Only this morning a letter was received in Moncton by Mrs. Charles Truman, from her son, Corporal Harry Truman, in which he stated that he had seen Pte. Calkin, and that he was well.

Pte. Calkin was only twenty-one years of age, and had at the time of enlistment been planning to enter the ministry. He then had a license from the High Street Baptist church to preach, and was an honored member of that church.

He then had a license from the High Street Baptist church to preach, and was an honored member of that church. He was at the time of enlistment attending Aberdeen High School, and had planned to take up a theological course at Acadia.

Pte. Calkin enlisted with a well known New Brunswick regiment, but soon after transferred to another New Brunswick regiment stationed at St. John. He went overseas in the signalling section of this latter battalion. In England he endeavored to be transferred into the artillery, but by the official telegram this morning it was seen that he was still a member of an infantry battalion.

Besides his parents, Private Calkin is survived by three brothers and one sister. The sister is Miss Gladys and the brothers are Harry, Roy and Henry, all residing at home.

Charles Lamson, formerly of the steamer North Star, which ran to St. John all winter, and Henry Davis, formerly an Eastern steamer quartermaster, were on board the relief steamer Kongsi when she was sunk off the Hook of Holland on April 21. Both were saved, according to information received here yesterday.

DRINK OR DRUG USERS

To cure alcoholism or the chronic poisoning of other drugs, the body must be brought back to normal. To evolve back to health takes time, patience and proper medication.

Short time cures are like giving morphine to stop pain, and when the pain is relieved, declaring that the disease is cured. The proper treatment can be obtained in the Keeley Institute.

Stomach Troubles Due To Acidity

SAYS NEW YORK PHYSICIAN A well-known New York physician in speaking of dyspepsia and its proper treatment says that so-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, stomach-ache and inability to retain food, are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids.

The trouble lies large in the fermenting food, causing the formation of excess acid. Such fermentation is unnatural, and may involve most serious consequences if not corrected.

To stop or prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the dangerous acid and its harmful, a teaspoonful of disarranged inagnes, probably the best and most effective corrector of acid stomach known should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation, arrests the stomach contents, and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments.

Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper antacid, such as bisulphated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.
