TWO THOUSAND POULTRY BURN

Samuel Stern of South Bay Suffers Heavy Loss in Fire

Saint John Department Sends Aid in Early Morn and Residence is Saved.

Samuel Stern, South Bay, met with a severe loss this morning when his three poultry houses, a quantity of farm machinery and a stock of firewood were destroyed by fire and more than 2,000 chickens and hens and 200 ducks were burned to death. The house was saved only by the efforts of a detachment of the Saint John fire department and a corps of neighbors.

DOG GIVES ALARM

Mr. Stern was awakened about 4.30 this morning by the barking of a Pomeranian dog and looking out to see what was the cause of its making such a racket at that hour of the morning saw the flames in the poultry house. He called the other members of the family. Horns were blown to arouse the neighbors and a call was put through to Commissioner of Safety Harding for help from the city. The pumper from No. 1 Hook and Ladder station, King street east, with a crew of six men, was sent to the fire and by the time it arrived there was a large crowd of men there also to help.

SAVE DWELLING

It was soon seen that the three buildings comprising the poultry plant could not be saved and the efforts of the fire fighters were directed to the saving of the fine dwelling house, which was only a short distance away. In this they were successful.

The city firemen left for South Bay at 6 o'clock and got back to the station again at 8 o'clock. After the fire Mr. Stern expressed his deep appreciation of the labors of the city department, to whom he gave credit for saving the house, which, he said, must have fallen a prey to the flames without their aid.

BEACONSFIELD FIRE

The Fairville fire department was given a run this morning about 1.30 to Summer street, Beaconsfield, for a fire in a vacant barn owned by David Riley, of Salisbury. Damage to the extent of about $100 was done.

W. W. ALWARD IS TO MAKE HIS HOME HERE

Architect Joins Staff of F. Neil Brodie on Completion of Local Contract.

W. Wallace Alward, son of the late Dr. Silas Alward, who concludes his duties as resident architect on the new hotel contract representing Messrs. Ross & McDonald, Montreal, has decided not to return to the big Canadian city but has again taken up residence here and will join the staff of F. Neil Brodie, architect, on next Monday. Mr. Alward's decision is giving his friends much satisfaction and there is the added pleasure in knowing that the architect, formerly Miss Dorothy Blizard, will remain among her lifelong friends. Mr. Alward as a youth spent most of his years in military institutions in other parts and graduated from Harvard in 1915 with the degree of Master of Architecture. After graduation he joined the Ninth Siege Battery, training in this city under Major Percy Wetmore and was drafted out of England into the forces on the continent. At the conclusion of the war he took up architectural work in Montreal.

Mr. Alward's decision to resume residence in his home city contains another element of interest which other citizens will particularly appreciate. It prescribes to Saint John the male line of a family that has been prominently identified with the professional and political life of New Brunswick and on his mother's side of the house keeps afresh memories of his grandfather, W. W. Turnbull, whose name he bears, and whose prominence in business affairs was outstanding for a long period.
