

NATIONAL ALMANAC

FOR 1874.

We appear before our friends and patrons for the coming year, 1874, at an early date with our "NATIONAL ALMANAC," superior if possible to all those that have preceded it. The reputation achieved by our valuable preparations has become very great; and the sales during the past year has largely increased. Our MEDICINES are becoming yearly more widely known, and the calls for larger supplies than ever greet us every month. Knowing their real worth and past claims on the public regard, we are desirous of extending their sphere of usefulness still further, and have considerably increased our edition of this FAMILY ALMANAC.

We would advise those who have not tried or examined these valuable Remedies, to give a careful perusal to the minute description of them found in this volume. All our preparations are compounded with special care under the immediate supervision of one of our firm, and we feel perfectly confident in asserting their reliability in all cases.

We are daily in receipt of certificates of cure, but prefer to leave our compounds to stand on their own intrinsic merits to giving needless space to their publication. Warranting our MEDICINES to be exactly as represented, and to effect cures at all times where any Medicines can be available, or money refunded. We consider this a sufficient guarantee to those using them that they will not be disappointed.

In conclusion we beg to call your attention to our Laboratory, and increased facilities for manufacturing and putting up our various Remedies and can furnish our numerous patrons with them fresh and genuine on short notice. Heartily thanking our friends for past favors, and soliciting both a continuance and increase of the liberal patronage which has hitherto been bestowed on us, we remain,

Very respectfully,
