWNERSHIP OF THIS RAILROAD

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King Points Out This Fact to Members.

GETS COLD WELCOME
 Liberal Leader, Undaunted, Makes a Fighting Speech.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
 OTTAWA, Oct. 23.—Hon. W. Lyon Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, entered the House this afternoon, following his election in Prince, took his seat amid the plaudits of his followers and two hours later delivered his first speech. The speech in question was an expose of the Government's so-called "public ownership" proposals in connection with the Grand Trunk Railway system, and before he had finished Mr. King had demonstrated that all the public got out of it was the privilege of paying interest on stock, some of which some not for the past two years; and assumption of all the liabilities of the Grand Trunk and the Grand Trunk Pacific, and an option to purchase the same within a period of thirty years. Having acquired that proud honor the Government, said Mr. King, would hand over the management of the system to the men who formerly owned and undertook to operate the Canadian Northern.

It was a notable fact that when Sir Henry Drayton, minister of finance, entered the House two days ago he was greeted by a chorus of applause from the Opposition as well as from the Government members. It was quite a notable fact that this afternoon when the Liberal leader took his seat one man on the Government benches commenced to applaud and then ceased abruptly because nobody else of those around him had done so.

No Whit Daunted.
 It was further notable that though there were five ministers on the treasury benches, not one crossed the floor to welcome the new member. The cold-shouldered Mr. King no whit daunted by this speech this afternoon was a fighting speech that started to finish, and quibbling questions on the part of Government members who sought to divert the attention of the Government's proposal to acquire the Grand Trunk were not in the nature of public that there was no ownership involved in the transaction. The guaranteed and debenture stocks remained in the hands of the present possessors, much enhanced in value. The Government undertook to pay the interest whether the road earned dividends or not. It was in the power of any holder of the stock to sell when he pleased, and there would be no doubt be many profitable sales, inasmuch as Canada was behind the interest payments. In 30 years the Government had power to purchase that stock.

Value Questionable.
 "All that is said by Mr. King, which the Government proposes to arbitrate, is the value of these stocks at the present time is questionable, to put it mildly. In fact, it is doubtful whether they possess any value at all. What does the Government propose, however? It proposes to give all that stock a value which will give it a four per cent return and send it up to par. I wonder if the people of this country appreciate this transaction.

Let us distinguish one stock from another. The first lot I would call the stock that is being retained by private possessors. The other lot is stock that is being exchanged. What does the Government get? The Government gets that stock, but what does it give? It gives a four per cent stock to take its place, and guarantees to pay four per cent interest on that stock, and also guarantees that none of it can be purchased by the country for another period of 30 years.

"My honorable friends oppose the speak of this as a measure of Government ownership. Do they realize that what this measure is to make Government ownership of railways in Canada impossible for another 30 years. Under this act, the people cannot acquire the properties of the Grand Trunk from these owners who will be holding the stock until 1950. That is the position, and yet honorable gentlemen are blundering ahead in the name of public ownership and say we must get this measure through at this particular session of Parliament.

Not Government Ownership.
 "I have pointed out that this measure is not for the purchase of the Grand Trunk property; it is not even a measure for Government ownership. What is it then? It is nothing more than an agreement for the transfer of the management of the Grand Trunk railway system to the gentlemen who are managing the Canadian Northern system before was taken over by the Government. That is all that this measure is—plus this one other important circumstance. It is also a measure to enhance the value of the stock of the Grand Trunk railway system. That is all. These are the two things accomplished by this bill. It is simply a bill to foist upon the people of Canada all the liabilities of the Grand Trunk railway and the Grand Trunk Pacific, and to give in return to the shareholders an enhanced value for their stock."

