One of the biggest problems confronting Canada at the present time is as to how the coming western crops to be sown and harvested. Extra labor has always been required for the harvest under normal conditions, but on account of the last two years' of enlistment upon the population, 10,000 men are required at once for spring work. Last year's harvest broke all records, the total value being $8,000,000, and this season's production promises to be on an even more stupendous scale. There is then an opportunity for the man of small means establish himself on a free homestead or to make good money at farm labor. Low Homeseekers' Excursions are run every Monday by the Can-adian Northern Railway to all points in Western Canada, and literature or information will be cheerfully supplied on application either in person or by to the City Ticket Office, 52 King street east, or General Passenger Department, 68 King street east, To-135 tf

He was followed by the prime min-ister, and then Mr. Carvell of Carleton, N.B., stated the case which the opposition expected to prove if an investigation was granted. He charged that the shells committee had given huge orders at extravagant prices to firms in which members of the com-mittee were financially interested. He were extortionate, and that the prime minister and the minister of militia had deliberately misled the house and Hichens, the representatives of David Hickens, the representative of David Hickens, the representative of David Hickens, the representative of Davi claimed that Canadian prices the country respecting the same. for an investigation into the transactions of the shell committee. This demand had been most urgently and passionately voiced by Conservative newspapers. The reason, he said, was not far to seek. In the early days of the war we learned to our sorrow that the allies needed three things, to wit, munitions more munitions. The allies had been driven by the Germans from Belgium. munitions more munitions, and still more munitions. The allies had been driven by the Germans from Belgium to France and from the frontiers of France to the gates of Paris. We know now our troops had retreated because they lacked munitions and especially high explosive shells. Later on they had attacked the Germans and driven them across the River Aisne. They could not drive them further and they could not drive them across the Rhine because they still lacked munitions.

No wonder the house to decide whether they would rely upon the testimony of men like D. A. Thomas and Lionel Hichens or the reckless charges of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who could not drive them further and they could not drive them across the Rhine because they still lacked munitions.

them across the River and they could not drive them across the Rhins because they still lacked munitions. No wonder the brave soldiers of England and France shed tears of rage.

The result was the downfall of the French Government and the reorganization of the British Government, with Lord Kitchener practically superseded by Lloyd George. Both France and the British Empire had before them the immediate and urgent task of making munitions and in Canada that task was committed to the minister of militia, who spointed and organized the shell committee. The work of that a fullure and disappointment; hence the definand for investigation. The demand for an investigation had been waved away by the minister of militia with a lordy wave of the hand, had dary wave of the hand, had can be position that it was none of our business whether the shell committee was good, bad, or indifferent; that it was answerable only to the British Covernment.

"I take issue" said Sir Wifrid. "with the solicitor-general. He will certainly admit that the members of the shell committee were recommended and vouched for by this government. If they have betrayed their trust, if they have proved them may be called to account by the parliament and by the people of Canada." (Applause).

Sir Wilfrid quoted extensively from utterances of the prime minister, if their work has been unsatisfactory, then I say that this government. If they have proved them may be called to account by the parliament and by the people of Canada." (Applause).

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in the prime minister's opinion, had forgotten what was due from a man in his position. There was no mystery about the appointment of the shell committee. When it was decided to attempt the When it was decided to attempt the manufacture of shells in Canada the leading manufacturers were consulted.
Some of them had consented to go upon the shell committee. They had on the shell committee. They had performed splendid service and had purchased munitions to the extent of $168,000,000 so economically that $15,000,000 allowed by the British Government for the purchase was unexpended. They had built up a splendid new industry in Canada. Up to date $381,000,000 had been expended by the British Government in Canada for munitions and this amount would be income. Committee.

Referring to the charge that the prices charged had been excessive, Sir Robert said he had enquired into this subject. He had a letter from David Lloyd George, and while he could not read it to the house, he spoke on its authority when saying that comparing the prices obtained was afraid to lay on the table of house.

It would be proved beyond dispute, he said, that the prices paid for shells in Canada were 25 per cent. higher than the prices paid in England, and a great deal higher than the prices paid in the United States. The shells committee had embarrassed the cause of the allies by giving no contracts for fuses for over a year, altho shells without fuses were useless. The reason was that J. Wesley Allison had to go down to New York and organize a company to make fuses at extravacompany to make fuses at extrava-prices in the United States. Hon. A. E. Kemp's Contract.

Mr. Carvell analyzed at great length the contract given to companies in which members of the shell committee were interested. He thought the house was entitled to investigate such contracts. The Nova Scotia Steel Co., in which Col. Cantley was interested, had received orders aggregating $15,000,000, e said. No statement made by Mr. Carvell attracted so much attention as the charge that the shell committee had given orders aggregating more than $$00,000 to the Sheet Metal Products Co., of which Hon. A. E. Kemp is president. Surely, he argued, the house had a right to investigate a transaction in which a member of the govern-

Lady Hendrie gave a small luncheon Monday at Government House.

The wives of the cabinet ministers are giving a tea on Thursday afternoon for the doctors and nurses, who are going overseas and the members' wives in town for the session.

