A FINE DISPLAY

Donald Innes, owner of the Tobique Valley Farm, Victoria county, has had a display of grasses and grains in the government building, Prince William street, which must be a revelation to all who have seen it. This display was on exhibition in Fredericton and was purchased by the department of agriculture and is being put on permanent exhibition in the government buildings. The magnificent display demonstrates the grain can be grown in New Brunswick equal, if not superior in quality, to that grown in any part of the province. There is also a small exhibit of ores gathered from various parts of the province. These displays are so arranged that they are not only educational but also a source of information to the public. The display is open to the public from 10 o'clock to 5 o'clock daily. It is a fine display of the resources of the province and a source of information to the public.

POLICE COURT

In the police court this morning a man from Brussels street was charged with assaulting his wife. He pleaded not guilty. His wife gave evidence. The defendant said that he did the best he could on the wages he was getting. He was fined $5 and costs. The case against Roy Morrison, charged with importing cigars and cigarettes on the Governor Dingley, said his shipment came broken and some articles missing. He identified some of the stolen articles as similar to those he had received. He said that some of them were those handled by him exclusively. The case was postponed until other witnesses could be obtained. J. Wilfred Hall appeared for the defence. The case against Charles A. Paddock, charged with allowing liquor to be kept on his premises illegally, was resumed. This is the case where the inspectors found some 400 bottles of liquor hidden in the cellar. E. S. Ritchie appeared for the defendant and contended that the case should be dismissed on the ground that the defendant had no knowledge of the location of the liquor, as it was put there by his son, Fred Paddock, who forfeited a minimum penalty of $25 was imposed. Four men, charged with drunkenness, were arrested on or two months in jail.

MUSTED OUT

It is fine to be back in God's country once more. And yet, it is just a bit tame. To be plodding along as you did before. It will never be just the same. For who can forget those startling nights when the furious cannon roared. When the flares were aflame with quick-darting lights. And the bright flares heavenward soared. It was hell all right up there in the line. And grim death always stalked in our tracks. But when thoughts of those days are brought through your mind, Don't you wish—sometimes—you were back? C. Holmsken in N. Y. Times.

Lending and shipping and the more active rails, notably Reading and Texas and Pacific, also improved.