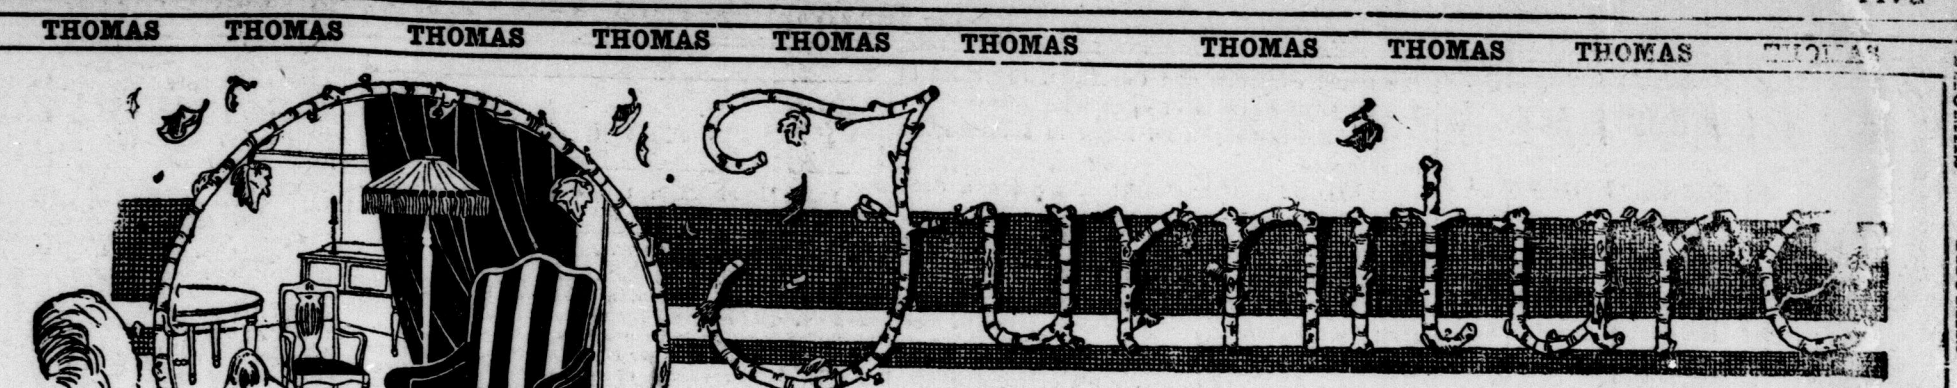

It might be added as some comfort to the Canadian people that they secure a proxy out of the deal.

SAGE TEA TURNS GREY HAIR DARK
 It's Grandmother's Recipe To Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns grey or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyleth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

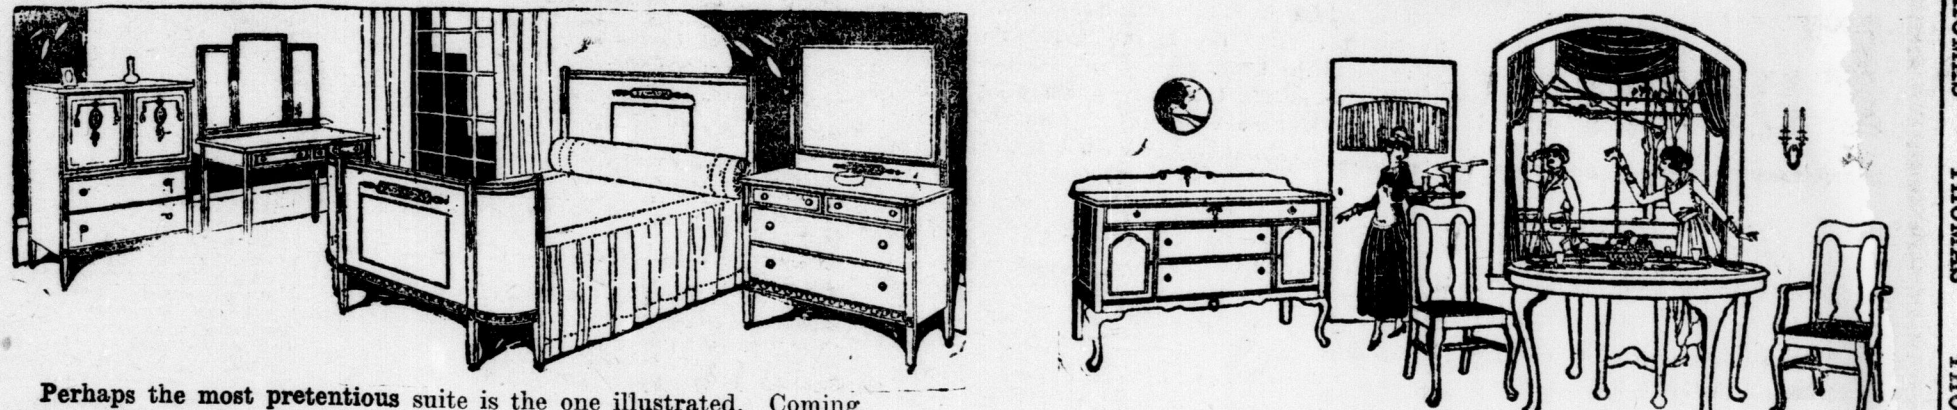

Everybody uses "Wyleth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it dyes so naturally, and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the grey hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.