Lady Mann gave a very enjoyable patriotic musicale yesterday afternoon at her house in St. George street, when those taking part in the program were: Miss Brenda Macrae, who sang a group of songs; Miss Josephine Brouse, Miss Dresschler Adamson, played the violin, and Miss Rita Haynes played the accompaniments. After the program tea was served in the dining-room, the polished table being arranged with real lace and a silver basket of daffodils. Lady Mann received the guests, which included the following: Lady Willison, Mrs. T. W. McGarry, Miss Baldwin, Mrs. Thomas Crawford, Mrs. R. S. Wilson, Mrs. John Macdonald, Mrs. W. J. Elliott, Mr. Frank Kennin, Mrs. Sterling Deane, Mrs. Tower Boyd, Miss Boyd, Mrs. William Goulding, Mrs. Hoyle, Miss Alley, Mrs. McDonagh, Mrs. Wookey, Mrs. Raymond.

Sir John Eaton and Mrs. Timothy Eaton were in Hamilton last week, stay-ing with Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Eaton, on their way to Atlantic City.

Mrs. Harry C. Hindmarsh (formerly Miss Ruth Atkinson), received yesterday for the first time since her marriage in her beautiful house in South Drive, when the pretty fair little bride wore her wedding gown of soft white satin and carried a magnificent bouquet of pink sweet peas. Mrs. Atkinson also received, wearing a gown of Belgian blue silk with diamond ornaments and a bouquet of violets. The drawing-rooms were very artistically decorated with pink roses, and those helping there were: Mrs. W. J. Lumbers, Mrs. Horace Wallace, and Mrs. John B. Holden. The polished mahogany table in the dining-room was centred with a silver basket of daffodills surrounded with white and silver striped gauze, overlaid with fern leaves. Mrs. H. Lambert and Mrs. A. D. Le Pan were in charge, assisted by the Misses Mary and Marjorie Millman, Miss Kathleen Howland, and little Miss Grace B. Bone.

Lady Melvin Jones gave a bridge party yesterday of 25 tables for the Strathcona Chapter, I.O.D.E., the girls of the chapter assisting Mrs. E. F. B. Johnston and Mrs. Vincent Greene presided at the table, which was covered with real lace and a great many silver vases of pink roses. Lady Melvin Jones received the guests, wearing a grey and silver gown, and Mrs. Crawford Brown was in a white chantilly gown with little jacket of black taffeta. The card tables were placed in the palm room, drawing-room, reception room and some upstairs. Some of those present were: Mrs. R. A. Smith, Mrs. Hamilton Burns, Mrs. Buntin, Mrs. Hamilton Burns, Mrs. Buntin, Mrs. Hanley Baines, Mrs. George Haman, Mrs. Heber Phillips, Mrs. T. A. Bird, Mrs. Hollway, Mrs. Alfred Cameron, Mrs. H. Mrs. Madge Macbeth is staying with Mrs. John Small, Huntley street, for a short time.

The reception given to Mrs. Kennedy-Fraser and her daughter, Miss Patuffa Kennedy-Fraser, at the Canadian Academy of Music, was an unusually interesting one. Mrs. Fraser and her daughter delighted those present by their reminiscences of their travels in the Hebrides Isles in search of the old Gaelic songs, and also by the singing of some of the old melodies. Among those present were: Mrs. Alexander Fraser, Mrs. George Dickson, Dr. and Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Pidgeon, Mrs. Jennings, Mrs. Torrington, Mrs. Faulds, Miss Marietta Gooderham, Mrs. end Miss Law, Mrs. Weatherall, Mrs. R. THIRTEEN MET DEATH FROM NINETY BOMBS

No Military Damage Whatever Caused by Latest Zeppelin Raid.

LONDON, March 7.-The total num ber of deaths from Sunday night's Zeppelin raid was 13, according to an official announcement made today.

The official statement follows: "It s ascertained that at least 90 bombs were dropped by enemy airships duling the raid of March 5-6. The combs appear to have been dropped indiscriminately over rural districts. This may have been due to the fact that, owing to the rough weather, the Zeppelins were uncertain as to their whereabouts and were anxious to rid themselves of their bombs before escaping under cover of the night.
"No military damage of any de scription was caused. The casualties were entirely confined to the civil population, and of those previously eported injured, one has since died in a village in Lincolnshire, bringing up the total killed to 13." A Squadron, Khaki Group-A Royal Flying Corps.

HAMILTON, March 7,—This week's issue of The Sunday World is largely given over to military pictures, showing the big military parade in Torono, various units of troops training in Brantford and other points, and the nilitary functions in connection with the opening of the legislature. Among the many pictures is one showing a group in khaki of A Squadron, now training in Hamilton. There is also a fine group view of the Canadian offi-cers of the Royal Flying Corps at Reading, England; this picture will be convincing evidence that the flying branch of the service is not being neg-lected by the Canadian military de-partment. These many interesting views are in this week's issue of The Sunday World, which is for sale in Hamilton by all newsdealers and news boys, for 5 cents per copy.
