Note and Comment

Reno is named and the governor admits that prize fighting is a portion of the political economy of Nevada. Therefore it's only to wait till a week from Monday to see if Jeff comes back or if the dinge can stand the gaff.

It is understood that Reno was selected because that place decided to raise sufficient funds to construct a suitable arena, with a seating capacity of 25,000 people, to pay the $1000 license fee and to furnish a site.

While the articles call for 45 rounds, there is no limit in the Sagebrush State. The payment of the fee of $1000 carries with the receipt the permission to fight as long as the men are able to stand on their feet.

The sporting men are headed for Reno in shoals. Every hotel in the town is besieged. Dwellings here are being rented at fabulous prices, for the thirty citizens of Reno, realizing that a fat prize has come ashore at their very feet, will overlook no chance to collect on the bit of pugilistic jetam which Gov. Gillett's typhoon sent ashore.

Dickerson of Nevada looks upon the men in the ring from somewhat the same angle as did the late Deputy Chief Stuart. "It's the real article they want," the Silver State governor declares, "and the fact that this man can fight all they like, but he'll stop it if they try to fake."

The promoter is possibly the only loser by the transfer from San Francisco to Reno, and he may get his money back. With Jeffries and Johnson training within eight miles of each other, interest in the big mill will be doubled by the new surroundings. Both men will be closely watched to note the effect of the altitude on their daily training stunts, and the fact that this man has to go to a finish is bound to add a mighty impetus to public concern.

Rudolph, Newton, Carroll and, now McGinley. There's no hope left except Sammy Smith.

A very small boy was watching the practice at the nets on the University ground the other evening, when one of the basemen hit some sky-scrapers like Shaw and Grimshaw are doing these days in Jersey City. "Cricket ain't such a hum game, is it Bill?" Bill observed. "Not so hum."

The following was indirectly inspired by the presentation of the trophy to the St. Trophée. Cricket is looking up considerably, and every lover of outdoor sports should be glad of it. Cricket is a good old sport, British in origin and temperament, and suited to any country where grass grows and the sun shines. It is played in its home in the tight little island in the North Sea.

According to an interview published by the London Express, M. Edmond Vell-Picard, owner of the French turf in France, intends to sell out and retire from the turf. M. Vell-Picard is quoted in this manner: "I am leaving the French turf with a feeling of disgust for what goes on at present. It will be impossible soon to ensure honest racing in France. The sport of kings and noblemen has been taken over by the state and it is becoming a means of dishonest speculation. In the last fifteen years the Sociétés have ruined French racing. Gags of dishonest men are allowed to work the turf without interference. When an honest man happens to the French Jockey Club knows where to place the blame, but nothing can be done because the state would find the receipts from the pari-mutuel system dropping."

"Doping is prevalent, and jockeys in many cases are crooked. Before the pari-mutuel ruled the turf we could lay hands on the swindlers and put them in jail. But under the existing circumstances the Jockey Club's hands are tied, and this is why I am disposing of my stable."

The Ten Mile Championship. As a result of the meeting of the championship committee of the A.A.U. of C. the ten mile running championship of Canada was awarded to the Maritime Provinces Amateur Athletic Association. At a meeting of the executive of the M.P.A.A.A. held last week, it was decided to hold this championship run at Amherst, N.S. on Thursday the 23rd of July. The championship committee of the union has made a special arrangement with the M.P.A.A.A. whereby the expenses of competitors from Montreal and west of Montreal will be paid in part, an allowance having been made for five men. Possible competitors in the Ontario section should communicate with N. H. Crow, secretary, 415 Yonge street, Toronto, while those in Quebec should communicate with P. M. Arthur, P.O. Box 100, Montreal. The secretary of the Quebec section, Dr. Torrance, is at Montreal.

SKETEERS WIN IN NINTH BY BUNCHING THEIR HITS

Newark and Rochester Lose—
Providence is Coming Strong.

JERSEY CITY, June 21.—(Special.)—Jim McGinley, the Toronto twirler, held the Skeeters to four singles to-day in the second game of the series, but two of these came in the ninth, which, along with a sacrifice, enabled the locals to score the only run of the game, for Sitton, the Jersey City twirler, was in rare form, holding the Leafs to five singles and no score.

It was a pitchers' battle all thru, with the Leafs getting the most men to second base, but no one came forth with the necessary bingle till the ninth; then it was the Skeeters that did the needful, not Toronto.

Clement, the first batter in the ninth, singled and was sacrificed to second by Hanfman, acting on Deinger's single. The score:
