DRY WAVE PUTS BOTTLE
BLOWERS OUT OF WORK

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 6.—The prohibition wave, say delegates to the National Glass Bottle Blowers' Association, has resulted in so great a decrease in demand for bottles that more than 3,000 members of the association have been out of work during the past year. This matter and a proposal to amalgamate with the Flint Glass Workers' Association, constitute the principal business before the convention which is now in secret session here.

UPS AND DOWNS.

"Ups and downs," said an etymologist, "is a phrase of curious origin."
"Take ups. Aviators tell us, balloonists tell us, alpinists tell us, that the higher one ascends, the more exal-trating grows the air, so that it is quite common, at a height of a mile or so, for men to sing and shout in pure illarity and joy. So much for ups."

"Take downs. Submarine boatmen and divers miners tell us that the deeper one descends below the earth's surface, the sadder one becomes.
Those depths reem with oaths, groans, sobb! So much for downs."

"Ups and downs—an apt phrase, truly."

CRIME AND PENALTY.

SOLDIER IN FOUR WARS
HAS LIVED 103 YEARS

Captain Downing Observes Birthday at His Delaware Home.

DOVER, Del., July 6.—Celebrating what he believed to be his 103rd birthday, Captain John J. Downing, of Little Creek, Del., was congratulated by his fellow townsmen at his humble home today.

Not having the actual record of his birth at hand, he believes 103 years have elapsed since he was born.
That he is remarkable goes without saying. Up until a short time ago he was actively engaged in farming, but had to abandon it. Every day, however, he goes fishing in the Delaware bay.

When visited at his home today and asked as to his age and his activities in life, Captain Downing replied that it was true that he was 103 years old.
He also said that he had served in four wars, namely Creek- Seminole war in Florida, a term of service of seven-days in 1832; a full term of enlistment in the Mexican war of 1846; a term of three years in the Crimean war, 1855-57; and a full term of enlistment in the Civil war of the United States, of three years and nine days.

The people of Little Creek have come to know Captain Downing as the "grand old man." From the oldest to the youngest person at Little Creek, each has the utmost respect and regard for him. He does not need to work even though he may have the disposition to do so, for he lives on a pension from the United States Government for his services as a soldier in the Civil War.

FROM DIANA'S DIARY.

As an Amateur Hawkshaw, Miss Dillpickles Gets on the Trail of a Kidnapped Chee-Id.

By FRED SCHAEFER.

"IT WAS REALLY THE LONG-LOST KIDDO."

Well, I have turned the trick.
Chesteron Quince Dubarry has been restored to his heartbeat parents, and by me.

But all I got out of it was a five spot.

Disgusted at getting so many humsters, I decided to call myself off the big kidnapping case. I went up to the Dubarry mansion to tell them so. My father never knew I'd ever been entangled, but it wouldn't hurt them to know they had my sympathy.

Going up to the entrance gate of Du-barry park, I saw a chalk-faced boy with squirrel ears of the country make his self. What attracted my attention was that he wore earmuffs, the weather being no occasion for it. Also he had short cropped hair, a gingham waist and ribbed stockings.

"Who are you looking for, buddy?" I said, thinking maybe he was going round getting soap orders.

"I'm looking for a spanking for being away from home for a week," he said.

Then a great light burst on me.
You are Chesteron Quince Du-barry!" I says.

He didn't try to deny that. It was really the long-lost kiddo.

I ranked him up the walk and to the big front door. The next minute I was a bystander at the most hysterical fantasy reunion you ever saw. Everybody was about as composed as a fire panic on an excursion steamer out of sight of land.

After things had sort of subsided themselves, I asked how about that reward while they were hugging Ches-teron.

Then old man Dubarry told me sadly that the boy had been turned loose near by, after he had left the ransom on a water plug and the sidewalk had been roped off so that the crowds wouldn't interfere with the gateway of the kidnappers.

"With this V," he said, as he dug it out of the bottom of a lean purse, "this boy has just cost me $45,000 today."

THE END.

Irish Lady Leaves Much to Charity—Her Estate Consisted of Valuable Antiquities.

Mrs. Juliana Wakefield, of Kilkullen, Kildare, Ireland, who died in April last, leaving estate in the United Kingdom of the value of £31,418, left over £2,000 to charities, including £3,500 for maintaining a "John Watson Wakefield" bursary on the Irish coast.

To the Bishop of London for the East London Church Fund she left, subject to a life interest, the proceeds of the sale of two portraits by Romney, which in this meantime are to be insured for not less than £4,000. To Sir Ingram for the same fund, Mrs.
Wakefield left her old china, plate, gold cup, riding cups, diamond brooch and ornaments, numerous diamond and ruby and turquoise rings, clocks, miniatures and personal effects. The remainder of her estate she left towards the building of the chapel of the Convent of the Holy Name, Malvern Links, Worcester.

CHATHAM BOY IS KICKED BY HORSE

CHATHAM, N. B., July 6.—Harold Sproul, the eight-year-old son of Dr.
Sproul, met with a very painful accident early this morning. He was in a field near his home where a horse was being pastured, and as he was making aim with a stick at the horse the latter kicked up its heels.
One shoe caught Sproul over the right eye and cut it very badly. At first it was thought the sight was destroyed, but Dr. Loggie and Dr. Marvin, who attended the child, state there is a chance to save the eye.

Mrs. Fredman fell down cellar in her home today and broke an arm.

The total value of Chatham's assessable property this year is put at $1,641-400. Last year's amount was $1,482,600.
Rate has lowered from $2.50 to $2.35.
While this seems high, it must be remembered that the valuation of property is on a very low basis.

BIOGRAPH MYSTERY AT "STAR."

The Star Theatre in North End is unquestionably the leader in the great Biograph pictures—a class of motion pictures familiar and most acceptable to all. Tonight the new feature is to be a mystery drama, like a Sherlock Holmes story, entitled "The Lonely Villa." There will be four other films, introducing new dramas and comedies.
At Weston will have a new illustrated song. New lady vocalist Monday.

NICKEL HAS ANOTHER NEW FEATURE.

In demonstration of the possibilities of motion picture entertainment the Nickel is thrice weekly presenting programmes that contain some classic story or an adaptation of legend, history or other works of a literary or musical character, thus educating by ocular method those not conversant with such. Today and tomorrow, the story of Rigoletto, the unfortunate, jester of the profligate duke, is to be the picture feature. This is magnificently done by the Vitaphone Co. of America, elaborating the dramatic mirror's comment—a film of distinct merit.

The Dog Detective tells by practical example how canines are employed in Paris to track criminals and is intensely interesting. The Strenuous Sneaker is a Pathe comic introducing many excellent travel views of Asia.
Paree, Holmes and Buchanan will today conclude their grand operatic programme—Cavalleria Rusticana. Tana-hauser and H. Trovatore, and Thursday will have a new bill. Master Harrington is also to sing his hit-song, I Love My Wife but O You Kid, for the last time. Last evening the Nickel was crowded to capacity again and everybody seemed satisfied.

MORE BUMPER HOUSES.

The Princess was crowded to the doors again last night and the programme was never better. "Cooper," the ventriloquist and his automations are a big hit. This is an act that appeals to all and nobody should miss seeing it. Kollins and Carmen, those excellent banjoists, had to respond to several encores last night. This is the best act of its kind ever seen here.

The old favorites, Jordan and Gervalde, continue to make a big hit.
They have a complete change of programme as follows: Duet, Voices in the Woods (Rustic); solo, Sweetheart (Von Glier); solo, Treasurer, song from Carmen (Beal); duet, Annie Laurie (by request). Don't fail to see this programme.

A PICTURE HIT AT H. H. H.

TODAY.

Owing to the two vaudeville acts having gone to St. John's, P. Q., instead of here, the management of the H. H. H. were compelled to make appoint their patrons. It was impossible to announce in the evening papers the cause of delay as no word was received until after the papers had gone to press. If possible they will be here today, and if so tonight's programme will announce the fact. Signor and Mlle. Berini will today sing the duet from the first act of Carmen and a treat in store for music lovers. In picture something extra good will be given.
The Way of Man is a Biograph picture issued just a week ago, and it is a drama that has caused a lot of talk wherever shown. No woman should miss it. It's one of the best ever shown at the H. H. H. The Cyclone Sneaker will start everybody laughing and keep them laughing until it over.

The Purr-Pooped Hawkshaw will show one of the hottest dogs of Paris at work and its well worth seeing. The ladies' orchestra received a new lot of music yesterday and you'll hear it today. You can depend on a good show.

NEW SHOW AT THE ELBOU A GOOD ONE TODAY.

The Blizzards are going to sing "Links" and it's going to make a big ger hit than "Just a Friend of the Family," the song that kept everybody on the titter the last two days. The tune, full of good, humorous and catchy music and sure to prove a winner. In addition to "Links" they will be heard in their own version of three of the latest and most popular songs, and this alone will be well worth the while of those enjoying good music hearing. "The Kiss of Durga," one of those delightfully colored act and stage dramas of Pathe Freres, leads off in the picture end of the programme, followed by two splendidly acted and staged dramas and two of the funniest comedies yet. Full show afternoon as well as evening, and it would be wise for those that can attend in the afternoon to go so, as at the evening shows standing room is sometimes at a premium.

GRANDMOTHER BRIDE
OF BOY ENDS LIFE

She Takes Poison When Youthful Husband Spurns Reading Lessons.

COLUMBIA, Mo., July 6.—The love dream which came to Mrs. Sarah Acton, sixty-four years old and a grandmother, when she married Turner Acton, nineteen years old, three months ago, ended when she lost her pension because of the marriage and when her boy husband refused to learn to read, so yesterday she killed herself with poison.

Aceton and his aged bride met about five months before they were married.
Their courtship was quiet and they both said that they expected to "settle down" and accumulate property.
Mrs. Aceton had saved about $20 and had a pension of $12 a month.

They went to live in a cottage, which the bride furnished. Young Aceton possessed great physical strength and knew how to manage a team of horses, but his intellectual education had been neglected. Mrs. Aceton decided that he should learn to read. She tried to teach him. He rebelled and in despair she took her own life.
